

P
Univ.
H.

det. C.

Harvard College.

• Class of 1887. •

Secretary's Report, No. 5.

1887

Harvard College.

❧ Class of 1887. ❧

Secretary's Report, No. 5.

1902.

BURLINGTON:
FREE PRESS ASSOCIATION,
PRINTERS, BINDERS AND STATIONERS.
1902.

348835
5. 4. 38.

SEP 30 1902

Class of 1887,

Class Committee.

EDGAR JUDSON RICH,
STEPHEN BERRIEN STANTON,
EMERY HERMAN ROGERS.

Class Secretary.

GEORGE POPE FURBER.

INTRODUCTION.

TO THE CLASS OF 1887:

CLASSMATES:—

I submit herewith my fifth report. It is not as complete as I wish, but is as complete as the data furnished me will permit me to make it. Where no reply has been made to my circulars I have generally stated that fact. In a few cases I have obtained the information from other sources. Generally, however, I have assumed from the fact that my letters did not come back to me from the post office that they have been received, and that the failure to answer meant either that the man had nothing to add to the former reports, or did not wish anything said about him, and I have acted accordingly. I trust that such errors as I have made in pursuing this course you will kindly forgive.

As many of the men have answered according to the questions in the circulars, the list is given below.

In one respect I have changed the division of the class in this report. Heretofore the list has been divided into four parts, in accordance with the list published at the beginning of the report, but it has seemed to me more convenient to include the graduates of the Scientific School in the alphabetical list of those who took degrees and to put all the rest into one list at the end. I hope that this will make a more convenient form for reference.

I regret that it is my sad duty to report the death of five of our number, R. F. Fiske, Hamilton Kuhn, S. W. Perkins, W. S. Robinson, and S. H. Smith. Appropriate notices will be found under the name of each.

In conclusion let me thank those of you who have replied to me, for the very general response to my request that you send a letter which I could print. My work in the preparation of the report has been very materially reduced in that way. In fact, it would have been impossible to issue the report at this time had you not done so. I wish to thank you also for many expressions of good will towards myself which have come to me, to which I would like to make a personal reply, but you will readily recognize that my time will not permit it.

Fraternally yours,

GEORGE POPE FURBER,

Class Secretary.

June 5, 1902.

POINTS SUGGESTED FOR THIS REPORT.

1. Residence and occupation since last reported, giving the dates and places of entering business, name of firms or partners, etc.
2. If married, date of marriage and place, together with maiden name of wife in full, her residence, and the names of her parents in full.
3. Names of children, if any, in full, with the dates and places of birth.
4. Death of wife or children, with dates.
5. Membership in clubs or societies.
6. What part, if any, taken in politics.
7. Offices of profit, honor or trust, you have filled, with the times of appointments and continuance.
8. Degrees attained, and from what institutions.
9. Books, pamphlets or articles published, with the exact titles and dates, and the places of publication.
10. Addresses before public meetings.
11. Journeys in this or other countries.
12. Your permanent address, i. e., the address to which communications may be sent with the certainty of being forwarded in case of unexpected change in residence.
13. Any other circumstances or experiences which would interest the class.

CLASS OF 1887.

An asterisk * is used to indicate deceased members.

Edward Stanley Abbot	Henry Augustus Buck
Walter Alexander	Edgar Buckingham
James Ekin Allison	Julian Gerard Buckley
John Lincoln Ames	Walter Channing Burbank
Randolph Morgan Appleton	Theodore Phillips Burgess
William Channing Appleton	James McCormick Cameron
Walter Austin	Charles Churchill Carmalt
Charles Fanning Ayer	Charles Chollet
Edward Bacon	Bertram Fiske Clark
Frederick Harold Bailey	Herbert Lincoln Clark
George Pierce Baker	Archibald Cary Coolidge
Wakefield Baker	Frederick Shurtleff Coolidge
Charles Sumner Balcombe	Herman Timothy Coolidge 1889
Harry Blanchard Barber	Daniel Thomas Costello
Nelson Macy Barrett	John Jerome Cotter
Charles Edmund Barrow	* Benjamin Francis Cox 1892
John Marshall Washburn Bartol	Timothy Currier Craig
Henry Willard Bean	Arthur Mark Cummings
Harry Haskell Bemis	Guy Cunningham
Bernhard Berenson	Charles Francis Adams Currier
Howard Henry Charles Bingham	Wilton Lincoln Currier
Eldon Bisbee	* John Newmarch Cushing 1890
William Holmes Black	Charles Allerton Cushman
John Bapst Blake	Eugene Vincent Daly
Edward Everett Blodgett	Frederic Alva Dean
Herbert Clifton Bourne	Charles Joseph Delone
William Jackson Bowen	* Daniel Denny 1896
Dwight Whitney Bowles	Frederic Clinton De Veau
Walter Lincoln Boyden	Gordon Dexter
Homer Worthington Brainard	Ellis Loring Dresel
Henry Gaw Brengle	Garrett Droppers
Richard Briggs	Albertus True Dudley
Elliott Bright	James Willard Dudley
Clarence Arthur Brodeur	Herman LeRoy Edgar
William Allen Brooks	Charles Stanford Elgutter
George Morgan Browne	Edward Stanley Emery
George Faunce Buck	William Endicott

William Edward Faulkner		Lesly Augustin Johnson
Edward Fiske		Lewis Jerome Johnson
*Robert Francis Fiske	1901	Francis Richard Jones
Elisha Flagg		Lombard Carter Jones
Jefferson Butler Fletcher		Frank Edge Kavanagh
Walter Forchheimer		Hiram Gillett Keays
Chauncey Charles Foster		*Roger Wolcott Keep	1897
George Waldo Foster		Christian Kestner
Ditlew Cothardt Monrad Fredericksen		Henry Wilder Keyes
Robert Warner Frost		George Washington Kimball
Albert Fuller		George Perkins Knapp
George Pope Furber		John Holly Knapp
William Francis Ganong		Augustus Smith Knight
Alfred Augustus Gardner		John Webster Knowles
Edgar Malcomb Garnett		*Hamilton Kuhn	1902
Carl August de Gersdorff		George Edgar Ladd
*Charles Ingalls Giddings	1893	William Walton Linn
Bancroft Lane Goodwin		Everett Starr Litchfield
John Henry Gray		Henry Jarvis Livermore
William Travers Gray		Myron Augustus Lochman
Harris Grafton Hale		Howard Augustus Lothrop
Franklin Elmer Ellsworth Hamilton		Charles Elliot Loud
Alpheus Sumner Hardy		Linn Luce
Augustus Story Haskell		Edward Irving Manley
Maurice Heckscher		Frederic Hubbell Marvin
William Collins Herron		Fred Sumner Mead
William Andrew Hervey		*Edwin Joseph Meeks	1895
Louis Hicks		Francis Michael
George Higginson		Morton Davis Mitchell
Joseph Baker Hileman		George Austin Morrison
William Charles Hillebrand		John Lovett Morse
Charles Frank Hoover		George Saltonstall Mumford
Silas Arnold Houghton		Frank Nelson Nay
Mark Anthony de Wolfe Howe		Frank Walter Nicolson
Willard Bean Howe		Walter Oakes
Gorham Hubbard		Otis Briggs Oakman
Charles Hudson		Arthur Henry Osgood
Frederick Everett Hughes		Robert Treadwell Osgood
Atherton Nash Hunt		Edward Christopher Palmer
Thomas Hunt		Francis Sterne Palmer
Francis Cleaveland Huntington		Frank Claflin Parmenter
Byron Satterlee Hulburt		Charles Sharpless Pastorius
Louis Fiske Hyde		Harry Ernest Peabody
James Marsh Jackson		Lincoln Rea Peabody

Joseph Hall Pearl		William Kanan Smith
Albert Thompson Perkins		John Linzee Snelling
Henry Grover Perkins		Frank Chester Southworth
*Samuel Welsh Perkins	1898	Walter Raymond Spalding
Walter Samuel Pinkham		Stephen Berrien Stanton
Alfred Arthur Poey		Livingston Boyd Stedman
William Sears Poppleton		*Pearl Lambert Sternbergh	1892
Albert Bailey Potter		Albert Eugene Sterne
Milford Seward Power		Samuel Storrow
Whitmore Preston		Frank Caleb Stowell
Charles Seward Proctor		John Osborne Sumner
Frank Ingersoll Proctor		Winthrop Tisdale Talbot
George Jacob Putnam		Elwood Gardner Tewksbury
George Totten Quinby		Aaron Claffin Thayer
Augustus Neal Rantoul		Henry Adams Thayer
Charles William Rantoul		Charles Sproull Thompson
Franklin Remington		Ernest Alexander Thomson
Paul Revere Reynolds		Barclay Tilton
Thomas Newbold Rhineland		Robert Truslow
Fred Ball Rice		Joseph Browne Thomas Tuthill
Edgar Judson Rich		George Herman Tuttle
John Wallace Riddle		Alfred Lee Tyler
Royal Robbins		Frank Vogel
Alfred Brookes Robinson		Theodore Cramer Von Storch
Benjamin Lincoln Robinson		Frank Lawson Walker
James Harvey Robinson		Joseph Eugene Walker
Thomas Johns Robinson		Eugene Carroll Webster
*William Sanford Robinson	1902	Alonzo Rogers Weed
Emery Herman Rogers		Winthrop Wetherbee
James Savage Russell		Arthur William Wheelwright
Philip Sidney Rust		Sumner Wheeler White
*Robert de Wolfe Sampson	1895	George Gill Whitelaw
William Saulsbury		Benjamin Whitney
Henry Schofield		Frank Beecher Wiestling
George Martin Seeley		Waldo Wickham Willard
Charles Edward Shattuck		Harry Johnson Wood
Eugene Rodman Shippen		James Haughton Woods
Arthur Crittenden Smith		Richard Augustus Zerega
Charles Gaston Smith		Oscar Theodore Zinkeisen
Horace Eugene Smith
*Samuel Herbert Smith	1902

—242

The following received the Degree of S. B.

Robert Payne Bigelow
George Howard Parker
Frank Harold Sellers

Samuel Abbott	Richard Hodges Gushee
John Colt Adams	Charles Frederic Hall
Elisba Hunt Allen	James Winslow Hall
Paul Allen	Benjamin Byron Hoffman
William Sylvester Allen	Henry Cutter Holt
Gaston Mears Ashe	Edward Kaminski
Winthrop Forrest Atwood	John Howland Lothrop
Alexander Robert Baum	Arthur Sylvester [Moses] Luria
Oliver William Bird	*William Dominick Lynch 1889
Christian Bayard Borse	*Irving Samuel Meredith 1894
Thomas Jennings Bailey	Wallace Nutting
George Gardner Bradford	Edward Warren Ordway
*Conway Rathbone Brown 1883	William Hesseltine Pear
Henry Goodnow Bruce	Francis Boies Penrose
Edward Addison Bulkley	Seth Clark Peterson
Thomas Handasyde Cabot	Wilbur Sanford Pond
Charles Carroll	Lester Richardson
Leander Joseph Cananagh	John Jones Roberts
Robert Maxwell Cheseborough	William Bacon Scofield
*Ruluff Sterling Choate 1884	Thomas Blythe Scott
*Arthur Cochrane 1889	Frank Dempster Sherman
Sidney Coolidge	Joseph Edward Sinnott
John Valadon Cowling	Robert Keith Snow
Albert Dudley Davenport	Edward Samuel Spalding
William Edward Davis	Frank Henry Stanyan
Thomas Cleland Dawson	Hermon Weed Stevens
*Harrie Beckman Drake 1894	Eben Blanchard Thaxter
William Skinner Eldredge	Joseph Samuel Ward Thoron
Samuel Marcus Feckheimer	*Stanley Major Todd 1890
Cornelius Conway Felton	Thomas Rice Varick
*Edward Fox Fessenden 1887	Edward Ingersoll Wells
Frederic Daniel Fisk	Joseph Swift Whistler
William Yale Fox	Crosby Church Whitman
Max Goepf	Calvert Wilson
Daniel Paine Griswold	*Charles Abbot Wilson 1888

John Dean Brown	William Henry Nagle
Thomas Marshall Brown	Robert James Oglesby
William Wade Grinstead	Edward Bixby Stewart
Samuel Cowan Henning	Charles Howard Strong

Charles Livy Whittle

$$9+71+3+242=316$$

NOTE.—The first list includes those who received degrees, the second all others who at any time were members of the Class, the third those whose social relations have been especially with the Class.

RECORD OF THE CLASS.

1897-1902.

EDWARD STANLEY ABBOT.

Five years ago I was in my fourth year of service as assistant physician at the McLean Hospital, having moved with the hospital from Somerville to Waverley. On July 5, 1897 I married Frances Elizabeth, daughter of John V. and Amy (Field) Lewis. She was born March 14, 1867. In June, 1898, I resigned my position at the McLean Hospital and went to Lynn, Mass., to go into the general practice of medicine. A month later my wife died very suddenly, after a few hours' illness, on July 16, 1898. This event completely changed my plans, and after a rest I decided to take up institution life again. In January, 1899, I became assistant physician at the Northampton Insane Hospital in this state, and remained there until December of the same year. when I resigned to become assistant superintendent of the Boston City Hospital, which position I now hold.

I have read but two papers before societies, and those were brief and not published; both were presented at the Boston Society of Pyschiatry and Neurology, of which I am a member. I am a member also of the Mass. Med. Society, of the Boston Society of Medical Science, of the Boston Medical Library, of the American Medico-Psychological Association, of the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, of the Boston City Hospital Alumni Association, of "The Doctors," a little club started by the '87 men who studied medicine, of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, and, best of all, of the class of '87.

Address: City Hospital, Boston.

WALTER ALEXANDER.

I reside at 31 West 36th Street in New York City. On October 1st, 1901, I entered into partnership with Frederic N. Watriss (Harvard '92) and Frank L. Polk (Yale '94) for the practice of law, with offices at 32 Nassau Street, where I shall be glad at any and all times to see '87 men.

I am still unmarried.

I am a member of the following clubs: Harvard, University, Metropolitan Down Town Association, Apawamis Golf, and of the Bar Association of New York City.

I have taken very little part in politics. In the last municipal campaign (1901) I was a member of the Committee on Watchers (of the Citizens' Union) charged with the work of obtaining the services of intelligent, alert men to watch at the polling places.

I was Secretary of the Harvard Club from May, 1895, to May, 1901. Am now a member of the Board of Managers of the Harvard Club. For three years I was a member of the Committee on Admissions of the Bar Association of New York.

I have received no additional degrees, since my Harvard degrees were received in 1887 and 1890.

Since the date of the last class report I have made only one journey, viz., in 1898 to England, France and Switzerland for two months.

My life, you see, is without those events which make a report in the Class Book very interesting, but though quiet, I am contented and look forward with much interest and high expectations to the great reunion next June.

Address: Harvard Club, New York.

JAMES EKIN ALLISON.

Has not replied to requests for information.

JOHN LINCOLN AMES.

During the past five years my residence has been at 72 Chestnut St., Boston. Occupation, a physician. Was appointed an Assistant Visiting Physician to the Boston City Hospital in 1901; also Assistant in Clinical Medicine at the Harvard Medical School.

Address: 72 Chestnut, Boston.

RANDOLPH MORGAN APPLETON.

Is for all practical purposes a member of the Class of '84, and the reader is referred to the reports of that class for information about him.

WILLIAM CHANNING APPLETON.

I have little to add to my last report. I am in the same line of business at 60 State St., Boston. From about May to November of each year I have lived at Cohasset, the rest of the time in Jamaica Plain. I am a member of the University Club of Boston, Eliot Club of Jamaica Plain, and Cohasset Yacht Club. I have taken no active part in politics, and my "journeys" have been mostly summer cruises along the Maine coast.

Address: 60 State, Boston.

WALTER AUSTIN.

Residence at 80 Bay State Road, Boston. Is practising law with an office in the Equitable Building, Boston.

June 17, 1897, married Mabel Lindsley Frazar, daughter of Everet and Anna L. Frazar. Two sons have been born to him, William and Lindsley; the former died October 25, 1899.

Is a member of the Union Club of Boston and Oakley Country Club.

In the summer of 1898, during the Spanish war, went to Santiago de Cuba as agent of the Massachusetts Vounteer Aid Association. In August, 1899, went to Porto Rico on business.

Address: 38 Equitable Bldg., Boston.

CHARLES FANNING AYER.

Resides in Lowell and practices law in Boston. His clubs are only social clubs and he has taken no part in politics.

In the spring of 1891 he traveled in Italy, Greece, Turkey, Austria and France. "Have led a very humdrum life, with little to narrate that would be of interest."

Address: 87 Ames Building, Boston.

EDWARD BACON.

Has not reported.

FREDERICK HAROLD BAILEY.

Continues as Assistant Professor of Mathematics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Address: Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

GEORGE PIERCE BAKER.

Is Assistant Professor of English at Cambridge. Is at present in England enjoying his Sabbatical year.

Address: 195 Brattle, Cambridge.

WAKEFIELD BAKER.

As to my whereabouts and doings during the past five years, I do not know that there is anything worthy of mention. I am still of the corporation named above, [Baker & Hamilton, Importers and Dealers in Wholesale Hardware, Agricultural Implements, Etc.], and am, in conjunction with other interests represented in our business, connected with a good many local enterprises.

Except to be a member of the Republican State Central Committee, I have not held any political positions.

My family remains the same as when I last wrote you, namely: two sons and one daughter.

My travels have consisted of some twelve to fourteen round trip across the Continent since graduation.

I shall be very glad to see the new Class Report when published, because being located so far West it is almost the only channel by which to keep in touch with the whereabouts of many members of the class.

Address: 1882 Washington, San Francisco, Cal.

CHARLES SUMNER BALCOMBE.

Has continued to live in Boston since last reported. Is a draftsman for the Boston Elevated Railway Co.

Address: 198 W. Brookline, Boston.

HARRY BLANCHARD BARBER.

Has not been heard from, and the secretary has no address. If any of the class can supply one or give any information, the secretary hopes he will do so.

NELSON MACY BARRETT.

Has not reported. According to the Boston Directory, he is still in the Boston Custom House.

Address: Concord.

CHARLES EDMUND BARROW.

Has not reported.

JOHN MARSHALL WASHBURN BARTOL.

It is humiliating to have so little change to chronicle in five years. I am still a member of the Out-Patient Staff of the City Hospital, director of the Massachusetts Infant Asylum; retain my membership in the same societies, and have served on the Tenement House Committee of the Twentieth Century Club, but have not published anything worth noting or taken any part in public affairs.

I was married October 2d, 1900, to Miss Charlotte H. Cabot, and have my home and office at 48 Chestnut St., Boston.

HENRY WILLARD BEAN.

Since my last report I have practised law in New York in the ordinary way, being connected with only one matter which is out of the ordinary. I have spent the greater part of the last two years and a half in Venezuela representing the interests of the so-called Asphalt Trust. This was an interesting experience inasmuch as it enabled me to see life in one of the most lively of the South American Republics. During most of the time we had a constant succession of United States warships protecting our interests, and it enabled me to see the raw workings of a supreme government. It was full of exciting incidents, as, for example, the dismissal of the United States Minister. I became well acquainted with General Castro and the various high officials of the government, and with many interesting South Americans, and also came to know a number of expatriated Europeans and Americans; a picturesque body of men.

Apart from this and several trips to Cuba on business, with a fair amount of European travel, I recall no incident worthy of note.

Address: 11 William, New York.

HARRY HASKELL BEMIS.

In answer to your favor of April 1st, I beg to say that since the last Class Report I have resided in Chestnut Hill. I have been a member of the firm of Adams & Co., Bankers, during that period, my partners being Walter B. Adams and A. E. Locke. This firm has been in existence five years, occupying offices at 7 Congress St., Boston.

I was married October 11th, 1898. My wife's maiden name was Esther Glenny. She is the daughter of W. H. and the late Jane W. Glenny of Buffalo.

Ruth Bemis was born December 2, 1899, and Grosvenor Bemis was born March 17, 1902, both of them at Chestnut Hill.

I am either fortunate or unfortunate enough to have had no experience of special interest to the class.

Address: 7 Congress, Boston.

BERNARD BERENSEN.

Has not reported. The Secretary understands that he was married at Florence, Italy, December 29th, 1900, to Mrs. Mary Costelloe.

ROBERT PAYNE BIGELOW.

I still hold the positions of instructor in Biology and librarian in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and I am also editor of the Technology Quarterly, a technical and scientific magazine published by the Institute. During the past five years my time has been taken up largely by the routine of pedagogical and executive duties pertaining to these positions. In the spring of 1897 the owners of the American Naturalist invited me to become the editor of that journal. But, although in order to accept this appointment, I had given up the position of secretary of the Society of Arts in the Institute, the pressure of editorial work on a monthly magazine in addition to my other duties proved to be too great, and at the end of 1898 I felt obliged to resign the editorship of the Naturalist.

In the summer of 1898 I made a two weeks' fishing trip in the Lake St. John region of the Province of Quebec. The greater part of the last three summers have been spent at Woods Hole, Mass., where, through the courtesy of the U. S. Fish Commission, I have been enabled at their biological station to resume the research work that had been so seriously interrupted during the previous years. The character of this work is indicated by the titles of the papers in the list which follows. Last summer at the request of the Fish Commission I began a systematic study of the species of crabs to be found in the waters around Woods Hole, and I hope to continue that work this year. I am engaged in writing also a series of articles of a general biological character for the new edition of the "Reference Handbook of the Medical Sciences," edited by Dr. Buck of New York. The more important of these are two rather extended articles on Evolution and Heredity.

I have not taken any part in politics, except to vote regularly the Republican ticket and to advocate the extension of the franchise at Harvard to graduates of the Lawrence Scientific School.

I have made no public addresses, nor have I been admitted to any additional degrees. During the past fall and winter I have been very much occupied as secretary and general manager of a committee of Johns Hopkins alumni having in charge the presentation of a carefully prepared and beautifully illuminated address to President Gilman, upon the occasion of his retirement from the presidency of the Johns Hopkins University.

The list of papers published by me since the last report is as follows:

Syllabus of lectures in theoretical biology. Boston, Mass.: Inst. of Technology, 1896.

The Anatomy and Development of Cassiopea xamachana.
Memoirs Boston Soc. Nat. Hist., Vol. 5, No. 6, 1900.

The Stomatopoda of Porto Rico. U. S. Fish Commission
Bulletin, Vol. 2, 1901, pp. 149-160.

Notes on Variation in the Shell of Purpura lapillus. (With H. S. Conant.) Biological Bulletin, Vol. 2, No. 6, 1901.

Also in the "Reference Handbook of Medical Sciences, Revised Edition," now in course of publication, a series of articles of a general biological character. Among those that have appeared are "Biology," "Evolution," "Heredity."

I am a member of the St. Botolph and Technology clubs and of the Harvard Union, also of the Woods Hole Golf and Yacht clubs and of several scientific societies. I still remain unmarried.

Address: Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

HOWARD HENRY CHARLES BINGHAM.

For fourteen months after graduation was connected with the First National Bank of Junction City, Kan. He then determined to leave mercantile pursuits and turned his attention to teaching. He taught four years in the Hartford Public High School, from 1893 to 1897, when he went to Fitchburg, Mass., as Associate Principal of the High School there.

He left Fitchburg in June, 1899, to become Principal of the Lawrence Academy at Groton, Mass., a fitting school for boys, where any of the sons of the class of '87 will be heartily welcomed.

He married at Stoneham, Mass., on Dec. 26, 1893, Ora Bardwell Hill, daughter of Sidney A. Hill.

He is a Mason, a Knight Templar, a Past Master of St. Johns,
Hartford, Conn., and at present High Priest of Bancroft Chapter, Ayer, Mass.

He has from time to time delivered lectures upon literary and historical subjects before public audiences and private clubs.

His address is Groton, Mass., and he would be pleased to see any classmate or Harvard man at any time.

ELDON BISBEE.

Has not reported.

WILLIAM HOLMES BLACK.

I note that the letter you desire from me relates to the last five years only. I am sorry to say that I fear that an account of those years would not develop anything very interesting, as, while they have been years of good health and prosperity, they have, after all, revealed nothing of a specially interesting character. Beyond a four months' trip to Europe in 1897 and short trips in this country and Canada since that time, I have passed a somewhat humdrum existence, and my time has been entirely devoted to my duties as Secretary of this company, [The Standard Scale and Supply Co., Pittsburg], and attending to personal business. I became connected with this company as far back as 1895, but owing to other business in hand, I did not become connected with it in an official capacity until November 1st, 1897. During the last five years our business has expanded very greatly and the great majority of my time is taken up with it.

I am a member of the University Club and the Monongahela Club of this city. We did for a brief period have a Harvard Club here, which was organized by Mr. John H. Ricketson, class of '55, but, owing to Mr. Ricketson's death last year, it no longer seems to have an existence. There are, as you know, very few Harvard men here, and I therefore seldom meet any. However, last summer I had a very pleasant visit with Geo. R. White, class of '86, Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Address: 211 Wood, Pittsburg, Pa.

JOHN BAPST BLAKE.

Since my marriage, two and a half years ago, I have lived here (302 Beacon St., Boston) and have had my office in my father's house (at 212 Beacon St.) I married Miss Anne Hastings of Brookline, Mass., and we have two children. The date of my marriage was Oct. 25th, 1899. My daughter was born Sept. 25th, 1900, and called Barbara Blake; my son, John Bapst Blake, Jr., was born April 3d, 1902.

I have not taken any part in politics except to vote regularly, following Tuthill's advice. I have usually chosen the Democratic ticket and shall probably continue to do so, as the Bryanites and Populists drop into the mud. I should of course make an exception for Teddy.

I am a member of the Tavern Club, the Boston Athletic Association, the Oakley Country Club and a series of medical societies with names too long and imposing for publication. I will, however, mention one medical organization to which I am affiliated, "The Doctors," probably the most justly celebrated aggregation in the country. It consists of the '87 men who went to the Harvard Medical School together, and a few choice spirits from '85, '86 and '88. It is an all star combination and contains only gems of the first water.

So far as offices of profit, honor and trust are concerned, I must plead not guilty. The lawyers get all of the first and last variety, and the politicians the rest. I am, however, a member of the Board of Directors of the Children's Aid Society. I am also Assistant Surgeon and Surgical Registrar to the Boston City Hospital; Assistant Visiting Surgeon to St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Assistant in Chemical and Operative Surgery at the Harvard Medical School and Consulting Surgeon to the Boston Insane Hospital. My degrees are A. M., M. D., Harv. 1891.

I was abroad during 1892 and in 1899 went again abroad, traveling in Ireland, England, Germany, Italy, Austria and Switzerland.

I have written brief articles upon medical subjects which have, as a rule, been read at some of the society meetings, and published in various medical journals, among others a brief sketch of the Boston City Hospital since its foundation.

Address: 212 Beacon, Boston.

EDWARD EVERETT BLODGETT.

As far as I can see I have very little to add to my letter to you at the time of the last report.

I still live in the same place and have three children, the third being Richard Ashley Blodgett, born June 28, 1897. I have taken no part in politics and have had no office thrust upon me. The only club I have joined since that time is the Oakley Country Club at Watertown, of which I am still a member.

Address: 28 State, Boston.

HERBERT CLIFTON BOURNE.

For five years I was Secretary of the Bourne-Fuller Co., iron and steel merchants and distributing agents for blast furnaces and mills. During the last two years I have been Treasurer of that company, in which position I now serve. Last year we built a warehouse with railroad facilities in order to better handle material.

My only child, Madeleine, is now eleven years old and is in the sixth grade of Miss Mittleberger's private school. I am a member of the Union Club, University Club and Euclid Golf Club, all of Cleveland, and the Harvard Union. During the last presidential election I was treasurer of the McKinley Hardware Club. My summer vacations are spent around Buzzard's Bay and Cape Cod. The last two Harvard-Yale foot ball games I witnessed with my brother, Richard, who is now a sophomore at Harvard.

Address: Care Bourne-Fuller Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

WILLIAM JACKSON BOWEN.

Has not been heard from. If any member of the class will furnish his address or any information about him, the secretary hopes he will do so.

DWIGHT BOWLES.

Has not reported.

WALTER LINCOLN BOYDEN.

I am in the employ of the Eastern Audit Company, Exchange Building, Boston, as an auditor and accountant.

I was married April 22, 1902, to Miss Elizabeth Beall at Austin, Texas. Her father was Duvall Beall. Her mother was Jennie (Turner) Beall. I can answer the other questions in the negative.

Address: Beverly.

HOMER WORTHINGTON BRAINARD.

I take pleasure in replying to your letter and in sending greetings to all my former friends in the class of '87, very few of whom I have seen since graduation.

I have been teaching in the Public High School of Hartford, since the last report, in fact since September, 1891. About eleven hundred pupils have been in my classes during that period. Mathematics is the subject I have chiefly taught.

My life during the past five years has not been eventful in the sense of presenting anything notable or important for the class report. I have not married, and have taken no part in politics beyond voting. I am a member of the Connecticut Historical Society, and of several teachers' associations. I have been deeply interested in the early local and family history of Connecticut and have made many investigations in the fields of family genealogy, most of them brief, but a few of a more extended kind. Some of the former have appeared in the Hartford Times, which has a department for that kind of information. A few of my longer studies may appear shortly, but under what titles I cannot state exactly. The forthcoming Brainard Genealogy will contain a considerable number of the results of my researches.

I have not made any long journeys in the past five years. Two trips to New Hampshire, during the past two summers are all that are worth mentioning. I have visited Cambridge but seldom and my visits there have been very short, but I have tried to keep in touch with the growth and progress of the University through the Graduates' Magazine, and in other ways.

With best wishes to all the members of the class * * .

Address: 88 Kenyon, Hartford, Conn.

HENRY GAW BRENGLE.

I have little to report of myself during the past five years. I am still Treasurer of the Trust Company of North America of Philadelphia, have taken no active part in politics and am still unmarried. My membership in clubs and societies would have, I am afraid, but little interest to the class. My duties have been mainly in the line of my business.

Address: 505 Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.

RICHARD BRIGGS.

Is in the crockery business in Boston with the Richard Briggs Co., of which he is treasurer.

Address: Richard Briggs Co., Boston.

ELLIOTT BRIGHT.

1. Left the Penna. R. R. Co. at Philadelphia and entered business for myself as secretary and treasurer of the Bodden & Bright Co., coffees, teas and spices, Milwaukee, May 1st, 1902.

2. May 10, 1899, at Fort Atkinson, Wis., Mary Louise Pratt of Fort Atkinson, Wisc., daughter of George A. and Sarah H. Pratt.

3. Eleanor Pratt Bright, Philadelphia, Penna., March 4, 1901.

5. Harvard Club, Seattle, Wash., and Quaker City Association of Railroad Men.

Answers to questions 6-11 can be omitted.

Any letters from Harvard men will be gladly received and gladly answered.

I wish I could be with you in person this coming commencement, but cannot, though I will be in spirit, and drink to '87, in the beverage that made Milwaukee famous, on that day. With regards and best wishes to all the fellows * * * .

Address: 309 E. Water, Milwaukee, Wis.

CLARENCE ARTHUR BRODEUR.

Since I last wrote you little has happened to me that is likely to interest the members of Harvard '87. I was then Superintendent of Schools in the city of Chicopee, Mass., a position held by me for more than five years. Last June the Massachusetts State Board of Education elected me principal of the State Normal School, situated at Westfield, Mass.: I entered upon my duties here, Sept. 1, 1901. My position is a very pleasant and useful one. I am enjoying it very much. We have but ten of these schools, and they are regarded among educational workers as very desirable.

[A son, Paul Evans, was born May 3, 1901, at Chicopee, Mass. His appointment to the State Normal School was made June 6, 1901. He has made "many educational and religious addresses in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and a few in Connecticut."]

Address: 8 Mill, Westfield.

WILLIAM ALLEN BROOKS.

Is practicing medicine in Boston.

Address: 167 Beacon, Boston.

GEORGE MORGAN BROWNE.

1. Residence, 75 East 54th St., New York. Occupation, lawyer. A member of the firm of Davis & Browne, at 44 Pine St., New York, which is composed of Gherardi Davis and G. Morgan Browne.

2. Married February 14, 1893, to Miss Bertha Vanderbilt La Bau.

3. No children.

5. I am a member of the University Club, the Harvard Club, the Down Town Association and the Association of the Bar, all of New York, and of the American Economic Association.

7. Secretary of the Board of Managers of the New York Infant Asylum, since January, 1899.

11. Have been several times to Europe.

Address: 44 Pine, New York City.

GEORGE FAUNCE BUCK.

Since last reported my residence and occupation have not changed. On February 2, 1898, I married Blanche E. C. Staples (Wellesley '95), daughter of Stephen and Emma Staples, of Stockton, California. We have three children: George Faunce, born Dec. 15, 1898; Thomas Barnes, born Feb. 20, 1900, and Samuel Dutton, born January 9, 1902. (On October 9, 1893,

I married Alice Wilhoit, daughter of R. E. and Dehlia Wilhoit of Stockton, and in June, 1895, suffered the great sorrow of her loss.)

Have held no office other than library trustee of our local public library, except that in March of this year I was commissioned by the governor of this state to serve as one of the Superior Judges of the State of California in and for the County of San Joaquin. Have taken no part in politics except to attend our county convention occasionally, and to vote the Republican ticket.

Address: Stockton, Cal.

HENRY AUGUSTUS BUCK.

Since the last class report there have been but few changes or experiences in my life to report. A year ago I resigned the editorship of the Spirit of the Times to assume the management of the Racing Calendar, with which I am now connected.

My clubs are the University and Harvard.

Address: 5th Avenue and 46th, New York City.

EDGAR BUCKINGHAM.

Since my last report I have trotted around a good deal but not done much of interest. I spent the summers of '97 and '98 in Venice, and that of '99 mainly in and about Cambridge, having left Bryn Mawr for good in June '99. In September I started with the American Institute of Mining Engin'rs for a trip through Montana and California ending up at Morenci, Arizona, where I stayed five months, having a rough time but enjoying life greatly.

In March, 1900, I came back to Cambridge. I spent the summer at the seashore and the next winter in Baltimore. Last July I left Cambridge for another jaunt to the South-west, and was married on July 15th, 1901, to Elizabeth Branton Holstein, daughter of George Wolf and Emma Hand Holstein, at Wolfe City, Texas.

I spent last summer in Massachusetts and am now teaching Physics in the University of Wisconsin.

My only publication worth mentioning is An Outline of the Theory of Thermodynamics (MacMillan, 1900).

Address: University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.

JULIAN GERARD BUCKLEY.

In answer to your circular letter of April first, I beg to report that the last five years of my life present few, if any, occurrences interesting to the Class of 1887. I am unmarried and live very quietly at Geneseo, Livingston County, New York. There I work a small farm, but without conspicuous success. I am also much interested in horses. I make frequent trips to New York and elsewhere, as I am interested in several young, but healthy, corporations which control valuable patents.

My answer to questions three, four, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven and thirteen is none. I am a member of the following clubs: Union, University, Harvard, New York Athletic, Strollers, Bar Association, all of New York City; Buffalo Club, of Buffalo; Genesee Valley Club, of Rochester; Geneseo and Genesee Valley Hunt, of Geneseo.

I regret that I cannot write a more interesting report, but the last five years of my life have been singularly uneventful. I hope to meet you and all the other members of our class next June.

Address: Geneseo, Livingston Co., N. Y.

WALTER CHANNING BURBANK.

Has not reported.

THEODORE PHILLIPS BURGESS.

President of the Burgess Sulphite Pulp Co., of Berlin Falls, N. H., the largest manufacturers of wood pulp in the world. Last September he moved from Berlin Falls to Dedham, Mass., and has an office in the Devonshire Building, Boston.

Married Elizabeth Slade. He has three children, Elizabeth, Philip and Henry.

Address: Dedham, Mass.

JAMES McCORMICK CAMERON.

Is in the iron business at Harrisburg, Pa.

Address: Harrisburg, Pa.

CHARLES CHURCHILL CARMALT.

Is practising medicine.

Address: 40 E. 58th, New York.

CHARLES CHOLLET.

The secretary is informed that he is Professor of French in the University of West Virginia.

Address: Morgantown, W. Va.

BERTRAM FISKE CLARK.

I received your circular a few days ago, asking for the "story of my life during the last five years." There has been very little to write about as I have been working diligently in the same line of business, having made only one change of importance. In the winter of '98 I dissolved the partnership of "Albert and Clark" and embarked in business entirely on my own account. [The Clark Teachers' Agency, 378-388 Wabash Ave., Chicago.] I am pleased to say that my work has proven successful and entirely satisfactory.

I shall be only too glad to have any of my classmates call to see me on their way through Chicago or while stopping here. My long residence in this city has made me an out and out Chicagoan.

I sometimes regret that I have not been more active in work outside of my business, and frequently feel that I have, to some extent, "buried my talent in the earth," but I am in hopes that before many years I can render a better report of myself. Not infrequently I wonder if this time to which I have been looking forward may not arrive too late.

Address: 378 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

HERBERT LINCOLN CLARK.

Since my last class report I have made no change in business except that on January 1st, 1900, I was admitted to the firm as a partner. The name of my firm is E. W. Clark & Co., and their business is bankers and brokers. I have been living in Philadelphia, my address being the same as before, 160 Bullitt Building. My health has been good. I have taken no journeys to foreign countries other than that mentioned in your last report, when I went to England with a cricket team from Philadelphia.

I have one child, a girl, born November 12, 1898. In February last I suffered the loss of my wife, who died quite suddenly after a long illness.

This is a brief outline of my doings since the last report. As I look back I can think of little worth recording in detail.

Address: 160 Bullitt Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.

ARCHIBALD CARY COOLIDGE.

In the spring of 1893 I was appointed Instructor in History at Harvard, beginning my duties in the following October. Since then I have remained quietly here in term time, but have travelled more or less in the summer. In 1894 I spent three weeks in England, and in 1895 I made a flying visit to Siberia, where I got as far as the city of Yomsk, a few hundred miles beyond the point to which the Trans Siberian railway was then completed. On my way home I stopped at various places in Russia and Germany.

I have not published anything of importance, and have taken no part in politics.

I belong to the Algonquin (Boston), Country (Brookline) and Colonial (Cambridge) Clubs.

[Is now Assistant Professor of History at Cambridge.]

Address: Harvard University, Cambridge.

FREDERICK SHURTLEFF COOLIDGE.

Since the last report no changes have come into my life at all. My residence is unchanged, 2636 Prairie Ave., Chicago. My wife and little lad, now eight years old, remain well. The only change in my profession is that the appointments of Assistant Professor in Orthopedic Surgery and Assistant Surgeon to the Presbyterian Hospital were given me a couple of years ago. I might also add that the best times I have to look forward to are the little vacations which I spend in the East.

Address: 103 State, Chicago, Ill.

*HERMAN TIMOTHY COOLIDGE.

Died Sept. 30, 1889. See 2d Report, p. 19.

DANIEL THOMAS COSTELLO.

Since last report I have continued in the employ of Union Pacific Railroad Co., executive department, at Omaha.

A little boy, William Joseph, born into my family July 13, 1898, died December 3, 1898.

My wife died March 13, 1899.

Address: care of Union Pacific Railroad Company, President's Office, Omaha, Neb.

JOHN JEROME COTTER.

For me the past five years have passed with great rapidity. I have kept myself as busy as I cared to in my professional and business pursuits. I have devoted considerable time to the enjoyment of life. I spent part of two winters in California and two summers in the higher Rocky Mountains. Early in the year 1900 I took a pleasure trip to the City of Mexico and sojourned there several weeks. I have crossed the continent several times in the past five years, and in my travels I have made a fine collection of Navajo Indian blankets and California and Arizona Indian baskets, and many other curios, both Indian and Mexican.

In February, 1902, I visited the Grand Canon of the Colorado, in Arizona.

I belong to fourteen secret societies, including all of the Masonic bodies, both York Rite and Scottish Rite, except the 33 degree, and I am a life member in all the Masonic bodies but one. I am a life member in the Harvard Union.

I enjoy magnificent health.

Address: Post Office Drawer E, Cambridge.

*BENJAMIN FRANCIS COX.

Born October 29, 1863. Died June 7, 1892. See 4th Report, p. 42.

TIMOTHY CURRIER CRAIG.

Franconia, N. H., has been my place of residence and the Christian ministry my occupation for the past five years.

On July 26th, 1897, in Worcester, Mass., I was married to Lucretia Crandall (Colby), whose parents, Jesse and Margaret Crandall, lived in Mystic, Conn. Her daughter Ruth Hartwell Colby, born January 12, 1890, is our only child.

For the past five years I have been a Trustee of Dow Academy founded in this town by Moses A. Dow of Charlestown, Mass.

Address: Franconia, N. H.

ARTHUR MARK CUMMINGS.

Has not reported.

GUY CUNNINGHAM.

I have nothing new to report. I am still at 40 Water St., Boston, practising law; I am still a member of the University and Puritan Clubs; I am still unmarried and out of politics.

Address: 12 Hovey, Gloucester.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS CURRIER.

My record for the past five years has been the uneventful routine of a teacher's life, as Professor of History at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. At present, however, this is somewhat relieved by my duties as Chairman of the School Committee of Winchester, Mass., where I live.

A second son, Charles Bennett Currier, was born March 17, 1899, and died February 13, 1900.

Address: Mass. Inst. of Technology, Boston.

WILTON LINCOLN CURRIER.

In June, 1898, I gave up my law office at 31 Milk St., Boston, and took a vacation until the fall. About a month of that time, in August and September, I spent at Paris Hill, Maine, which is located on the highest inhabited land in that State. It is about forty-five miles from the White Mountains and from it beautiful views are to be had of the entire White Mountain Range. It is a quiet old place, formerly the county-seat of Oxford county, but now somewhat deserted. The calm and other features of the place remind one of what Washington Irving, in "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," says about the "little retired Dutch valleys, found here and there embosomed in the great state of New York:—" "They are like those little nooks of still water which border a rapid stream, where we may see the straw and bubble riding quietly at anchor, or slowly revolving in their mimic harbor, undisturbed by the rush of the passing current."

In the autumn, I opened a law-office entirely by myself, at 7 Water St., Boston. There I remained until April, 1900, when, partly on account of somewhat poor health, I gave up that office.

I have since made my residence, 294 Chestnut Ave., Jamaica Plain, my headquarters for law practice and all other business. My health is now very much better; indeed, it has not been better for years. I have entered somewhat into the activities of my native place. In 1900 I received some encouragement in the form of votes of my fellow-citizens as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative from Ward 22. The last redistricting of this section has made a nomination pretty difficult here, if very quiet and unexceptionable methods alone are used.

The summer of 1901 I passed at Hull, Mass., where we have a summer residence; the present summer, also, after June 10th, I expect to be at Hull.

In reply to the question in your circular, I would say, that, besides speaking in various courts in the course of my practice of the law, I have made various brief, extemporaneous addresses before divers clubs and public bodies. In June, 1901, I made a brief, unpremeditated address at the graduating exercises of the Agassiz Grammar School, Jamaica Plain, of which I am a graduate.

In 1900 I was one of the delegates to the Republican City Convention.

Although residing in a suburban district, I have not yet laid aside my ambition for success at the bar, but, on the contrary, feel better equipped than ever before for a vigorous and successful prosecution of all legal business.

I am a member of the Eliot Club of Jamaica Plain.

In April, 1902, at the formation of The Jamaica Plain Citizens' Association, I was elected corresponding secretary and a member of the executive committee. I am chairman of the committee on membership, also. At the present writing about 187 representative citizens have joined the Association and our membership is rapidly growing.

I served in 1900 and 1901 as one of the Judges at the Annual Prize Declamations of the Boston Latin School, where I took the first prize in 1883.

I have held other positions of honor in my native place which it would, perhaps, be unadvisable to ask the Class to read.

Address: 294 Chestnut Ave., Jamaica Plain.

*JOHN NEWMARCH CUSHING.

Died December 22, 1890. See 3d Report, p. 33.

CHARLES ALLERTON CUSHMAN.

Is practising law in Boston.

Address: 997 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge.

EUGENE VINCENT DALY.

Is practising law in New York City, with an office at 64 Cedar St. He resides at Flushing, Long Island.

Address: Flushing, Long Island, N. Y.

FREDERIC ALVA DEAN.

1. Have been in the work of the Gospel ministry for the past five years, holding pastorates successively at Chattanooga, Tenn., Cameron, Mo., De Witt, Iowa, and last at Tripoli, Iowa.

2. Was married at Chattanooga, Tenn., May 29th, 1898, to Miss Mary Adaline Stewart of Chattanooga, Tenn., daughter of Warren Stewart, M. D. and Mrs. Catherine A. Stewart.

3. Horace Stewart Dean, born in Cameron, Mo., August 17, 1899.

8. Ph. D. in course at University of Chicago.

Address: Tripoli, Iowa.

CHARLES JOSEPH DELONE.

Within the last five years there have been comparatively slight changes in my life, and none that would be of any interest to the class at large. I have been living and practising law in this part of the State since 1892, with as much satisfaction and success as my efforts have deserved. I have taken some interest in politics without having filled any office however, and I have become, to a considerable extent, identified with matters of a purely local character within my own immediate neighborhood. In answer to one of your specific inquiries, I would say, that I spent the summer of 1900 in France and England. I know of nothing further that would be of any special interest to the class.

Address: Hanover, York Co., Pa.

*DANIEL DENNY.

Born April 23, 1866. Died May 9, 1896. See 4th Report, p. 48.

FREDERIC CLINTON DEVEAU.

Has not reported.

GORDON DEXTER.

1. Private business. Boston.

5. Various social clubs.

11. Short trips in South and East.

Address: 60 Equitable Bldg., Boston.

ELLIS LORING DRESEL.

Since the last report I have been practising law at 27 State St., Boston, having an office with F. R. Jones '87, and two other Harvard graduates. Unmarried, and have not been prominent in any way. Only journeys have been to Europe in the springs of 1900 and 1901. Member of Boston Athletic Association, Puritan Club, Myopia Hunt Club, Country Club, Montserrat Golf Club, St. Botolph Club, New York and Boston Reform Clubs, Boston Camera Club, Boston Chess Club, Salem Club, Harvard Musical Association, and Orpheus Club. Have resided at 328 Beacon St., Boston in winter, and at Beverly or Hamilton, Massachusetts, in summer.

Address: 27 State, Boston.

GARRETT DROPPERS.

Has returned from Japan and become President of the University of South Dakota, at Vermillion, South Dakota.

Address: Vermillion, So. Dak.

ALBERTUS TRUE DUDLEY.

If the historical dictum "happy the people whose annals are uninteresting" applies also to individuals, my report for the last five years should indicate a very happy life. I am still engaged in teaching and still in the Noble School in Boston, where I was at the time of my last report.

With the exception of a little daughter, Frances Gardner Dudley, born in Exeter, September 19th, 1898, my gains during the quinquennium are for the most part limited to experience from which I trust there has been some residuum of worldly wisdom.

I have had no part in politics or journeyings and my magnum opus remains unwritten.

The only new organization of any account which I have joined is the University Club of Boston.

I lead a three-fold life, living in Boston, in Exeter, N. H., and on the trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

Address: Exeter, N. H.

JAMES WILLARD DUDLEY.

I was practising medicine in Minneapolis at the time of the last report. After an attack of pneumonia I spent a short time recruiting in western Texas in the spring of 1898. Following six months more of work in Minneapolis, I found it necessary on account of an incipient pulmonary trouble to abandon that country and to seek a more congenial climate, making a permanent change of residence. So in December, 1898, I came to Arizona. The first year and a half here I spent as one of the physicians to a large mining company in Bisbee, in the southeastern part of the Territory. In the summer of 1900 I went East and passed the summer in New Hampshire and Minnesota, returning to a ranch in southern Arizona in the autumn. The following spring I spent in Phoenix, and during June and July last I took a long and elaborate camping and hunting trip north and south of Flagstaff, in this Territory, with friends from the East. We spent a month in the region of the Grand Canyon and another in the extensive pine forest south of the Santa Fe R. R., altogether a most delightful trip. After some time passed in Colorado and El Paso, Texas, I returned to southeastern Arizona again and am spending this winter in a remote and very diminutive place about thirty-five miles from the Mexican line.

I am doing a little medical work and living a very simple and quiet life almost devoid of duties and responsibility.

I have not married, and since coming to Arizona I have written nothing for publication, and joined no societies except a very young and feeble Arizona Harvard Club which I fear will hardly be able to survive its infancy.

At present I have no permanent address but can be reached through my brother in Exeter.

Address: Gleeson, Cochise, Co., Arizona.

HERMAN LEROY EDGAR.

I have but little new to write you since my letter of five years ago. I have been in business in real estate since 1890, for five years in the firm of Clarkson & Edgar, and since 1900 for myself.

For the last two years I have been a resident of Dobbs Ferry, on the Hudson, about twenty miles from New York.

On October 15th, 1891, I was married in New York, to Miss Alice Bayard King, the daughter of Edward King of that city. I have one child, a boy called William, now eight years old.

I am a member of the University and Harvard Clubs of New York, and also of the Ardsley Club of Irvington, N. Y.

Address: University Club, New York, N. Y.

CHARLES STANFORD ELGUTTER.

I am still in the active practice of the law, with offices in the Bee Building, Omaha, where, I am pleased to say, '87 men rarely visit this city without making a call.

Of public addresses and published articles I have done nothing special outside of local interest. In the presidential campaign of 1900, I arranged a reception of Harvard men to Mr. Roosevelt in his visit to Omaha. The Harvard Coach was given the post of honor in the political parade and the crimson was greatly in evidence, much to Mr. Roosevelt's pleasure.

Of journeys for recreation, I have been the only '87 man from Omaha to regularly attend the annual meetings of the Associated Harvard Clubs at Chicago, Minneapolis and Milwaukee. I trust '87 generally will be represented at the December meeting of this excellent organization at Cincinnati. The summer of 1901 found me in the mountains of Colorado, after attending the convention of the American Bar Association at Denver.

Address: Bee Bldg., Omaha, Neb.

EDWARD STANLEY EMERY.

The last five years I have had my office in Boston, caring for estates and managing real estate.

I have joined the University Club and the new Harvard Union.

In 1897 I entered the Harvard Medical School, but at the end of three months was obliged to leave it as I found I could not spare the time from my other duties. Otherwise I know of nothing to add to the last report.

Address: 103 Bedford, Boston.

WILLIAM ENDICOTT, JR.

I am sorry that I cannot give you anything very startling in answer to your request for the account of my life during the last five years.

I have been, as you know, right here in the office (Kidder, Peabody & Co.) all that time, and there is absolutely no change to report concerning myself or family.

Address: 165 Beacon, Boston.

WILLIAM EDWARD FAULKNER.

He is in Boston practising medicine at 9 Otis Place. He is one of the Out-Patient Surgeons at the Boston City Hospital.

Address: 9 Otis Pl., Boston.

EDWARD FISKE.

For the last five years I have lived, as formerly, at Weston, and have occupied my law office at 60 Congress St., Boston. On looking over your list of questions I do not find that I can give any more affirmative information, nor do I recall any other circumstances or experiences of interest to the class.

Address: Weston.

*ROBERT FRANCIS FISKE.

Born December 19, 1864. Died January 24, 1901.

Robert Francis Fiske was born in Boston, December 19th, 1864, and came of a distinguished family. His ancestors were, many of them, Harvard graduates, some leaders in the Revolution, and prominent in the early history of New Hampshire, others soldiers in the Civil War.

From this stock he inherited a vigorous body and mind, and that kindness, courtesy and high sense of honor, which combined, make the gentleman.

As a boy, he attended the Brookline Public Schools and fitted for Harvard at Hopkinson's, where he made lasting friendships. His ready wit, quick sympathies and even temper made him a favorite with masters and school-mates alike. He was then, as always, in perfect physical condition, and immediately upon entering college became prominent in athletics, playing on the freshman eleven and rowing in all four of his class crews. The victory of the '87 boat in his sophomore year might almost be said to have been won by him, so wisely and ably did he, as captain, train and lead the crew.

While he devoted a great deal of time to athletics, and was frequently on the "Rank List," it is neither as an athlete nor as a scholar that most of us think of him. We knew him and loved him for his gentleness, his loyalty to friends and his many social gifts. He was the second man chosen for the Institute by ten of his own classmates, a good indication of popularity. He was soon elected into the Alpha Delta Phi and A. D. Clubs, and was President of the "Pudding."

Generous, trusting and brave, whatever he did was carried through man-fashion, without counting the cost or reckoning the difficulties.

Handsome, versatile and accomplished, he was a favorite in society. Such traits of character endeared him to his friends in college, and when he graduated, became his capital in business.

Starting with Kidder, Peabody & Co., the Boston Bankers, as clerk, he soon won a position in the auditing department of the American Bell Telephone Co., and after a year's absence from Boston, as auditor of the St. Louis Branch, returned to the Boston headquarters as Assistant Auditor of the parent concern, a place of trust, requiring ability of high order.

In 1899 he was chosen Auditor and Secretary of the Planters Compress Co.

Although attentive to business, he did not permit its cares to separate him from friends and society, or narrow his sympathies. He was consequently much at his clubs, the Union and University of Boston, and the Harvard and University of New York.

Fiske's loyalty to '87 and his devotion to Harvard, were constant. He zealously guarded her interests and made it a point to attend his class reunions and all meetings in furtherance of a "Harvard Spirit."

Many an afternoon was given up to coaching the eleven or the class crews, and he was enthusiastic over the plans for the new Union, which he never lived to see completed.

In the midst of a life of great promise, death came to him suddenly. On Friday, January 18th, he was, apparently, in perfect health. On Saturday he complained of an ear-ache, which grew severe rapidly. His sufferings were intense until Tuesday, when they abated, but the relief was temporary only and the agonizing pain recurred. He bore it, while conscious, with grit and patience. A difficult surgical operation proved fatal on Thursday, January 24th, 1901.

We shall never forget that sombre January afternoon when we gathered in sorrow at the old Meeting House on Milton Hill, and paid our token of respect and love. Bartol, Cameron, De Gersdorff and Endicott were among those who bore his coffin or acted as ushers. It was hard to realize that Bob Fiske was gone! Was it not but a day or two before that we had exchanged familiar greetings? We had lost a loyal friend and lovable companion. His family, a devoted son and brother.

J. L. S.

ELISHA FLAGG.

1. Boston. Studying medicine. Now surgical house officer here. (Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.)

5. Massachusetts Medical Society; Somerset, Country, and Eastern Yacht Club; University and Harvard Clubs, N. Y.

8. M. D. Harvard 1901.

Address: 407 Boylston, Boston.

JEFFERSON BUTLER FLETCHER.

Is Assistant Professor of Comparative Literature at Cambridge. Has a daughter, Margaret, born August 23, 1898. Is a member of the Oakley Country Club and an honorary member of PBK.

Address: Channing, Cambridge.

WALTER FORCHHEIMER.

Is practising medicine in Cincinnati. He writes: "Please transfer the account of myself given you for the first report to the new one you have in preparation. I could add nothing of interest to the uninteresting account in the first report."

Address: 4th and Sycamore, Cincinnati, Ohio.

CHAUNCEY CHARLES FOSTER.

I replying to your circular letter requesting report for our Class Report, would say that about the only point of interest, if it is of interest at all to the Class, is that a year ago last February I started in business for myself in the line indicated by above heading. [Water Supply—Acetylene Gas Lighting, Fire Protection. 329 Church St., Nashville, Tenn.] I am kept very busy and doing as nicely as could be expected.

Address: 1702 West End Av., Nashville, Tenn.

GEORGE WALDO FOSTER.

My residence, No. 7 Evergreen Ave., Somerville and my occupation, real estate, have remained unchanged for ten years—except that last June I dissolved partnership with George W. Sias.

I married Mary Florence, daughter of Joshua and Hannah C. Clark, of Reading, Mass., at that town, June 26, 1901.

Political and other offices of trust and honor, degrees, publishing books or pamphlets, addresses, and journeys to any distance have all skipped me.

I belong to several local social and athletic clubs.

Address: 7 Evergreen Ave., Somerville.

DITLEW GOTHARDT MONRAD FREDERIKSEN.

In the fall of 1897 I was admitted to the bar, and in the spring of 1898 commenced practicing for myself. There is a Danish colony in Chicago, of which, as attorney for the consulate, etc., I find myself, perforce, a prominent member. The Chicago Danes are quiet, poor and peaceful, and most of their law cases involve so little money that the law can only assist them in theory.

I make some Danish after-dinner speeches, and belong to some Danish societies with social and charitable objects. I have many opportunities to help people that deserve it and need it, but the law fees these clients pay are wonderfully small, in fact most of them cannot even afford to go through bankruptcy, and the trusts are raising the prices on necessities of life, so I have thus far done wisely and well in not getting married.

For a year I roomed with Henry Schofield '87, and at present have a sister keeping house for me.

I helped some reformers in the first precinct of the 4th ward carry the precinct at the primaries two years ago, and sat next to a colored brother in the convention that nominated James R. Mann for Congress.

In 1898 I wrote Chapter IX, Article "Etats Unis" (about 100 pages) in "Le Marche Financier," a large annual financial publication at Paris.

I have as yet accomplished nothing practical myself towards the introduction of a scientific system of mortgage banking in this country, but had the satisfaction to see a fellow townsman use one of my articles on the question (which Professor Dunbar had published in the Quarterly Journal of Economics) in an address delivered before the Illinois Bankers' Convention not long ago without giving me credit for it, and I am told that a small company in Chicago, started by the gentleman in question, which is putting into practice some of the European principles is fairly successful.

I am satisfied that if a new third United States Bank is ever founded it can only be done (politically) by making also farm loans, and then the reform in mortgage banking will be accomplished.

I deal somewhat in Western and Southern land, which differs from the Danish law fees in this, that it goes up in value all the time, which the latter do not.

Address: 184 LaSalle, Chicago.

ROBERT WARNER FROST.

1. Since the last report I have changed my office and am now located at Room 924, Tremont Bldg., Boston, Mass. Have been in business alone since Oct. 1, 1900.

2. Am not married.

5. Since last report have joined the Harvard Union.

6. Have taken no part in politics.

7, 8, 9 and 10. No change since last report.

11. Practically have not been out of Boston since last report.

13. I have no circumstances or experiences which would interest the class, mine having been the common experience of an every day lawyer.

Address: 924 Tremont Bldg., Boston.

ALBERT FULLER.

I am now engaged in the practice of law at Taunton, Mass., having my office at No. 5 City Square. I was appointed Clerk of the First District Court of Bristol in October, 1893, and still hold that office. I was married on Jan. 19, 1898, to Martha Williams Crane of Taunton. Her father was Frederick Crane, now deceased, of Taunton, and her mother is Helen B. Crane, now of Taunton. We have no children.

Address: 45 Summer St., Taunton.

GEORGE POPE FURBER.

I have continued to practice law, devoting the larger part of my time to the Boston & Albany Railroad, of which I am an assistant counsel. When the last report was issued, I was living in Auburndale. In July, 1898, I moved to Brookline, where I still reside. I have taken some interest in politics and town affairs and am at present vice-chairman of the Republican Town committee of Brookline.

I have one son, Edward Parker, born January 2, 1898.

Address: 340 South Station, Boston.

WILLIAM FRANCIS GANONG.

Your request in your circular letter of Jan. 25 for information about myself, to be inserted in the forthcoming class report of 1887, brings me as heretofore some embarrassment, because, although I had the privilege of graduating with 1887, I never was really a member of the class. I came to Harvard in the fall of 1885 as a graduate of the University of New Brunswick (Canada), and for the following two years was registered first in the Scientific School and then in the Graduate School. In later years graduates of the University of New Brunswick have entered the Junior class at Harvard, and had this system then prevailed I would have been regularly a member of 1887 for two years; but as it was, my associations were all with the graduate school, and it was only at the last moment, just before Commencement, that it was decided I was to graduate with 1887. Hence I have never felt that I really belonged to the class, or that facts about myself would interest the other members, very few of whom I knew personally. But since you have told me I should be included in the class reports, I am very glad to send such facts as may be of interest.

This time, however, I have very little to tell. Since the last report I have continued without special incident as Professor of Botany in Smith College, chiefly engaged in the promotion of the educational phases of that science. I have published two little books, "The Teaching Botanist" (MacMillan, 1899), and "A Laboratory Course in Plant Physiology" (Holt, 1901), together with a number of papers in special journals upon Botany and other subjects. I have also served for five years as Secretary of the Society for Plant Morphology and Physiology, a vigorous new organization devoted to the advancement of knowledge in the lines indicated by its title. There have been no changes at all in my personal and family affairs. Further than this I can think of nothing of interest to add, not even after a rigid scrutiny of your thirteen exhaustive headings.

Address: Smith College, Northampton.

ALFRED AUGUSTUS GARDNER.

Since the last report I have been practicing law in New York city. I have three children, Alfred Gardner, born November 8, 1896, Martha Willets Gardner, born October 26, 1899, Katharine Lucretia Gardner, born June 21, 1901. I belong to the Harvard Club and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Address: Roslyn, Long Island, N. Y.

EDGAR MALCOLM GARNETT.

Has not reported. The Secretary understands that he has been suffering from nervous prostration.

Address: 35 Essex, San Francisco, Cal.

CARL AUGUST DE GERSDORFF.

As to the "facts in my case," you know that the life of a lawyer who by necessity as well as inclination pays strict attention to business contains little outside of the profession and little of general interest even to friends and classmates. Since the last report I have been steadily living in New York and practicing law as a member of my present firm (Guthrie, Cravath & Henderson).

My marriage and the birth of my oldest child were long enough ago to be reported in the last report. Since then I have had two children, Alma, born Nov. 25, 1897, and Caspar Crowninshield, born March 10, 1901. Both born in New York. My wife and children are all living.

I am a member of a number of social clubs in New York and the vicinity, but as usual I must answer none to the queries as to offices of profit, etc., degrees attained, books published, etc.

I have been twice to Europe within the last three years, both times on business, and both times I spent most of my time in London.

Address: 40 Wall, New York City.

*CHARLES INGALLS GIDDINGS.

Born, October 3, 1805. Died, August 17, 1893. See 4th Report, p. 63.

BANCROFT LANE GOODWIN.

Is still with H. M. Plimpton & Co., bookbinders, 655 Atlantic Ave., Boston, Mass. Is unmarried. A member of the Eight O'clock Club and the Entertainment Club of Newton.

Address: 155 Charlesbank Road, Newton, Mass.

JOHN HENRY GRAY.

I am not quite sure from your circular of January 25th how much repetition of the matter contained in previous reports you desire. I still occupy the same professorship in the same university as at the last report (Political and Social Science, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.), am still married to the same woman, and am the father of the two finest children in the world, James Bliss and Evelyn, born respectively on the 23rd of August, 1898, and February 22nd (glorious day), 1901.

I have taken an active interest in local politics, and from time to time have been delegate to county and congressional Republican conventions. I have frequently represented Evanston in matters relating to local interests before legislative committees at Springfield. Have attained to no particular offices of profit, honor or trust. Under date of May 9, 1902, I am appointed by Secretary Hay to represent the United States at two international congresses this summer, namely, that at Dussldorf, Germany, June 17-24, on Laborers and Insurance, and that at Ostend Belgium, August 26-30, on Commerce and Industry. Have won no college degrees or distinctions. For one year was associate editor of The World Review, (weekly) Chicago, Illinois, and wrote the major part of the editorials for Volumes I and II of that journal. Have delivered no public addresses of sufficient importance to mention, unless perhaps it would be that on The Control of Gas Companies delivered before the fourth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science at Philadelphia, on April 19th, 1900. My journeys have consisted chiefly in going back and forth from Chicago to New York once or twice a year, attending the Economic Association meeting almost every year since the last report, and making an annual vacation pilgrimage to some part of New England, usually Greensboro, Vermont. Two summers ago I formed the acquaintance of the agricultural population of Minnesota during my summer vacation.

My permanent address is 1827 Orrington Avenue, Evanston, Illinois. I enclose a list of my more important publications, omitting re-publications of which there have been many. I can give no truer picture of the last five years than to follow my habit contracted in our class meetings in the Freshman year of repeating. In the language of our last report: "Since my last report I have been leading the life of a plodding, patient pedagogue, in the same position I then held. I trust that I have been of some solid service to the world, but certainly have not attracted the vulgar gaze or applause, nor have I held, or been a candidate, for any offices of trust or honor."

On the 24th of May I expect to sail for Europe as a special agent of the United States Department of Labor to undertake an investigation entitled "The Restriction of Output." The object of the investigation is to find to what extent and in what manner the labor organizations, and the laborers, restrict the output of industry. I should look forward to the outing and the work with great pleasure were it not for the fact that it will keep me four thousand miles away from the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of our graduation. That fact destroys in large measure the anticipated pleasure to be derived from a closer acquaintance with Great Britain.

Original articles. (1) "The German Act Against Socialism," Quarterly Journal of Economics (March, 1890); (2) "The German Economic Association (Verein für Socialpolitik)," Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science (Jan. 1891); (3) "Religious Freedom in Austria," The Nation, July 21, 1891; (4) "Labor Unions: Labor Day Address," Evanston Press, September 10, 1892; (5) "Die Stellung der Privaten Beleuchtungsgesellschaften zu Stadt und Staat" (Jena, Feb. 1893, pp. I-XIII, 167); (6) "University Settlements: The College Statesman," Chicago, June, 1894; (7) "Symposium on the Double Standard of Currency," Address before The American Economic Association, Publications, April, 1896; (8) "Symposium on Business Methods in Municipal Administration," Address before The American Economic Association, Publications, April, 1896; (9) "Methods of Determining the Productivity of Municipal Enterprises for Profit," Journal of The American Social Science Association, Vol. 34, November, 1896; (10) "The Street Railway Situation in Chicago," Quarterly Journal of Economics, October, 1897; (11) "Symposium on, 'Am I My Brother's Keeper?'" Chicago Sunday Inter-Ocean, Dec. 19, 1897; (12) "The Gas Supply of Boston," four articles, Quarterly Journal of Economics: I. Vol. XIII, No. 4, pp. 419-446, July, 1898; II. Vol. XIII, No. 1, pp. 15-44, October, 1898; III. Vol. XIII, No. 3, pp. 292-313, April, 1899; IV. Vol. XIV, No. 1, pp. 87-120, Nov., 1899; (13) "The Gas Commission of Massachusetts," Quarterly Journal of Economics, Vol. XIV, No. 4, pp. 509-536, Aug., 1900; (14) "Competition and Capitalization as Controlled by the Massachusetts Gas Commission," Quarterly Journal of Economics, Vol. XV, No. 2, pp. 254-276, Feb., 1901; (15) "Effect of the Death of President McKinley on the Nation," Chicago Record-Herald, Sunday, Sept. 22, 1901; (16) "Richard Yates—Governor of Illinois," The Evening Transcript, Boston, Mass., Oct. 9, 1901; (17) "The Relation of the Gas Supply to the Public," Municipal Affairs, June, 1898; (18) "The Distribution of Water, Gas and Electricity: Investigation of the State Bureaus of Labor," Discussion at 10th Annual Meeting American Economic Association, Cleveland, Ohio, December 29-31, 1897. (Handbook) Economic Studies, Vol. III. pp. 66-78; (19) "Schedule of Questions Submitted to Street Railway Companies on Behalf of Civic Federation of Chicago," June, 1898. Printed by The Civic Federation, 8², 12 pp.; (20) "Difficulties of Controlling Corporations, Especially Gas Companies," Annals of American Academy of Political and Social Science, May, 1900, address at the fourth Annual Meeting; (21) "Greater Chicago," Annals American Academy of Political and Social Science, March, 1901, Vol. XVII, pp. 291-7; (22) "The First McKinley Administration," The World Review, March, 1901, Vol. I, pp. 12-15;

And the following reviews:

(1) "Insurance and Saving, The Charity Organization Society," Annals of the American Academy, March, 1893; (2) "The State and Pensions in Old Age," J. A. Spender, Annals of the American Academy, March, 1893; Bullock's Finances of the United States, 1775-1789: American Historical Review, January, 1896; (4) Illinois Bureau of Labor: Report on Taxation and Franchises in Illinois, December, 1897, in Municipal Affairs, Vol. I, p. 766; (5) Municipal Functions: A Study of the Development, Scope and Tendency of Municipal Socialism, by M. R. Maltbie, The Journal of Political Economy, Chicago, Vol. III, No. 4, pp. 574-575, September, 1899; (6) The Municipal History and Present Organization of the City of Chicago, S. E. Sparling, The Charters of the City of Chicago, Pt. 1, The Early Chapters, E. J. James, Municipal Affairs, N. Y., Vol. II, No. 3, pp. 239-241, September, 1898; (7) Municipal Monopolies, Edited by E. W. Bemis, Journal of Political Economy, September, 1899, Vol. VII, p. 563; (8) A Municipal Program, by the National Municipal League, Journal of Political Economy, Vol. VIII, pp. 556-558, September, 1900; (9) Report of The Merchants' Association on The Water Supply of New York City, Political Science Quarterly, Dec. 1901, Vol. XVI.

Address: 1827 Orrington Av., Evanston, Ill.

WILLIAM TRAVERS GRAY.

Is practicing law in New York.

Address: Union Club, New York.

HARRIS GRAFTON HALE.

Is pastor of the Leyden Congregational Church at Brookline, Mass. Traveled in France, Switerland, Germany and Holland, in 1899.

Address: Salem, Mass.

FRANKLIN ELMER ELLSWORTH HAMILTON.

I have no need to write any letter of length concerning myself or my doings during the past five years. I have spent these years quietly in and around the City of Boston doing the ordinary quiet work of a minister in a city church. I find the work exceedingly difficult and taxing. It absorbs all my time. I have little time left for any thing else. I try to keep up some of the old ties with college life. I have preached in Appleton Chapel for the students. I attend all the public exercises at Cambridge that I can. But at best my time is so taken with church details that I fear that I seem to lack the deepest interest in Harvard. This is not true, however. The old place grows only dearer with each year.

[Is pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Boston. A son, Arthur Dean, was born March 5, 1900. Is a member of several religious and church clubs and societies and of local committees for Boston city politics. Is trustee of the Alumni Fund, School of Theology, Boston University. Has written articles in various religious journals and addressed several national church conventions and congresses. Spent the summer of 1901 in Italy, Switzerland and Great Britain.]

Address: 62 Mt. Vernon, Boston.

ALPHEUS SUMNER HARDY.

There is absolutely nothing to tell you about the last five years. I am still at work at the elevator business in Boston. I am still living with my parents. I have made no travels, written no books and made no speeches.

Address: 445 Beacon, Boston.

AUGUSTUS STORY HASKELL.

When last reported was Assistant City Engineer of Portland, Oregon, but owing to a change in political views of numerous of that city's citizens, I resigned that lucrative position by request of the aforesaid citizens at the ballot box, July 1st, 1898.

Next I went out on field work for the Southern Pacific Co.'s Land Department, for about five months. In January, '99, went to work on the construction of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co.'s Snake River cut-off, but resigned the position with that company May 1st, '99, to take that of Assistant Engineer with this company and have been with the Mountain Copper Co., Limited, (at Keswick, Shasta Co., Cal.), up to date; was made Superintendent of the Calcination Department June 21, '99, and Superintendent of the Smelter July 14th, 1901, which position I at present hold.

I would be pleased to entertain any of my classmates that may be traveling this way, should any of them care to visit this plant which is one of the largest on this coast.

Address: Roslindale Sta., Boston.

MAURICE HECKSCHER.

I still am engaged in the iron business, being Secretary and Treasurer of our firm of Richard Heckscher & Sons Co.

My youngest daughter, aged twenty-two months, died in July, 1897; and last July, I also lost my father, the senior member of our firm.

Last summer I took a trip abroad with my family, visiting in England and also managed to see a little of Paris, Belgium and Germany.

My home residence is now at Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania.

Address: Manhattan Bldg., 4th and Walnut, Philadelphia.

WILLIAM COLLINS HERRON.

I am afraid that I have no answer to most of your questions, but I will do my best.

1. Residence, Annwood St., E. Walnut Hill, Cincinnati, O.
Occupation, lawyer, firm Herron, Gatch & Herron.

2. Married Jane Espy, June 17th, 1895.

3. Three children, James, Janet and John, respectively 5, 3 and 1 year old.

The other questions I am afraid are beyond me.

Address: United Bank Bldg., Cincinnati.

WILLIAM ANDREW HERVEY.

The past five years have been, for me, the most eventful since I left Cambridge. I think I told you before that I came to Brooklyn on October 13, '87, and went on the Brooklyn Daily Eagle four days later, Oct. 17. I worked for that paper continuously, as a reporter for twelve years, two months and sixteen days. During that time I did every kind of reportorial work. On Metropolitan papers reporters do not write "editorials." I was at police headquarters for about three years, and in addition to other work was afterward made military writer. Finally I was assigned to write Democratic politics and I continued in that field until appointed Assistant Inspector of Combustibles in the New York Fire Department, in charge in the Boroughs of Brooklyn and Queens. In the summer of 1899 it was decided to place this "Schedule A," or "exempt" position within the competitive class. There were thirty-six applicants for examination of whom thirty-one appeared. Four got on the eligible list. Being at the top with a percentage of 93.80 and backed by Deputy Fire Commissioner James H. Tully and the local Democratic organization, I was named for the place. I took office on January 3, 1900. I was a Democrat before I came to Brooklyn and here have always taken an active interest in Democratic politics. I was a delegate from the First Assembly District of Brooklyn to the Democratic City Convention which met in Grand Central Palace, Lexington Avenue and 43rd street, New York, on September 30, 1897, and nominated Robert A. Van Wyck, the first Mayor of the Greater City. Soon after the Spanish-American war broke out, (on July 27, 1898), I was appointed by Colonel Edward E. Britton, of Governor Black's staff, Captain and Commissary of the 114th Regiment, N. G. N. Y., which the Colonel was raising on the strength of the Governor's promise that it would be one of the commands taken should there come a second call for troops. The call came but the Governor decided to raise regiments outside of the city. Many of our men found active service in other organizations. The 114th was mustered out in December, 1898, and the officers were placed on the Supernumerary List. I am, therefore, still in the New York National Guard. On June 21, 1899, I was appointed by Supreme Court Justice Samuel T. Maddox, one of the three Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment to open 62nd Street between 6th and 10th Avenues. On June 29, of the same year, I was appointed by Justice Maddox one of the three Commissioners of Estimate to acquire title for the City of New York to the land selected by the Board of Education for the site of Public School 131 on Fort Hamilton Avenue between 43rd and 44th Streets. Our report was confirmed on August 6, 1900. I belong to the First Assembly District Democratic Association, to the 3rd Ward Young Men's Democratic Club, the Military Service Institution of the United States, the Veteran Association of Company D, 23rd Regiment, N. G. N. Y., in which I enlisted for a five year's term on July 2, 1888. I am an honorary member of the Veteran Association of the 56th Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y. I am a member of Hill Grove Lodge, 520, F. & A. M. and of Evening Star Chapter, 225, R. A. M. I belong also to the Knights of Honor, a benevolent organization.

Address: Fire Headquarters, Brooklyn, N. Y.

LOUIS HICKS.

Since the publication of our Secretary's Report No. 4 in 1897, I have continued the practice of the law in the State and Federal courts at No. 25 Pine Street, in the City of New York. Five additional years of practice have strengthened and increased my love for the profession of the law. I have not yet entered into any partnership. I have maintained my office at No. 25 Pine Street continuously since October, 1893. During the past five years, I have been especially interested in litigation arising out of and relating to the patents of Carl Auer von Welsbach, of Vienna, Austria, for the manufacture of mantels for incandescent gas-light and the patents of Thomas A. Edison for the manufacture of phonographs. I have myself invented two improvements in the manufacture of mantles for incandescent gas-light, for one of which letters patent of the United States No. 641,698 were issued to me on January 23, 1900, and for the other of which letters patent will be issued shortly, the application having been allowed by the patent office of the United States on December 5, 1901. Although I have become especially interested in patent law, my practice has always been and is now general.

I have ceased to prepare students for Harvard, but since the last report of 1897, I prepared Arthur Scott Burden '02, and Delafield Du Bois '03. I also worked for two years with Albert C. Bostwick of New York City, in his studies. In 1898, I added to my edition of the Harvard-Radcliffe Admission Examination Papers the papers in the following advanced studies: IX. Latin Composition with Notes and Translations; X. Greek Composition, papers only; XI. Advanced Latin or Latin Authors, papers only; XII. Advanced Greek or Greek Authors, papers only; and XIII. Advanced French, papers only. I also have in preparation a short treatise upon Latin Grammar, entitled: XIV. "The Essentials of Latin Grammar."

In October, 1899, I purchased a residence at Highwood Station, in the City of Englewood, New Jersey, whither I and Mrs. Hicks and our boy, Hamilton, moved in the following November, and where we have since resided. The present tendency in the city of New York is toward suburban life and Englewood we find a picturesque and delightful suburb.

The only club that I have joined recently is the Englewood Field Club.

On January 21, 1901, our second son, Reno, was born. He lived but ten days. We buried him beneath the elms by the brook in the Brookside Cemetery, Highwood.

At two separate periods between 1881 and 1885, while a student at the College of the City of New York, I had lived at Highwood, and it was because of my recollection of its quiet life and picturesque beauty that I returned in 1889.

My permanent home address is Highwood, New Jersey; office address, 25 Pine Street, New York City.

GEORGE HIGGINSON, JR.

Since our last report I have continued to live in Winnetka, and am now serving a second term on the Village Council. I have continued my business connection with the Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railway Co., and am at present Secretary, Treasurer, Vice-President and a member of the Board of Directors. Am actively interested in several of the Chicago charitable institutions.

Was married on September 7th, 1898, to Miss Emily Wakem, formerly of England, but residing at the time in Winnetka. A son, George, was born July 16th, 1899, and died September 22d, 1901, at Winnetka. A daughter, Theresa, was born at Winnetka October 30th, 1901.

Address: Winnetka, Ill.

JOSEPH BAKER HILEMAN.

Has not reported.

WILLIAM CHARLES HILLEBRAND.

The secretary has no address or information and would be glad to have some member of the class supply either.

CHARLES FRANK HOOVER.

Has not reported.

SILAS ARNOLD HOUGHTON.

I have been practicing medicine in Brookline since February, 1892. I was married June 9, 1897, to Margaret Sowles.

daughter of George Henry and Emeroy Vilas Beckwith of Plattsburgh, N. Y. We have two children, both born in Brookline, Henry Arnold, November 10th, 1899, and Margaret, February 18th, 1902.

I can add nothing of interest to the above facts, as my life has been the uneventful one of a doctor in general practice.

Address: 14 Pleasant, Brookline.

MARK ANTONY de WOLFE HOWE

Your topical suggestions for a letter make the writing of it easy. If I omit about one-half of the topics you propose it is only because I have escaped some of the greatest honors and calamities on your list. Here, then, is what remains:

Five years ago I was living in Bristol, R. I., having been obliged through trouble with my eyes to give up editorial work on the Atlantic Monthly. As an outdoor life improved my condition I did more and more writing, and in January, 1899, I returned, for part of each week, to the office of The Youth's Companion, in the capacity of "Corresponding Editor." Here I have remained, now devoting full office hours to the work.

My marriage to Fanny Huntington Quincy of Boston, daughter of Josiah Phillips and Helen Frances (Huntington) Quincy, took place September 21st, 1899. My son, Quincy Howe, was born at Boston, August 17th, 1900.

The Tavern Club, the Union Boat Club, the Twentieth Century Club of Boston, are the organizations, of their various sorts, in which I hold membership.

Except for contributions to periodicals the list of my publications is as follows: "Shadows" (Book of Verse), Boston: Cope-land & Day, 1897. "American Bookmen," New York: Todd, Mead & Co., 1898. "The Memory of Lincoln" (edited), Boston: Small, Maynard & Co., 1899. "Phillips Brooks" (in "Beacon Biographies"), Boston: Small, Maynard & Co., 1899. The series of "Beacon Biographies of Eminent Americans" which I planned and have edited from the beginning, now contains twenty-four volumes, fourteen of them being written by Harvard men.

Bristol, R. I., the home of my family, is a safe permanent address. My present business address is The Youth's Companion office, Boston, and my residence 114 Mt. Vernon St., Boston.

Of other circumstances which might interest the class, I can think of none except, perhaps, that I hope before the next report to increase my list of published books by at least one, upon which I am now at work.

Address: Bristol, R. I.

WILLARD BEAN HOWE.

Still living in Burlington, Vt. In 1897 purchased a controlling interest in the Free Press, and seem likely to spend my life in this beautiful City, well named the "Queen City" of Vermont.

Married, October 21, 1890, Annie H. Bean, daughter of the late Rev. David M. Bean and Fanny M. Hoyt, of Stamford, Conn. Five children have been born to us: David Willard, born June 22, 1892; Ruby, born March 2, 1894; Katherine, born February 14, 1896; Elizabeth, born July 11, 1898; George Frederick, July 1, 1901.

The only public office held was a short term on the City School Committee. Have been President of Vermont Press Association and held various offices in local church and benevolent organizations. Have taken no prominent part in politics but have devoted my attention to the newspaper business.

In 1896 purchased Walton's Vermont Register, the Vermont State Gazeteer and Business Directory, which has been published annually since 1817.

Address: Burlington, Vt.

GORHAM HUBBARD.

Has not reported.

Address: 210 Beacon, Boston.

CHARLES HUDSON.

I have your circular letter of the 25th inst. addressed to your classmates, and my reply will be noteworthy only (if at all) on account of the amount of news it does not contain.

My address (office) and partner are the same as heretofore, and the firm name is still Childs & Hudson, 29-30 Borden Block, Chicago.

I must answer the next nine questions in the negative.

I have had one short business trip to London and Paris, which was not of much educational value except to give me unbounded contempt for the average Englishman. He is generally a snob or a fool, and sometimes both.

I have never yet found that the practice of the law prevents my enjoying a call from any of the Boys of '87.

Address: Borden Blk., Chicago, Ill.

FREDERICK EVERETT HUGHES.

Has not reported.

ATHERTON NASH HUNT.

Since the publication of the last report of the Class of '87, I have been engaged in the practice of law. I have made no change in my business relations or location, and still have an office with Joseph W. Lund, the Secretary of the Class of '90, at Room 64, 40 Water Street, Boston. Until May, 1899, my home was at Weymouth.

On May 4th, 1899, I was married to Sarah Weeks Lane, daughter of George Homer and Sarah Weeks Lane of Braintree, Massachusetts, and since that date my permanent address has been Braintree.

A son, Edward Atherton, was born December 14th, 1900, and I trust that he will be ready and able to join the class of 1921.

I am a member of the "Cochato Club" of Braintree. The offices of profit, honor and trust which have come my way have been minor offices, and I fear that I must be like the man whose son wrote home from the West saying, "Better come out, father, mighty mean men get office out here." My political efforts have been mainly directed toward the institution of some much needed reforms in the administration of town affairs and in the local management of party politics, but the Monaquot River has not yet burst into a blaze as the result of my activity, and I am beginning to believe that I have cultivated what Mr. Whistler would have called "The gentle art of making enemies."

Trusting, however, that I still have some friends in '87, I remain

* * *

Address: 40 Water, Boston.

THOMAS HUNT.

Is practising law in Boston, with Gaston, Snow & Saltonstall.

Address: 70 State, Boston.

FRANCIS CLEAVELAND HUNTINGTON.

In the autumn of 1897, took an active part in the municipal campaign in New York, being Citizens' Union candidate for alderman in the Fifth District; was not elected.

May 2nd, 1898, started for the war as a corporal in "Troop A" of New York; went first to Camp Black, where the troop was mustered in as United States Volunteers; in June went to Camp Alger, Virginia, where heat was abundant and water scarce; end of July sailed from Newport News (both men and horses) in Transport Massachusetts for Porto Rico; returned to New York in September; troop mustered out in December; since then has continued in "Squadron A" of the National Guard, being now First Lieutenant of the Second Troop.

Kept up his connection with the Citizens' Union after its defeat in 1897, and, although not again a candidate for office, had a part in the campaign of 1901 (and thereafter to date) as Chairman of the Union's Executive Committee.

Still in partnership with Rhinelander, 49 Wall Street. Unmarried.

Address: 804 Broadway, N. Y. City.

BYRON SATTERLEE HURLBUT.

My answer to your questions cannot take much space, for my life to-day is almost what it was when I replied to the same questions five years ago. One who lives in the College Yard, surrounded by Youth, quite forgets that time passes, for the faces about him grow no older.

I am still at Cambridge,—nominally teaching English, really devoting my time to administrative work. I am not married; I have joined but one club outside of College, the Tavern of Boston; I have not taken part in politics; I have received no degrees. I have made no books, and I have published no articles aside from matters dealing with college life. Once I have made a journey, and in the course of it I talked a great deal. In February and March, 1900, I visited Harvard Clubs and various schools in some twenty-four cities and towns of the North and Middle West—that is, from the Cambridge point of view; Californians will say I travelled in the East, for I didn't get west of Omaha and Kansas City. The history of the pleasant experiences of that journey would fill a quarto, and even then I should have to condense the stories of what the Harvard men and the Harvard Clubs did for me, bringing "news from home." For myself I did not need the tour; living in Cambridge and knowing the College I am justly an optimist; but I am glad that I went, for I now know the prescription sure to cure the pessimism that questions the value of the Harvard training: "Go on a tour among the Harvard Clubs and learn what Harvard men are doing."

[The foregoing is his own account. He omits to mention that up to 1902, he was Registrar of the College Faculty and has been made Dean of Harvard College, succeeding Dean Briggs.]

LOUIS FISKE HYDE.

Since the last report I have made two changes. In January, 1898, I entered the employ of the Boston Elevated Railway, Company, and am still in their employ. On June 18th, 1901, I married Charlotte, daughter of Samuel and Eliza Pruyn, of Glens Falls, New York. Beyond these two incidents there is nothing of general interest.

Address: Brookfield, Mass.

JAMES MARSH JACKSON.

I have been in Jamaica recovering from an attack of pneumonia else I should have answered your appeals before.

I have no news of interest to the class, but I take great pleasure in recording the first arrival in our family, Elinor Jackson, March 15, 1901.

I am still physician to Out-patients at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and Assistant in Clinical Medicine at the Harvard Medical School.

Address: 259 Beacon, Boston.

LESLY AUGUSTIN JOHNSON.

I have little to record of change since our last report. I am still connected with the same firm (Luce & Manning) in pursuance of the wool business, and during the past five years have done considerable travelling in this same business, as far east as Europe, (a number of times), as far west as the Pacific coast. Indeed I spend much of my summers in the West. I am a member of the Union Club of Boston.

Address: care Luce & Manning, 138 Federal, Boston.

LEWIS JEROME JOHNSON.

1. Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering, Harvard University,—also outside professional practice. Residence, 100 Avon Hill St., Cambridge, Mass.

2. Married, June 27, 1893, Grace Allen Fitch, then of Evanston, Ill., daughter of Appleton Howe and Elizabeth (Bennett) Fitch.

3. One child, Jerome Allen, born July 21, 1896.

5. Member Boston Society of Civil Engineers, Society for Promotion of Engineering Education, New England Ass'n Prep Schools and Colleges, Free Religious Ass'n, Harvard Engineering Society, Harvard Union, American Metrological Society, Associate Member American Society of Civil Engineers, Fellow American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

6. Deeply interested student of politics and public affairs, unenthusiastic voter, hopes for very much better things both in politics and industry.

7. President Harvard Co-operative Society since August 1, 1900. Member Administrative Board of Harvard College since September, 1898.

8. Contributed "Instruction in Engineering at Harvard University" to Harvard Engineering Journal, April, 1902. Am reviewing last proofs of a paper on "The Determination of Unit Stresses in the General Case of Flexure," which is to appear in the May number of the Journal of the Association of Engineering Societies. Have in preparation a work entitled "A Short Course in Statics by Graphic and Algebraic Methods," to be published soon by John Wiley & Sons of New York.

10. Presentation of above mentioned paper on Flexure to Boston Society of Civil Engineers, December 11, 1901.

11. Trip to Cincinnati, June, 1901, to conduct college entrance examinations, where I received the very pleasant attentions customarily bestowed by the Harvard Club of that city on the annual visitor from Cambridge.

12. 100 Avon Hill St., No. Cambridge, Mass.

FRANCIS RICHARD JONES.

Is practising law in Boston. Office 27 State St. Wrote an article on "John Jay" for "The Green Bag" for January, 1901.

LOMBARD CARTER JONES.

In response to your request of January 25th. I must confess that an account of my movements in the last five years will make anything but thrilling reading.

I have been steadily at work here, but the only thing I seem to have gained has been a very satisfactory livelihood, by doing nothing else. No catastrophes or epidemics have crossed my horizon and things have been just a bit monotonous at times. Even in matrimony I must still report, "nothing doing."

Am a member of Middlesex Lodge and Encampment, I. O. O. F. Also Masonic Lodge of Melrose, and have recently joined the Bellevue Golf Club. I suppose I am still on the list of the Boston Mycological Club, or was some time ago.

My journeys have been short ones, taken in the way of vacations, and include a number of fishing and gunning trips, principally to Cape Cod, where I have a camp. Made one short visit to Nova Scotia. Most of my spare time I have devoted to the study of Ornithology, Mycology, Botany and Archaeology.

Address: 56 Summer, Malden.

FRANK EDGE CAVANAGH.

In reply to your kind inquiry would say that I am still teaching, although in 1897-98 I managed the editorial department of G. P. Putnam's Sons, Publishers. I am in my third year as member of the Civil Service Examining Board of my native city, New York. I am also in my third year as Lecturer on the History of Philosophy, University College, New York University.

My only publications, current articles and an occasional address.

Address: New York University, New York.

HIRAM GILLET KEAYS.

Has not reported.

*ROGER WOLCOTT KEEP.

Born October 27, 1865. Died June 6, 1897. See 4th Report, p. 84.

CHRISTIAN C. KESTNER.

As I have not written you in reference to any class report, I shall cover the whole period since graduation.

From 1887 to 1889 I studied at Berlin one semester and at Heidelberg three semesters. During vacations, Sternbergh '87 and I travelled extensively in Europe and to some extent in Africa. From 1889 to 1891 I attended the Harvard Law School. In 1891 I travelled through our own country and located at Denver, Col.

On August 22, 1892, I married Helen Loise McCarty of Torrington, Conn., at the same place. We remained in Denver till 1893, September 7th, when I was badly injured—run over by a cable car. On this same day my only child, Helen S. E., was born, who, at the proper time, as I have no male heir, will enter Radcliffe College.

Owing to the high altitude of Denver, we returned East. We resided in Reading, Pa., for four years when we moved to Torrington, where we are at present residing.

In college I was a member of the Signet. In Denver, of the University Club.

Address: Torrington, Conn.

HENRY WILDER KEYES.

Has not reported. Is President of the Woodsville National Bank of Woodsville, N. H.

Address: North Haverhill, N. H.

GEORGE WASHINGTON KIMBALL.

Has not reported.

GEORGE PERKINS KNAPP.

The above (Harpoot, Turkey) promises to be my address for some time to come. It must again be my lot to be far distant from you at the time of the quinquennial dinner. Five years ago I was in Berlin. After finishing the summer semester at the University there I spent several weeks at Dresden and went later to Prague. There and at Vienna and some dozen places in Bohemia I told to small congregations of Protestants the story of the Armenians. Early in November I started for America. On the way I stopped off a night at Halle and addressed the students on the same subject. After a few days spent in London I went on to Boston, arriving early in December, '97. I then joined my family at Barre, Mass., from which I had been separated a year and a half. In February, '98, I accepted the secretaryship of the Armenian Relief Committee, and continued the work of raising funds for the destitute Armenian orphans. While my work consisted chiefly in correspondence and in preparing and circulating literature on the subject, I did some speaking. I started an envelope quarterly entitled the "Helping Hand Series," of which usually 40,000 were printed at each issue. In June, '98, I had the pleasure of attending Commencement at Alma Mater, and of being present at our informal class dinner in Boston. In the summer of '99 a cablegram from the missionaries at this place invited me to come to their help. After considering the matter for a week, I decided to accept, and finding some one to take my place, left New York with my family the last of September in the midst of the Dewey celebrations. Our route took us to Naples, across Italy to Brindisi, then to Patras, touching for several hours at Corfu, then by rail along the Corinthian Gulf to Athens, where we spent several days. A boat took us from there to Samsoon on the Black Sea via Smyrna and Constantinople. From Samsoon it took us two weeks by wagon to make the inland journey of 380 miles to this place. Here my work is of quite a varied character. I am secretary and treasurer of the Mission Station, have the oversight of some thousand orphan children, give lessons eight or ten hours a week in Euphrates College, go on occasional tours during vacations and free Sundays to neighboring villages and towns, and preach when I can. It may interest you to know that our government got me a slight satisfaction for the treatment I received seven years ago in the sum of $1,000. Yet even this may compel the authorities here to think twice before laying hands on me again.

JOHN HOLLY KNAPP.

I am still residing in Menominie, Wisconsin, and my business is still that of an attorney at law. I have, since making my former report, had one new member added to my family, a little girl, Valeria Adams Knapp, born at Menominie, June 15, 1898.

My political career since my last report has not been of a very startling nature. I have, however, served as alderman of the first ward of the city of Menominie for two years, and was nominated by the Republican party for mayor in 1898, but declined to be a candidate owing to the fact that I realized that the Democratic mayor who had served the year previous was far better qualified than myself to serve the public in that official capacity. I have for the past three years been School Commissioner, and also was a delegate to our last Congressional Convention. I think this completes the list of my political honors up to date.

My permanent address will be, as heretofore, Menominie, Wisconsin, although I am looking forward to the probability of some change of residence in the future, as Knapp, Stout & Co., with whom I have been associated as counsel, have cut the last of their northern timber and their business will be closed out in this section of the country.

AUGUSTUS SMITH KNIGHT.

In November, 1899, I gave up the practice of general medicine at Boston and moved to New York, in order to take position as Medical Director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Mrs. Knight and I have lived here since that time with the exception of five months spent in San Francisco, while we were establishing our business on the Pacific coast. I am a member of the Harvard Club of New York, the Harvard Union, the Players and the Academy of Medicine.

Address: 1 Madison Avenue, New York City.

JOHN WEBSTER KNOWLES.

Since our last report I have been, as before, with the Acushnet Mill Corporation and Hathaway Manufacturing Company in this city.

On June 13th, 1900, I was married to Miss Lydia Grinnell, daughter of Frederick Grinnell and Mary B. Grinnell of New Bedford. At home here, on September 16th, 1901, our son, Grinnell Knowles, was born.

I am one, of my many classmates, who has not taken an active part in politics. Am a member only of some clubs and societies connected with the social life of this city or Harvard.

Have been abroad once on a short trip to Jamaica, and again to England and France.

Address: 10 Orchard, New Bedford.

*HAMILTON KUHN.

Born January 3, 1866. Died January 27, 1902.

With rare personal charm, exceptional intelligence, judgment and moral insight, and a lively interest in public affairs, Hamilton Kuhn was fitted by temperament, character and ability for an active life and work of the highest usefulness. In the autumn of 1893 his health began to fail—that health, vigor and love of all outdoor life which all who knew him in college so well remember—and for more than eight years he lived the life of an invalid, a life of ever recurrent, disheartening, and often intense, suffering in which he could hardly have had a single moment free from pain or discomfort.

His brief hopeful reference to his ill health in our Decennial Report is characteristic of his habit of making light of his own trial and suffering. To those of us who have known him best, his pluck, cheerfulness and patience seemed steadily to grow as his health failed. His splendid courage and unselfishness and his quiet resolve to make the best of the life he had and to fight to the end without letting those nearest him know even of the need of fighting, are a most inspiring memory for all of us. No stancher, truer friend could a man have. No truer son of Harvard has ever honored her in life and death. Certainly his place is high among those unconquered spirits who “fall to rise, are baffled to fight better, sleep to wake.”

GEORGE EDGAR LADD.

Is Director of the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy and Professor of Geology and Mining, at Rolla, Mo.

Three children have been born since the last report, George Edgar, Jr., at Atlanta, Ga., October 30, 1897; John Gardner, at Rolla, Mo., November 10, 1899; Dorothy Devereaux, at Rolla, Mo., September 8, 1901.

He has made trips to Mexico, Canada and Newfoundland, with the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

Address: Rolla, Mo.

WILLIAM WALTON LINN.

Has not reported.

EVERETT STARR LITCHFIELD.

Since our last report I have become interested in the Boston Traveler and am actively engaged in the business department of the paper, which will in a few weeks be located in its own building at 76 Summer St. My residence is 86 Powell St., Brookline, Mass.

In 1897, April 8, our second daughter was born, Miriam de Steiguer.

During the past summer I have made three trips to the southwest in connection with mining interests, principally in New Mexico.

For the last three or four years I have been the Treasurer and a member of the Board of Directors of the Wollaston Golf Club.

Address: care Boston Traveler, Boston.

HENRY JARVIS LIVERMORE.

I have nothing new to report this time, except a new daughter, Catherine Hill Livermore, born at Medford, Mass., November 23, 1899. I still reside in Medford, and I continue to practice Patent Soliciting at 40 Water Street, Boston, as a member of the firm of J. P. and H. J. Livermore.

Address: 40 Water, Boston.

MYRON AUGUSTUS LOCHMAN.

Has not reported. The Secretary is informed that he is married to Helen Van Wyck, daughter of the late Whitehead Van Wyck, and lives at New Rochelle, N. Y.

HOWARD AUGUSTUS LOTHROP.

My story is as follows: I continue to reside and practice medicine at 10 Marlborough Street, Boston, and am not married. Am a member of the St. Botolph and University Clubs. I am an Assistant Visiting Surgeon at the Boston City Hospital and at the Long Island Hospital, and Assistant in Surgery at the Harvard Medical School. Have written more or less on surgical subjects. Am one of the Censors of the Massachusetts Medical Society.

Address: 10 Marlborough, Boston.

CHARLES ELIOT LOUD.

I have lived in Boston since the date of the last report and have been engaged as hitherto in the real estate brokerage business. On January 1, 1901, I entered into a copartnership with S. Parkman Blake, under the firm name of Blake & Loud, with offices at 2 Kilby Street, corner State Street, Boston.

On June 21st, 1898, I was married at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, to Ellen Stanwood Cowperthwait, daughter of Mary B. and the late Joseph B. Cowperthwait of that city.

I am a member of several social, rowing, yachting and country clubs, and of the First Corps Cadets, M. V. M., in which organization I was elected First Lieutenant February 11th, 1902.

In the latter part of the winter and spring of 1899, I went to Europe, to Egypt and up the Nile, to Jerusalem, Constantinople, and Greece, and returned in June of that year.

My residence is 73 Beacon Street, Boston.

Address: 2 Kilby, Boston.

LINN LUCE.

Has not reported.

EDWARD IRVING MANLEY.

In 1901 formed The Clark Griffith Co., 153 LaSalle St., Chicago. Is Secretary-Treasurer. "Helped to secure the repeal of the compulsory pension law for teachers. It was the only educational legislation passed by our General Assembly in 1901. Editor 'Die Journalisten,' Allyn & Bacon, Boston, 1901. Present address, Quadrangle Club, Chicago.

Address: Normal, Ill.

FREDERIC HUBBELL MARVIN.

Is an artist, living abroad most of the time, at present in Tunis. Unmarried.

Address: care Drexel, Harjes & Co., Paris, France.

FRED SUMNER MEAD.

The only item of interest regarding myself is that on January 1, 1901, I retired from the firm of F. S. Mead & Co. on account of my health; my partners continue the business under the firm name of George S. Baldwin & Co.

Address: Fisher Ave., Brookline.

EDWIN JOSEPH MEEKS.

Born December 16, 1864. Died June 9, 1895. See 4th Report, p. 99.

FRANCIS MICHAEL.

Has not reported.

MORTON DAVIS MITCHELL.

Is traveling abroad.

Address: Metropolitan Club, Washington, D. C.

GEORGE AUSTIN MORRISON.

Has not reported. Is practising law in New York, with an office at 43 Cedar, New York.

Address: 691 Fifth Ave., New York.

JOHN LOVETT MORSE.

My life during the last five years has been very quiet and uneventful. My time has been entirely devoted to medicine except for a vacation of a month each year spent in the Maine woods hunting and fishing. I am devoting myself almost entirely to the diseases of children. I am still unmarried and have taken no active part in politics.

In addition to former societies I have become a member of the Boston Society of Medical Sciences, The American Medical Association, The Association of American Physicians and the Association of American Pathologists and Bacteriologists. I am a member of the University Club of Boston, The Misery Island Club and the Longwood Cricket Club.

I am assistant visiting physician at The Infants' Hospital and at The City Hospital. In June, 1900, I resigned my position as Assistant in Clinical Medicine in the Harvard Medical School to accept that of Instructor in the Diseases of Children in the same school. This position I now hold.

I have published the following articles:

"A Case of Antitoxine Poisoning," Boston M. & S. Journal, 1898, CXXXVIII, 156; "A Case of 'Purpura' in An Infant, Probably the Result of Pneumococcus Infection," Annals of Gynæcology & Pediatrics, 1898, XI, 372; "A Study of Thirty-Seven Fatal Cases of Cirrhosis of the Liver," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1898, CXXXVIII, 225, Boston City Hosp. Med. Reports, Ninth Series; "Acute Leucæmia in Childhood," Archives of Pediatrics, 1898, XV, 330; "A Consideration of the Professor Gaertner-Mother-Milk," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1898, CXXXVIII, 586; "The Principle and Limitations of the Home Modification of Milk," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1898, CXXXIX, 291; "Remarks on the Classification of the Anæmias of Infancy, With a Report of a Severe Case," Archives of Pediatrics, 1898, XV, 815; "Tetany in Infancy: With a Report of Six Cases," Journal of the American Medical Association, 1898; "An Investigation as to the Frequency of Typhoid Fever in Infancy," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1899, CXL, 36; "A Case of Erysipelas Migrans," "A Case of Sub-Acute Duodenal Indigestion at Four Weeks," Annals of Gynæcology & Pediatrics, 1899, XII, 326; "The Home Modification of Milk," Annals of Gynæcology & Pediatrics, 1899, XII, 465; "The Blood in Diphtheria," Boston City Hosp. Med. & Surg. Reports, 1899, X, 138; "An Old Method for the Home Modification of Milk," Archives of Pediatrics, 1899, XVI, 506; "The Treatment of the Acute Diarrheas of Infancy," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1899, CXLI, 101; "The Renal Complications of the Acute Enteric Diseases of Infancy," Archives of Pediatrics, 1899, XVI, 649; "Three Cases of Pneumonia with Marked Abdominal Symptoms in Children," Annals of Gynæcology & Pediatrics, 1899, XIII, 143; "Three Unusual Cases of Angioneurotic Edema in Infancy," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1900, CXLII, 10; "Koplik's Sign in the Diagnosis of Measles," Maryland Medical Journal, 1900, XLIII, 97; "Frequency of Rickets in Infancy in Boston and Vicinity," Journal of the American Medical Association, 1900, XXXIV, 724; "Splenic Anæmia," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1900, CXLII, 422; "Two Cases of Sporadic Cretinism," Annals of Gynecology & Pediatrics, 1900, XIII, 490; "An Analysis of Fifty-one Cases of Pneumothorax," Amer. Jour. of the Medical Sciences, 1900, CXIX, 503; "Rickets," Philadelphia Medical Journal, 1900, V, 1188; "The Leucocyte Count in Serous Pleurisy," Amer. Jour. of the Medical Sciences, 1900, CXX, 658; "Fetal and Infantile Typhoid," Archives of Pediatrics, 1900, XVII, 881; "Chronic Enlargement of the Spleen in Infancy," Annals of Gynecology & Pediatrics, 1900, XIV, 153; "Some Cases of Tetany in Infancy," Philadelphia Medical Journal, 1901, VII, 40; "A study of the Plantar Reflex in Infancy," Pediatrics, 1901, XI, 13; "The Value of the Widal Reaction in Infancy and Childhood," Archives of Pediatrics, 1901, XVIII, 338-451; "Infantile Scorbutus," Boston Med. & Surg. Journal, 1901, CXLIV, 465; "The Diagnosis of Typhoid Fever in the Laboratory," Journal of the Amer. Med. Ass'n, 1901, XXXVII, 441; "A Case of Chronic Arsenical Poisoning in an Infant of Seven Months," Archives of Pediatrics, 1901, XVIII, 702; "Infantile Atrophy," Medical News, 1901, LXXIX, 409. Med. Com. Mass. Med. Soc. 1901, XVIII, No. 3, 845; "An Analysis of Thirty-two Cases of Congenital Heart Disease," Archives of Pediatrics, 1901, XVIII, 744; "The Feeding of Infants," American Journal of Nursing, Oct., 1901; "Three Cases of Epidemic Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis in Infants," Annals of Gynecology & Pediatrics, 1901, Oct., XIV; "A Case of Secondary Anæmia with Splenic Tumor," Pediatrics, 1901, XII, 409.

Address: 70 Bay State Road, Boston.

GEORGE SALTONSTALL MUMFORD.

My home since the last class report has been at Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts, and I have been a sub-manager in the Union Safe Deposit vaults and Secretary of the City Trust company in Boston.

One son, George Saltonstall Mumford, Jr., born December 23, 1901.

Address: Chestnut Hill.

FRANK NELSON NAY.

During the last five years I have resided at 9 Maple street, Elm Hill, Roxbury, which is my permanent address. I have practiced law without any interruption with offices in the Tremont building. One other child was born to my wife and myself on August 25, 1900, Ralph Howdon. I spent the summer of 1898 abroad and have taken several business trips out West, and one to the extreme westerly part of Texas. I was in that district a month and went across the Rio Grande and saw a little of Mexico. Had some interesting experiences in Texas, where to smoke in the court room during a trial I found not only allowed but apparently required by the etiquette of the occasion.

To an Eastern man the sight of a jury hearing a case, ten of them in their shirt sleeves, eight smoking corn cob pipes and four or five with their feet high up on the railing in front of the jury box, is edifying. And a murder trial where the prosecuting attorney's costume consisted in part of white duck trousers, and canvas tennis shoes, is a novelty. In this case the able and ingenious counsel for the defendant (defendant was credited then with fourteen victims, but I do not know his present score) secured a strategic advantage by getting the prosecuting attorney partially drunk before the trial began and keeping him in that condition until the verdict of acquittal was obtained. The general opinion was that the murdered man deserved his fate, which I have no doubt was correct; also that Texas could ill afford to hang one of its best revolver artists.

I had the pleasure of being introduced to the said artist after his character had been rehabilitated by the verdict. But as I took special pains not to run counter to his views in any way, and to preserve a respectful attitude during the few minutes I was in his presence, I did not gain a fleeting renown as Number 15, an honor which a more ambitious man could no doubt have easily attained.

Address: 9 Maple, Roxbury.

FRANK WALTER NICOLSON.

I have little to communicate that is of interest. My occupation has remained unchanged since 1891, though since the last report appeared I have been advanced to the enjoyment of the dignity and privileges of a "full" professor, to employ the usual ambiguous and very undignified phrase. At the same time I received the degree, M. A., ad eundem, from Wesleyan University. I have delivered some public lectures and written a few articles, but as for books—an American college professor is generally so burdened with executive work that he finds little time for original work, and if he has the misfortune to be Secretary of the Faculty, which is my unhappy lot, he might as well abandon hope. My wife and I have visited Europe three times since our marriage in '91; in '94 we spent the summer in Italy, in '96 we went to Germany and Switzerland, and last summer's vacation was spent in England, which I visited also just twenty years ago, before entering college.

Owing to the fact that our commencement week coincides with that at Harvard, I have been unable to attend any of the reunions of the class since I left Cambridge. I shall make an effort, however, to be present this year.

Elsbeth Nicholson was born May 30, 1902.

Address: Middletown, Conn.

WALTER OAKES.

1. I still reside at Tacoma, Wash., and am still interested in the steamboat business to Alaska and on Puget Sound. We have bought one new steamship company.

2. Have one more child since last report. Name, Thomas Fletcher Oakes, 2d, age, twenty months (Feb. 11, 1902).

5. Belong to about same clubs as last report.

11. Have only made occasional trips to San Francisco or New York.

Address: Tacoma, or Seattle, Wash.

OTIS BRIGGS OAKMAN.

I am still in Thayer Academy and keep the same work, teaching Latin and French. This position in my old "prep" school is especially agreeable and the work very congenial.

I was married October 23, 1901, to Mary Louise, daughter of Azel R. and Sarah Louisa (Porter) French and am living here in Braintree.

If I wrote you five years ago I must have mentioned getting my A. M. from Harvard in '96, the result of study carried on at Harvard while I was teaching here in Braintree. My interest in Masonry still continues and it was my pleasure in 1900 and 1901 to be the master of my lodge. I hold a minor office in the Council and have just taken my degrees in Massachusetts Consistory.

I have delivered no addresses and made no trips in the last five years, in fact, consider myself happy in that I have practically no history.

Address: N. Marshfield.

ARTHUR HENRY OSGOOD.

Has continued the practice of his profession of dentist as member of the firm of H. D. Osgood & Son. His office is now 372 Boylston street, Boston.

November 13, 1899, a daughter, Grace LeBaron, was born to him.

Is a member of the University Club of Boston and the Harvard Union.

Address: 240 Humboldt Ave., Roxbury.

ROBERT TREADWELL OSGOOD.

Took a most profitable and enjoyable trip, as delegate in July, 1897, to San Francisco and return, visiting many points of interest and beauty, e. g. Niagara, "Garden of the Gods," Pike's Peak, Marshall's Pass, Canon of the Grand, Salt Lake City, etc.,—was at a mass meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in the Mormon Tabernacle there—then the beautiful attractions around San Francisco, chiefly Lick Observatory, seeing Saturn through the great telescope. At Portland, Ore., saw from an outlook half a dozen different snow capped peaks within ninety miles distance. The Yellowstone Park experience of nine days of camp life was of the best of all to me, with all it had to offer to the appreciative observer.

Was taken nervously ill about January 1st, 1898, and hope soon again to be back in my former profession or else at a work of responsibility.

Address: Biltmore, N. C.

EDWARD CHRISTOPHER PALMER.

Your thirteen leading questions imply so many things that an '87 man may be expected to have done which I have not done that I hesitate to reply at all.

Aside from my marriage to Miss Alice Atkinson of Hawley, Pa., in New York City, June 7th, 1900, I have very little to report. I came here (New Orleans, La.) in April, 1898, to assume active control of my father's business, and have devoted all the energy I had to that. Now and then the Graduates' Magazine, or a letter from a friend, reminds me that other Harvard men of '87 are making records of which in time the class will be proud, but my little corner in the world (though it fits me well enough) has not as yet provided any copy for auto-biographical pyrotechnics, and I can only hope to shine a little in the reflected glory of my more illustrious classmates.

Address: 435 Camp, New Orleans, La.

FRANCIS STERNE PALMER.

Since your last report I have lived in New York city, where I have been an officer of the Law Department in the Customs service.

In August, 1899, I was married to Miss Beatrix Bennet of New York.

I am a member of the Players' Club and the Sons of the Revolution.

Address: Players' Club, New York City.

GEORGE HOWARD PARKER.

I am still teaching zoology at Harvard, having been advanced from Instructor to Assistant Professor in 1899. Since your last report I have joined several scientific societies and this year I have been elected vice-president of the American Morphological Society. I am also serving on the councils of the Boston Society of Natural History and of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. My publications have been some dozen or more papers, chiefly of a technical character and in the main the outcome of my work in the Harvard laboratories. I am sure you will be happier for not having the "exact titles and dates and the places of publication." For the past five years I have served on the Administrative board of the Lawrence Scientific School, where under the genial guidance of Dean Shaler, university justice is meted out to the Scientific undergraduates. In our day there were scarcely a dozen Scientific School students in Cambridge; now there are over five hundred and their ingenuity in meeting the exigencies of university life is, I can assure you, quite up to the standard of '87's day. I have done very little traveling in the last few years and have been spending my summers for the most part at Woods Hole, Mass., where opportunities for biological outings abound. Last summer I undertook a piece of work for the United States Fish Commission on the daily migrations of organisms of service as fish-food, a report of which is now in process of publication for the government.

Address: 6 Avon Place, Cambridge.

FRANK CLAFLIN PARMENTER.

Has not reported. Has continued to reside in Gloucester.

Address: 46 Summer, Gloucester.

CHARLES SHARPLESS PASTORIUS.

Is treasurer of the Colorado Investment & Realty Company.

Writes: In response to your letter asking for information for class report, will say that I have nothing of special interest to communicate since last report, being still in Colorado Springs and a state of single blessedness, which I believe answers most of the questions on your printed circular.

Address: P. O. Box 428, Colorado Springs, Colo.

HARRY ERNEST PEABODY.

The address above (294 Windsor Ave., Hartford, Conn.) will show you that I still live in the land of "our friends, the enemy," although since the last report I have moved from New Haven to Hartford. This change is the chief event for me since the last report. After three years' superintendence of a mission house in a foreign quarter of New Haven as assistant pastor of one of the churches there, I accepted a call to the pastorate of the Windsor Avenue Congregational Church of this city. It is a good church of middle class people of about 400 members. It is remarkable that of six pastors of this church since its foundation four of us have been Harvard men. And we have just added another Harvard pastor, in that we have assumed the financial support of G. P. Knapp, '87, who will be our "foreign pastor" representing us in Harpoot, Turkey-in-Asia. I have been here in Hartford nearly three years.

About a year before leaving New Haven a second son was born to us, Leonard Clough Peabody.

Al. Weed '87 has initiated me in the sport of mountain climbing by two tramps in the White Mountains and in the Adirondacks, and I am looking for more.

By the time this report is published I shall have gone and returned from a short journey with my wife to North Carolina. I am just now getting up from my first sickness, a siege of pneumonia. May you all escape it.

Address: Princeton, Maine.

LINCOLN REA PEABODY.

Has not reported.

JOSEPH HALL PEARL.

I have but little to add since my last report. I am still a member of the law firm of Moody & Bartlett, doing business at Haverhill, Massachusetts. The death of Mr. Bartlett has reduced the members of the firm to Mr. Moody and myself.

My residence is at No. 129 Main St., Bradford, Mass., and my place of business at Masonic Building, Haverhill, Mass. I am unmarried. The only societies I have joined since my last report are the various Masonic bodies.

I have continued to take an active part in politics as a member of the Republican party and have been a member of the Congressional and other Committees. I have taken part in some campaigns as a speaker on local issues. I have been City Solicitor of Haverhill for the years 1900, 1901 and 1902.

Address: 129 Main, Bradford.

ALBERT THOMPSON PERKINS.

October, 1887, entered general freight office of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Company at Chicago, and have continued in employ of that company to the present time. In September, 1888, Chief Clerk in contracting freight office at Chicago; in November, 1889, Traveling Freight Agent for Indiana and Ohio with headquarters at Chicago; in February, 1890, Chief Clerk of general freight office at St. Louis; in December, 1892, General Agent at Hannibal, Mo.; in December, 1893, Local Freight Agent at St. Louis; in January, 1897, Superintendent of Terminals at St. Louis; June 1, 1902, Superintendent of the Kansas City, St. Joseph & Council Bluffs R. R. division, with office at St. Joseph, Mo.

Was married on February 16th, 1898, at St. Louis, to Eva Spotswood Lemoine of St. Louis, daughter of Dr. Edwin Spotswood Lemoine and Katherine Rice Lemoine.

Have one child, a daughter, Katherine Lemoine Guy Perkins, born March 23, 1901.

Have been a member of several clubs and an officer in several railroad associations.

Business address is Third and Sylvania Streets, St. Joseph, Mo.

HENRY GROVER PERKINS.

I am able to give a slight variety to this report, as compared with those previously made to you.

My business relations are the same; I am still with Messrs. C. W. Whittier & Bro., real estate brokers, No. 70 State St., Boston.

My domestic relations show a decided change, and I am able to fill in space in my report, which has hitherto remained blank.

I was married on November 15th, 1899, by the Rev. Lyman Abbott, to Miss Maria Theresa Tupper, daughter of the late William V. Tupper and Maria Theresa (Tilesto) Tupper of Brooklyn, N. Y., at the family residence, 171 Clinton Street.

On October 23rd, 1900, a daughter was born, in Brookline, Mass., who received the name of Maria Theresa.

My residence is No. 61 Monmouth St., Brookline.

I have made no journeys to foreign countries, unless Cuba and Canada come under that head. My trip to Cuba, made in February, 1899, at the beginning of the American occupation, was of great interest to me. Almost the first man I met in Havana was a Harvard '87 man, engaged in the practice of law in that city.

Address: 70 State, Boston.

*SAMUEL WELSH PERKINS.

(The Secretary is just informed that Perkins died suddenly in New York, January 28th, 1898.)

WALTER SAMUEL PINKHAM.

I am still living in Wollaston, Mass., and am practising law in Boston with an office at No. 5 Tremont St.

I was married July 16, 1900, at Wollaston, to Isabella Southworth Foote, daughter of Allen Ripley and Emma L. (Hayt) Foote.

Am a member of Wollaston Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; St. Stephens R. A. Chapter, and South Shore Commandery, K. T., also of several local clubs and societies. For several years I was a member of the City Council of Quincy and during the year 1898 was president of that body. At present am a member of the Board of Managers of Adams Academy, in Quincy.

Address: Wollaston.

ALFRED ARTHUR POEY.

Is practising law in Havana.

Address: 4 Mercedes, Havana, Cuba.

WILLIAM SEARS POPPLETON.

I have since the last class report been living in Omaha. My present address is 2232 Sherman Avenue. My wife died in August, 1899, and I have no children. I am a member of the Omaha Club, the Omaha Country Club, and several other organizations. In 1900 I ran for Mayor of Omaha on the Democratic ticket. My opponent won by 842 majority, which was about a thousand less than the normal Republican majority here on national issue. I have delivered no set addresses but have made a good many speeches. In 1897 I spoke before the legislatures of Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah and Idaho, each in joint session, and also before the California senate and the joint ways and means committee of the Illinois legislature, the subject of my remarks being the Exposition, which was held at Omaha in 1898.

I have had some very pleasant trips restricted to this country: San Francisco, New York and Boston marking their limits. In the fall of '98 I was in Cambridge for a day and had the pleasure of seeing Harvard defeat Pennsylvania 12 to 0.

Address: 1056 S. 29th, Omaha, Neb.

ALBERT BAILEY POTTER.

My occupation has been the same as at time of last report. Place of business the same. (Broker. A. B. Turner & Co.) The past four years I have resided in Dedham.

Was married October 5th, 1898, to Florence E. Brooks, daughter of Henry and Lizzie Brooks, all of Newton. There are two children, Penelope, born August 6th, 1899. Albert Bailey, 2nd, born August 26th, 1900.

Address: 16 State, Boston.

MILFORD SEWARD POWER.

I do not remember what I wrote for insertion in your last report, but I am sure there is little to add—certainly nothing of general interest. I left the Roxbury Latin School to take a place nearer home. I have been teaching in the Dorchester High School since October, 1900. I have now two children: Madeline Louise (July 7, 1893), and Helen Parker (June 5, 1900). I am sure there is nothing else of anything but the most purely local interest.

My address remains the same: 66 Welles Av., New Dorchester.
WHITMORE PRESTON.

Has changed his residence to Brookline. Occupation, the same as last reported, woolen manufacturing. "No other changes and nothing of interest with which to fill a letter."

Address: 91 Bedford, Boston.

CHARLES SEWARD PROCTOR.

Has not reported.

Address: 11 So. Walker, Lowell.

FRANK INGERSOLL PROCTOR.

"There is nothing of interest to add to my last report."

Address: 259 Beacon, Boston.

GEORGE JACOB PUTNAM.

I have very little to add to my report of five years ago. My business and residence remain the same, my clubs are merely social ones, I have taken no extended journeys, and in fact have nothing of general interest to report.

My family has been increased by the birth of a daughter, Ruth, who was born October 9th, 1901.

[Is a member of the firm of Clement, Parker & Co., Brokers.]

Address: 53 Devonshire, Boston.

GEORGE TOTTEN QUINBY.

Since last reported has left Seattle, and for a time was engaged in the practice of law in New York, the firm being Van Schaick, Norton & Quinby. He is now said to be living on a farm in Horntown, Accomac Co., Virginia.

AUGUSTUS NEAL RANTOUL.

In reply to the various questions concerning myself, for the next Class Catalogue, I have only to state that the conditions have changed but slightly. My residence is Salem during the winter months, and Beverly Farms during the summer. In '87 I entered the office of Andrews & Jaques, architects, and in '89 became a partner under the firm title of Andrews, Jaques & Rantoul.

Am unmarried; am a member of the Somerset, Eastern Yacht, Salem, and Essex County Clubs, the Boston Society of Architects, and the American Institute of Architects.

Delivered an address in October, 1901, before the National Convention of American Warehousemen, in Buffalo, N. Y., the title of which was "The Design and Construction of the Modern Warehouse." This was published in the Annual Report of the Warehousemen's Association, in the Brick Builder, and one or two other magazines.

Spent the winter of 1901 traveling in the East, going to Madeira, Algiers, Egypt, Greece, Asia Minor and Turkey, returning by way of Hungary, Austria, Germany, France and England.

Address: 1 Somerset, Boston.

CHARLES WILLIAM RANTOUL, JR.

In reply to your inquiries of April 1st:

1. I moved my residence in the latter part of 1897 to New York City. I lived at 550 Park Ave. for two years, since which date I have been at 341 West 85th Street. My business is the same as last recorded. I am Manager of Sales of the Ticonderoga Pulp Co., of Ticonderoga and New York City.

2. You have record of my marriage in the last report. Also the names of the children.

4. My eldest child, Constance Endicott Rantoul, died in New York City, January 27th, 1902.

5. I am a member of the Harvard and University Clubs of New York City.

6. I have taken no part whatever in politics.

7. For the last two years I have acted as Expert Special Agent for the Government in preparing the statistics for the Twelfth Census of the Paper and Pulp Mills of the United States.

8. Have attained no degrees except A. B., Harvard 1887.

9. Have published no books, pamphlets or articles.

11. No journeys to report except east of Chicago, shooting trips in Maine and Florida.

12. Address: Times Bldg., New York City.

FRANKLIN REMINGTON.

Replying to your various questions, I would say that since the last report was made out I have lived in Chicago and have been engaged in the same occupation which I have been carrying on for the past ten years, viz: the manufacture of typewriters. I have spent a large part of my time in Europe establishing foreign connections for our business. I am not married. I have lately left Chicago and have moved to New York. While in Chicago I was a member of nearly all the prominent clubs. I have taken no part in politics. I have published no books or pamphlets. My trips abroad in the interest of my business have taken me into nearly all the countries of Europe. I was one of the first Americans in Spain after the Spanish war and I think probably the first to establish an agency for American products in that country soon after the war closed and before the treaty of peace was signed.

Address: care Fay-Sholes Co., 127 Rees, Chicago, Ill.

PAUL REVERE REYNOLDS.

I am the American agent for the publications of the three firms whose names are at the head of this paper. (William Hieneman; Sampson Low, Marston & Co., Limited; Archibald Constable & Co., of London.) I sell the manuscripts of authors to publishers here and abroad. This work is very interesting to me because I am constantly meeting literary men and handling their work.

On September 26th, 1899, I married Amelia E. D. Stead.

I am a member of the University Club of New York.

Address: 70 Fifth Ave., New York.

THOMAS NEWBOLD RHINELANDER.

1. I am still engaged in the practice of law with Francis C. Huntington, under the firm name of Huntington & Rhineland, present address No. 49 Wall Street, New York City.

2. (Answered for previous report.)

3. Philip Newbold, August 29, 1895; Frederica, December 29, 1898.

Address: 49 Wall, New York City.

FRED BALL RICE.

Since the last Class Report there is nothing new in my existence worthy of record. My home and business office are the same as last. Am still unmarried. Have held no offices other than minor local ones.

[Is with Rice & Hutchins, Incorporated, 10 and 12 High St., Boston, manufacturers of boots and shoes.]

Address: Quincy.

EDGAR J. RICH.

I have moved my law offices from the Exchange Building to 1002-6 Pemberton Building.

Upon the death of the late Sigourney Butler, Esq., I succeeded him as attorney for the Boston & Maine Railroad and have since that time devoted a considerable portion of my time to railroad law, retaining, however, my general practice.

I am a member of the Union Club of Boston and some local clubs in Winchester.

I have taken no part in politics beyond serving on some local committees and acting as moderator at the town meeting.

I have made addresses on various subjects before social and other organizations, on "England and the Transvaal," "Russia," "Chinese Gordon," "The Problem of a Steady Job."

Last summer I spent two months abroad, most of the time in the Highlands of Scotland.

Address: 1002 Pemberton Bldg., Boston.

JOHN WALLACE RIDDLE.

Resigned from his position of Secretary of the United States Legation to Turkey, about eighteen months ago, after occupying it for six years. Two months ago President Roosevelt appointed him First Secretary of the United States Embassy to Russia, where he now is.

He has not married, written articles, etc.

Address: 385 Pleasant Ave., Saint Paul, Minn.

ROYAL ROBBINS.

I can really think of nothing important in my own case since the last report. My only new position is that of a director of the American Loan & Trust Co., 53 State St.

Address: 403 Washington, Boston.

ALFRED BROOKES ROBINSON.

Since my last return to you I have removed my law office to 35 Nassau St., New York City; my residence remains the same, 157 West 74th Street.

On April 29th, 1901, I was married to Ethel Blackwell, M. D., youngest daughter of Samuel C. and Rev. Antoinette B. Blackwell, by our minister, Rev. Robert Collyer, at her residence, 139 W. 64th Street, New York City. Our son, Samuel Blackwell Robinson, was born March 11th, 1902, in this city.

Address: 157 W. 74th, New York.

BENJAMIN LINCOLN ROBINSON.

During the last five years I have continued to hold the position of Curator of the Gray Herbarium of Harvard University, being appointed in January, 1900, to the newly endowed Asa Gray Professorship of Systematic Botany. As to clubs, societies, public addresses, etc., about which our Class Secretary inquires, I find that like gray hairs they increase from year to year without making us feel any older. I have served my second term of three years as councillor in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, have been for some time a member of the Washington Academy of Science, and in 1900 president of the Botanical Society of America,—all very dignified associations, but for real enjoyment not up to the New England Botanical Club where half the evening is devoted to the most delectable of all plants, Nicotiana. Two years ago I spent the summer most delightfully in exploring, with Mrs. Robinson, the most charming parts of rural France. I am sorry to say, during the last few years I have met but few '87 men, except the contingent, happily rather large, which our class sent into the academic career. One summer, not long ago, Bean turned up at a small town in New Hampshire, where I was spending my vacation. He maintained that he was in the region to attend to some important legal business, but, however this may have been, the law suit quickly succumbed to the outing suit, and we had several jolly tramps together and exchanged such '87 news as we had on hand. I may say, parenthetically, that Bean now unites the weighty mien of the homme d'affaires with the nonchalance of the confirmed bachelor. The other evening I saw some of our illustrious M. D.'s (Blake and Ames) breaking away from all recollection of their goulish profession and dancing in a light-hearted manner, with their wives. I believe, at one of the University Assemblies.

Address: Gray Herbarium, Cambridge.

JAMES HARVEY ROBINSON.

Since last writing I have continued to enjoy the advantages of a somewhat exceptional university position. I have at Columbia every facility for good work; only advanced students and no more of them than I can easily take care of, stimulating colleagues, a fine library, plenty of money for new books and much time to myself.

I have published, with the collaboration of Mr. H. W. Rolfe, now of Leland Stanford, "Petrarch, the First Modern Scholar and Man of Letters," (Putnams, 1898), of which pleasant things have been said. I am now about sending to press a History of Mediaeval and Modern Europe, designed for high schools and colleges (Ginn & Co.). I have spent several years upon this and trust that it makes some of the great matters clearer than do the existing text-books. It certainly leaves out altogether many trifling names and episodes which have hitherto plagued the defenceless pupil. I have in hand a companion volume of "Historical Readings" which I trust will enliven the text and aid the teacher. MacMillans have announced another little book of mine, "The Genesis of Modern Constitutions," to be made up largely of papers on constitutional questions which I have already published here and there.

For over a year (February, 1900 to May, 1901) I acted as dean ad interim of Barnard College. For the past five years I have greatly enjoyed belonging to the Century Club of New York.

Permanent address: Columbia University, New York City.

THOMAS JOHNS ROBINSON.

In reply to the circular letter for the Class Report, I have not much of special interest to offer. Since the last record I have been practising medicine in Taunton; was City Physician from 1898 to 1901, and am still on the staff of the local hospital.

Nothing otherwise noteworthy.

Address: 66 Broadway, Taunton.

*WILLIAM SANFORD ROBINSON.

William Sanford Robinson, died at Omaha, Neb., after a short illness of pneumonia, on March 29, 1902. Robinson was born at South Yarmouth, Mass., on June 29, 1865. When quite young his family moved to Quincy, Mass., where he attended the public schools until the fall of 1879, when he entered Adams Academy, graduating there with the class of 1883. He entered Harvard College in the fall of 1883, graduating in 1887.

In college Robinson was a quiet, manly fellow, a conscientious student, and much interested in athletics, rowing for several seasons with the class crew squads. The two years subsequent to his graduation, he spent at the Harvard Laboratory doing special work in chemistry. In the summer of 1889 he came to Omaha as assistant chemist in the laboratory of the Union Pacific Railroad Company. This department was abolished in 1890 and Robinson immediately opened a private laboratory in Omaha. In 1895 the Union Pacific R. R. Co. re-established its chemical bureau and Robinson was made Chief Chemist, and afterwards he was appointed Engineer of the Department of Tests. These two positions he filled with credit and to the high satisfaction of his superior officers until his untimely death.

On July 5, 1899, he married Miss Gertrude Rutgers Ringwalt of Omaha, who survives him. He was a member of the Pi Eta Society, of the American Chemical Society, of the Harvard Club of Omaha and of the Omaha Club. Robinson was a man of force, fine ability, high culture and sterling character. His death is a great loss, not only to his friends but to the entire community in which he lived. A. C. S.

EMERY HERMAN ROGERS.

Replying to your inquiry about my life for the past five years, I beg to advise you that I have been since the spring of '97 at Chestnut Hill. I have two children, Emery H., Jr., now aged 8, and Constance, aged 5. My business is the care of several estates, of which I am either trustee or the executor. I am a member of the Country Club, Brookline, the Chestnut Hill Club, the University Club of Chicago, and the Alexander Club of Cairo, Illinois. About all the traveling that I have done has been in the way of three or four trips a year to Chicago, and then down through the Mississippi valley as far as southern Arkansas, and occasionally to New Orleans.

Address: 19 Exchange Place, Boston.

JAMES SAVAGE RUSSELL.

Resides at Milton, Mass. Business, real estate. Married May 21, 1902, to Emily Tyson, daughter of Rev. James DeWolf Perry, at Germantown, Pa.

Address: 31 State, Boston.

PHILIP SIDNEY RUST.

Running hurriedly through your various suggestions as to points on which to write, would say that I still live in West Roxbury, and am still married; my wife's maiden name, residence and names of her parents, I think, were incorporated in your last report. Since that report one child has been added to my family, a boy, whose name is Philip Goodnough Rust, born April 13th, 1900. My business has continued to be the practice of the law, principally, however, in recent years as attorney for the National Surety Co. and the Maryland Casualty Co.

Address: 23 Whittemore, West Roxbury.

ROBERT DEWOLFE SAMPSON.

Born April 14, 1865. Died July 9, 1895. See 4th Report, p. 129.

WILLIAM SAULSBURY.

Has not reported.

HENRY SCHOFIELD.

Is Assistant Corporation Counsel for the City of Chicago, also Instructor in the Northwestern University Law School.

Address: 303 City Hall, Chicago, Ill.

GEORGE MARTIN SEELEY.

For the last four years I have been engaged in the management of mines in the West.

I am not engaged or married.

I am a member of the University and Harvard Clubs in New York, besides Engineers' and Shooting clubs, elsewhere.

Address: care University Club, New York.

FRANK HAROLD SELLERS.

1. Trust Officer, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., Chicago, until 1901. Now Receiver of Chicago General Railway Co., also managing certain estates and properties.

2. Married December 20, 1899, to Mary A. Morley of Saginaw, Mich., daughter of John R. and Catherine B. Morley.

5. Chicago Club; University Club, Chicago; Chicago Literary Club; Saddle and Cycle Club, Chicago; besides some golf clubs and also associate member of art clubs and museums.

Address: 10 Astor, Chicago, Ill.

CHARLES EDWARD SHATTUCK.

Is practising law in Boston.

Address: 53 State, Boston.

EUGENE RODMAN SHIPPEN.

I am still minister of the First Parish in Dorchester, and am now in my eighth year of service in this, the oldest church in Boston.

In the summer of '97 I took a trip through Colorado and the southwest spending some time on a cattle ranch. In '98 I had several weeks of cycling in England with an Oxford man. In '99 I took my seventh trip abroad, visiting the cities of northern Italy and the Italian lakes.

April 18, 1900, I married Miss Elizabeth Herrick Blount of Washington, D. C. June 11, 1901, there was born to us a boy, whom we have named Harold Blount.

Address: 60 Virginia, Dorchester.

ARTHUR CRITTENDEN SMITH.

Replying to your circular of January 25th, would state that I am still in the wholesale dry goods business, which I have followed ever since leaving college. In October of 1897 our concern incorporated and I was elected president, which office I still hold.

I was married in Brookline, Mass., on November 2nd, 1892, to Miss Harriet Foster White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. White. I have four children, three girls and one boy. Their names and places of birth are as follows: Harriet Huntington Smith, born December 1, 1894, at Omaha, Neb.; Joseph Huntington White Smith, born August 6, 1896, at Brookline, Mass.; Helen Danforth Smith, born October 27, 1900, at Brookline, Mass.; Grace White Smith, born January 3, 1902, at Omaha, Neb.

I am a resident member of the Omaha Club, the Omaha Country Club and the Harvard Club of Omaha. I am a non-resident member of the Merchants Club of New York City, of the Reform Club of New York City, and of the Harvard Club of New York City.

I have not taken much interest in politics, but am a member of the Executive Committee of the Municipal League of the City of Omaha, and had the satisfaction of seeing every candidate which our Municipal League recommended, elected, at the recent city election, in spite of the "machine" in power.

Address: 1101 Howard St., Omaha, Neb.

CHARLES GASTON SMITH.

Since the last report I have moved to Brookline—735 Washington St. My office is still in Roxbury. I have one child, Charles Gaston Smith, Jr., born March 24, 1898. I am in the same business as at the time of the last report, conveyancing and caring for some trust property.

Address: 2389 Washington, Roxbury.

HORACE EUGENE SMITH.

Has not reported.

*SAMUEL HERBERT SMITH.

Since our last report I haven't had any more wives, children, honors, or clubs. I am still practising law at 38 Equitable Bldg., Boston, in the firm of Lowell, Smith & Lowell.

[Samuel Herbert Smith died at his home in Arlington, June 7, 1902.]

WILLIAM KANAN SMITH.

Has not reported.

JOHN LINZEE SNELLING.

Your quinquennial questions are most embarrassing to a man who "stays put," and is merely happy in the sense that he has no history. Why do you remind me that I am doing nothing,—that five years have gone and I have written no books, filled no places of honor or profit, or journeyed beyond my division?

I can, however, record the birth of a son, Henry Bigelow Williams, born on February 14th, 1899, a very welcome valentine. In all else my report of five years ago must stand as of to-day.

[Since May 1, 1902, has been Assistant Superintendent of the B. & A. R. R. and his division extended from Boston to Athol Junction.]

Address: B. & A. R. R., Boston.

FRANK CHESTER SOUTHWORTH.

Since your last report I have transferred myself from Duluth to Chicago. Four years and a half ago I became the minister of the Third Unitarian Church of this city, and in October, 1899, resigned that position to occupy the secretaryship of the Western Unitarian Conference. My headquarters were at 175 Dearborn Street, Chicago, but much of my time was spent in traveling among the Western Unitarian churches, preaching, attending and speaking at conferences and services of installation, dedication, etc. This means nearly 30,000 miles of journeying each year from Pennsylvania to the Rocky Mountains, and from Winnipeg to Louisville. It involved occasional visits to nearly all the larger cities of the Central West. I am in politics only vicariously, my wife being a member of the school board in Glencoe, where we reside. I am preparing three sons for Harvard, the youngest, Franklin Chester, Jr., born in Chicago, June 28, 1898, since I reported to you. The Harvard Club and the University Club of this city are the only social organizations in which I claim membership.

[Since the above was written he has been elected President of the Meadville (Pa.) Theological School and Dean of the Faculty.]

Address: Meadville, Pa.

WALTER RAYMOND SPALDING.

Is instructor in Music at Cambridge.

Address: Berkeley Place, Cambridge.

STEPHEN BERRIEN STANTON.

Still continues the practice of law in partnership with P. Tecumseh Sherman, under the firm name of Sherman & Stanton, at 59 Wall Street, New York City.

Address: 132 West 58th, New York.

LIVINGSTON BOYD STEDMAN.

Since your last report I have continued to reside in Seattle and to be occupied as an attorney-at-law, under a partnership entered into in 1892 between H. H. A. Hastings and myself.

2. I was married April 29th, 1891, at Chester, Pa., to Ann B. daughter of Thomas I and Emma W. Leiper.

3. We have three children, all born at Seattle: Daniel Baxter, born September 15, 1892; Lewis Leiper, born February 24, 1895; Livingston Boyd, Jr., born October 29, 1898.

5. I am a member of no clubs other than social clubs. Country Club, Firloch Club, University Club and Harvard Club.

8. I have no degrees other than Harvard, A. B. '87 and A. M. '90.

Address: Seattle, Washington.

*PEARL LAMBERT STERNBERGH.

Born January 26, 1867, and died February 8, 1892. See Third Report, p. 94.

ALBERT EUGENE STERNE.

While the last five years have been momentous ones in my career, I fear there is little of interest contained therein to those of my class who will remember me. Taken altogether these years have been full of happiness and prosperity and of some degree of success professionally.

During this time I have been able to found and carry on a large institution for the care of my nervous patients. My sanatorium is called "Norways" and is at the same time my place of address. I still remain unmarried, but as my life is full of object and interest, I do not have very much time to lead what is commonly known as "a lonely bachelor's existence."

I do not find much time to devote to the various clubs to which I belong, among which, by the way, is a most excellent University Club, the foundation of which was originally instigated by myself and of which the late ex-president, General Benjamin Harrison, was the first head.

I have never taken any active interest in politics but have the honor to be the Surgeon-General of the military force of this State, with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel on the staff of his Excellency, Gov. Durbin. Whatever other offices it is my portion to hold are purely of the professional character and all of my literary work has been along medical lines. As a physician I belong to a number of medical societies and hold the chair of "Nervous and Mental Diseases" in the College of Physicians and Surgeons in this city.

This very uninteresting letter covers such points as your recent circular to me suggested. Naturally, there are many events which have occurred in my life of the last few years which might make interesting reading, but these I prefer to leave unexplained, as they lie close to my inner, and therefore sacred, existence. We have had the good fortune to see one or two of the class of '87 as visitors in this city and as guests of our Harvard Club. Among these was Mr. Hurlbut, but we have not seen nearly as many Harvard men here as we should like to see. If any of the class of '87 do penetrate the precincts of this city, I trust they will allow me to show them some courtesies. The hospitality of "Norways" is always open to any member of our class, and, in fact, to any Harvard man.

Address: 1820 E. 10th, Indianapolis, Ind.

SAMUEL STORROW.

Is now located at Los Angeles, Cal., engaged in the practice of his profession of civil and mining engineer.

Address: 402 Douglas Blk., Los Angeles, Cal.

FRANK CALEB STOWELL.

Supplementary to the brief statements in the Secretary's last report, No. 4, relative to my marriage, previous business occupations, etc., up to the time of that report, I need only add that after continuous employment since leaving college in the Engineering and Maintenance of Way Departments of the Boston & Maine Railroad, I, on March 1, 1902, severed my connection with the latter company to accept appointment of Road Master of the Boston Elevated Railway.

Relative to questions 7, 8 and 9—I continue in office of Secretary and Treasurer of the Eastern Maint. of Way Association, and as such officer yearly edit the proceedings of that Association—a pamphlet of about 200 pages of discussions of methods and appliances used in the maintenance of modern steam railways.

Address: Sullivan Sq. Terminal, Boston Elevated Ry. Co., Charlestown.

JOHN OSBORNE SUMNER.

Since the publication of your last report I have continued to teach history at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In May, 1900, I was married to Mary Shreve Hutchinson, daughter of Emlen Hutchinson (Harv. '67), of Philadelphia. We have one child, Roger, born 23 July, 1901. Excepting a three months' trip in northern France in the summer of 1900 I have not left this country and have taken no long journeys. Our summers are usually spent in Dublin, N. H. I am a member of the Massachusetts Historical Society and of the St. Botolph and Technology Clubs.

Address: 158 Mt. Vernon, Boston.

WINTHROP TISDALE TALBOT.

There is but little for me to report. Since your last inquiries I have relinquished medical practice and for two years devoted myself wholly to laboratory work and teaching in pathology in Boston University School of Medicine. Three years ago it became possible for me to undertake the special study and care of growing boys in winter as well as summer, and I removed to my farm here, which is my home and permanent address. Here I am planning a well-equipped laboratory for medical research and here too is my summer camp for boys—Camp Asquam—which now has become a winter camp as well, for a number of my boys are with me now all through the year. The life is carefully arranged for boys from 12 to 16 whose physical growth has not been so satisfactory as their mental needs demand. I have two daughters, Frances Williams Talbot, born Aug. 10, 1900, and Emily Talbot, born Dec. 23, 1901.

My writing has been confined to medical articles and communications to the daily press. I have made a number of addresses before societies.

Address: Holderness, N. H.

ELWOOD GARDNER TEWKSBURY.

Is Vice-President of the North China College, Tungcho, Pekin, China. He was at home on furlough, 1898, returning in the autumn of 1899. At the time of the Boxer trouble in 1900, the college and all the buildings connected with the Mission at Tungcho were destroyed. He and his family with his associates escaped to Pekin, and were there during the siege.

He was appointed by the British Minister, Sir Claude MacDonald, Chairman of the General Committee of Superintendence, while the foreigners and refugees were imprisoned in the British legation, until the relief of August 14th. He remained in Pekin in charge of Tungcho Mission, refugees, indemnities, etc., until June, 1901, when his health failing, he with his family went to Japan. He remained there until October, receiving much benefit, his health being quite restored.

Since October he has been in Pekin, resuming college work, temporarily established there, and making arrangements for its permanent re-establishment at Tungcho, where he is now engaged in the rebuilding of same with improved conditions and plans, encouraged to do so by the present favorable attitude of Chinese towards educational institutions.

Address: care Spalding & Tewksbury, 200 Summer, Boston. ton.

AARON CLAFLIN THAYER.

Since the last class report I have continued in the practice of the law at No. 44 Pine St., New York City. The firm was Pinney, Thayer & Van Slyke until May 10, 1902, when it was joined by John P. O'Brien, and is now Pinney, O'Brien, Thayer & Van Slyke. I am still unmarried. Have joined no clubs since the last report, have addressed no public meetings and have taken no active part in politics beyond voting regularly and attending primaries. I took a short trip to England and the continent in the summer of 1900, but with that exception have remained pretty constantly in New York.

Address: 44 Pine, New York, N. Y.

HENRY ADAMS THAYER.

Has not been heard from. The Secretary would be glad to have any member send him any information he may have.

CHARLES SPROULL THOMPSON.

Appointed Commercial Agent of the Illinois Central Railroad for the State of Texas, Oct. 8th, 1900. Married Ruth Gage Frost in Chicago, April 20, 1901. A daughter, Priscilla Abbot, born in Chicago, March 12, 1902. Vacations spent in exploring and mountaineering in the Canadian Rockies.

Address: Box 513, Dallas, Tex.

ERNEST ALEXANDER THOMSON.

Has not replied.

BARCLAY TILTON.

Has not reported. Resides at Chestnut Hill, Mass.

Address: 7 Congress, Boston.

ROBERT TRUSLOW.

Is still practising law in New York at the same address: Lord's Court Building, 27 William Street. Reports an article on newspaper life and work in the New York Observer and a few other publications, anonymous for the most part, in other newspapers and periodicals. Clubs: Harvard of New York, Barnard and University of Brooklyn.

Address: 150 Montague, Brooklyn.

JOSEPH BROWN THOMAS TUTHILL.

I still live in Salem, Oregon, where I am manager of the Gas Company. Since the last report two children have come into my family, Mary Van Wyck, born April 6th, 1898, and David Bogert, born July 23, 1901. I have recently taken the Masonic degrees in the Royal Arch Chapter. Have taken no part in politics except to generally vote the Republican ticket. Last December I was elected Master of Pacific Lodge, No. 50, A. F. & A. M.

I know of no other circumstances or experiences that would be of interest to the class.

Address: 406 Cottage, Salem, Oregon.

GEORGE HERMAN TUTTLE.

Is practicing medicine at East Cambridge, Mass. Writes:

There has been no change in my affairs worth recording since the last report.

Address: 57 Otis, E. Cambridge.

ALFRED LEE TYLER.

Replying to your circular letter enquiring as to my doings since your last class report would say that since that date, and, in fact, for the last fifteen years I have been here in Anniston pretty steadily looking after various cotton and iron interests and making trips at intervals in different parts of the country on business or for pleasure. Beyond this I can think of nothing to say that would be of any interest to the class.

Address: Anniston, Ala.

FRANK VOGEL.

Is still a member of the faculty of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Is a member of the Boston School Committee.

Address: Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

THEODORE CRAMER VON STORCH.

Has not reported.

FRANK LAWSON WALKER.

Has not reported.

JOSEPH EUGENE WALKER.

Has not reported.

EUGENE CARROLL WEBSTER.

When our last report was issued I was pastor of the Trinity Congregational Church in Dorchester, Mass. I resigned my charge there in the summer of 1899 and was immediately appointed to be the editor of the "Volume of Proceedings" of the Second International Congregational Council which was to meet in September of that year and of which I was made recording secretary. At that time I was assistant secretary of the General Association of the Congregational Churches of Massachusetts, and upon the death of the secretary last August, I succeeded to that office. In October I was re-elected assistant secretary of the National Council of the Congregational Churches of the United States. For two years it was my privilege to be the recording secretary of the American Missionary Association.

In 1898 I made a trip to the Pacific coast, going via Denver and Salt Lake City to Portland, Tacoma and Seattle, returning via the Yellowstone Park.

In the fall of 1901 I assisted in the organization of the Boston Temperance Federation and became its secretary, with office in the Congregational House, 14 Beacon St. At present I am living in Jamaica Plain.

Address: Congregational House, 14 Beacon, Boston.

ALONZO ROGERS WEED.

I believe there is no change in my case since I last reported to you, save in these particulars that I have a daughter—Anne Atwater Weed, born January 22, 1899—and have for the last three years been a member of the Board of Aldermen of Newton, and am this year its president.

Address: 113 Devonshire, Boston.

WINTHROP WETHERBEE.

1. Residence: 43 Bay State Road, Boston. Occupation since June, 1889, Treasurer of the Boston and Columbia Gold Dredging Company—operating government concessions in the Republic of Colombia, South America.

2. Married in Boston, February 6, 1901, to Alice Harding Clark, daughter of Benjamin Cutler Clark (H. C. '53) and Adeline Kinnicutt (Weld) Clark, of Boston.

5. University Club, Boston. Resigned from the Mass. Vol. Militia in January, 1901, as Captain.

Address: as above (No. 1) or P. O. Box 3493, Boston.

ARTHUR WILLIAM WHEELWRIGHT.

Is an architect with an office in Boston. Unmarried. Member of the Country Club of Brookline and New Riding Club of Boston.

Address: 129 Beacon, Boston.

SUMNER WHEELER WHITE.

Is an importer and commission merchant of chemicals as when last reported.

Address: 45 Cedar, New York.

GEORGE GILL WHITELAW.

1. Residence: St. Louis, Mo. Occupation: Wholesale grocer. Name of firm: Scudder-Gale Grocer Co.

2. Was married October 16, 1889, to Fredrika Lee Allison of Nashville, Tenn., daughter of Mathew Cory Allison and Frances Ekin Allison.

3. No children.

5. Member of Mercantile and St. Louis Country Club.

6. Voted twice for McKinley, having always voted the Democratic ticket before.

11. A number of small journeys about this country.

Address: Scudder-Gale Grocer Co., St. Louis, Mo.

BENJAMIN WHITNEY.

Has not reported.

FRANK BEECHER WIESTLING.

I have this day received your request, under date of January 25th, 1902, that I write you a few lines regarding my whereabouts, habits of living, and of my sins and virtues for the past five years.

In response thereto, I have to say that I am still living in Seattle, Washington, U. S. A., having resided here continuously since April, 1889. I am still engaged in the practice of law, and for the past seven years have been a member of no law partnership. I have taken a moderately active part in local politics, but have never personally sought any public office.

I have two children, both girls, one of the age of eight years, and the other hardly four years of age. These are the only children that I have ever had. I wrote you for previous publication the data, regarding my marriage, etc. My present address is 61 and 62 Boston Block, Seattle, Wash., and at any time I should be pleased to see any of my classmates here, or should be pleased at any time to answer any letters touching the great Northwest and the Pacific coast.

We Seattle men think we have the best city on the coast, not even barring San Francisco. There are a good many Harvard men residing in the State of Washington, and we have in Seattle a Harvard Club of goodly membership.

We are expecting President Elliot here shortly, and are making preparations to show him our appreciation of him, as a man and a scholar. With very kindest regards to yourself and any of my former classmates.

Address: 61 Boston Blk., Seattle, Wash.

WALDO WICKHAM WILLARD.

Has not reported.

HARRY JOHNSON WOOD.

Continues in the commission, flour and grain business.

Address: 707 Chamber of Commerce, Boston.

JAMES HOUGHTON WOODS.

Since the last report I have continued at the University as Instructor in Anthropology and, for this last year, as Instructor in Philosophy. My work has been on Comparative Religion. I have been made a member of the American Oriental Society and of the American Entomological Association, and I have published a book and some articles in reviews.

Address: 2 Chestnut, Boston.

RICHARD AUGUSTUS ZEREGA.

1. In May, 1898, entered United States Navy as Assistant Paymaster. Received honorable discharge in October, 1898. In January, 1900, engaged in the business of rope manufacturing.

5. Civil Service Reform Association, City and Harvard Clubs of New York, Wellington Club of London, England.

6. I have always taken as active interest in politics as my business permitted.

7. Assistant Paymaster, U. S. N., May, 1898-Oct., 1898.

Address: Harvard Club, 27 W. 44th, New York.

OSCAR THEODORE ZINKEISON.

Is at present in Europe on a vacation and on business. He went abroad last September and will probably return in the fall. He is a member of the firm of Zinkeisen & Co. of New York and Chicago, importers of chemicals, etc. He is unmarried.

Address: Pullman Building, Chicago, or No. 26 Cliff St., New York.

TEMPORARY MEMBERS.

A brief account is given below of those temporary members of 1887, and those whose social relations were especially with '87, who have answered any of the Secretary's circulars, or of whom he has been able to learn anything.

ELISHA HUNT ALLEN.

Residence: 116 West 82d St., New York City.

Firm: Allen, Sand & Co., 7 Pine St.

Occupation: Bankers.

Unmarried.

Member of New York Athletic Club and New York Stock Exchange.

Address: 7 Pine, New York.

WINTHROP FOREST ATWOOD.

I am with Atwood Brothers, manufacturers of wooden boxes. I belong to several Masonic societies, one of which is the Old Colony Commandery of Abington, and the only office, outside of my business, which I have ever held was Chairman of the Republican Town Committee.

I was married to May Helen Vaughn of Whitman and we had one child, Dorothy, who died in infancy.

Address: E. Whitman.

THOMAS JENNINGS BAILEY.

1. In 1897 I removed from Seattle, Wash., to my former home, Clarksville, Tennessee, and there resumed the practice of law. In the fall of that year I formed a partnership with Mr. R. H. Burney under the firm name of Burney & Bailey, which was terminated by the death of Mr. Burney in the spring of 1899. My health was bad for some time and in the summer of 1901 I moved to a farm near Sailor's Rest, Tenn., and lived there until Dec., 1901. I then moved here (Nashville) and have entered into a partnership in the practice of law with Mr. Robert Lush (Yale '96) under the name of Bailey & Lush.

2. Was married at Nashville, February 8, 1898, to Lucy O'Bryan of Nashville, daughter of George Gordon O'Bryan and Lucinda Bryan.

3. I have one child, Elizabeth Margaret Bailey, born at Clarks-ville, Tenn., Aug. 27, 1899.

Address: Nashville, Tenn.

*CONWAY RATHBONE BROWN.

Died Dec. 31, 1883.

JOHN DEAN BROWN.

Your circular addressed to the members of the class of 1887 is before me, and brings to mind vividly how fast the years are passing. I can scarcely realize that it is five years since the last report was issued. There is not a great deal that I have to add to the last report. I have continued during these years the practice of law in association with my father and brother, and have been at least fairly successful.

I have never held or sought any office or taken any part in politics, other than as an individual voter in the Republican party.

I have made one or two trips to the South and West, but of no considerable duration of time.

I was married on the 2nd day of June, 1898, to Helen Dorothy Shepard, daughter of Otis Shepard and Clara Westlake Shepard. I have one child, 19 months old, born on the 26th of June, 1900—Dorothy Westlake Brown.

My health has been uniformly good, and I am glad to report that there have been no deaths among the members of my family.

I am greatly interested in the coming report, and hope that the years have dealt as kindly with the other members of '87 as with me.

Address: P. O. Box 354 Pittsburg, Pa.

THOMAS MARSHALL BROWN.

I have continued to reside since the last report at the corner of Liberty and Pacific Avenues, Pittsburg, Pa. Our law firm has been changed to A. M. Brown & Sons, composed of A. M. Brown, John D. Brown (class of '87) and myself. I am still unmarried. I am a member of the Allegheny County Bar Association and of the Americus Republican Club of Pittsburg. I have taken a lively interest in political matters, and stumped for McKinley in 1900, making many speeches throughout the county of Allegheny. I was nominated and elected a member of Councils of Pittsburg from my home ward (20th) by the Citizen's party at the municipal election on Feb. 18, 1902.

Address: 433 Fifth Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

*RULUFF STERLING CHOATE.

Born September 25, 1864. Died April, 1884. See 1st Report, p. 104.

*ARTHUR COCHRANE.

Died Aug. 17, 1889. See 2nd Report, p. 70.

ALBERT DUDLEY DAVENPORT.

I am still with the Jordan, Marsh company as a bookkeeper; am also a farmer in a small way. I have neither married nor joined any clubs or societies; my only part in politics is to vote at different elections and town meetings; my journeys are twice a day between Boston and Bridgewater.

Address: 45 North, Bridgewater, Mass.

WILLIAM EDWARD DAVIS.

My life since I last wrote you has been uneventful and I can think of nothing that it would interest the class to write. I am still practising law as a member of the firm of Cobb & Davis at the address given you in my last letter.

Address: 37 Elwood Bldg., Rochester, N. Y.

THOMAS CLELAND DAWSON.

Has not reported. When last heard from he was Secretary of the American Legation at Brazil. Was married on April 5th, 1900, at St. Andrew's Church, Westminster, to Luiza Guerra-Duval Murray of Rio de Janeiro.

Address: 300 Strugart Blk., Council Bluffs, Ia.

*HARRIE BEEKMAN DRAKE.

Born May 23rd, 1864. Died August 27th, 1894. See 4th Report, p. 168.

*EDWARD FOX FESSENDEN.

Born April 22, 1866. Died March 11, 1887. See 1st Report, p. 105.

WILLIAM YALE FOX.

"No change since last class report." Is practising medicine in Taunton.

Address: 26 Second, Taunton.

WILLIAM WADE GRINSTEAD.

My allotment of space in the forthcoming class report need not be large. I can contribute nothing to your statistics of the family and home, being still a bachelor, with excellent prospects of remaining indefinitely in that state. I can boast of no achievements in politics; the voice of my country has never called me to public office; the pleasures of travel in this and other lands have been denied me. As regards social affiliations I am a member of the University Club and a director in the Glen View Club.

I have withdrawn recently from the general practice of the law, and am now a dealer and broker in bonds, mortgages and other investment securities. My office and permanent address is, Royal Insurance Building, Chicago.

DANIEL PAINE GRISWOLD.

Herewith is a brief outline of my career during the fifteen years past. About all that I have accomplished is to have traveled a good many miles and seen thoroughly many interesting places.

I married, the 25th of January, 1888, Annie Robe, daughter of James B. and Eliza Robe of Nottingham, England. I studied law at the Columbia Law School and in the office of Seward, DeCosta and Guthrie in New York for nearly three years and then got tired of it.

In October, 1892, went abroad and remained there the greater part of the time till 1900, making Brittany our headquarters, though I made two or three trips over here meantime. Traveled very extensively in France and made several trips to other countries, including Italy, San Marino, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary and Bohemia, Germany, Holland and Belgium, Spain, Algeria, Tunis, England, Ireland and the Channel Islands, Greece, Turkey and Turkey in Asia, and Servia and Bulgaria. Spent the winter of 1900-01 in Lenox, Mass., and in May, 1901, to France again where we remained till November, and then returned to Lenox, where we expect to settle for keeps.

I have no degrees and no children and have not bothered politics or positions of honor or made any public addresses. Am a member of the Racquet Club, the "Players" Club and Harvard Club of New York, The "Lenox" Club and The Stockbridge Golf Club.

My main interest lies in my collection of drama, dramatic biography, prints, play bills, autograph letters, etc., etc.

Address: Lenox, Mass.

RICHARD HODGES GUSHEE.

A very few words will answer your questions in my case. I was stationed here (Ontario, Cal.) by my bishop six years ago and made parish priest three years ago.

Permanent address: Ontario, Cal.

BENJAMIN BYRON HOFFMAN.

In answer to your questions for insertion in the class report, I send you the following:

1. Residence, New York City and Paris, France. Occupations: Superintendent of the Baron de Hirsch Trade Schools. I resigned in 1893. Afterwards Secretary of the Manhattan Electric Storage Battery Co., Assistant Secretary "The Lactroid Co."

2. Married in 1894, on September 8th, at the United States Consulate, 32 Avenue de l'Opera, Paris, France, to Henriette Ivonne Brille of Paris, France. Her mother's name, Babette Brille, her father's, Samuel Brille.

3. Have no children.

5. Harvard Club, New York Electrical Society.

9. Author of the "Sloyd System of Wood-working," published by the American Book Co.

11. Have traveled extensively in Europe. Spent two years in Sweden, Norway and Iceland. Lived one year in France.

12. Address: 60 Broadway, or The Sterling, 203 West 113th St., or Care August Belmont & Co., 23 Nassau St., New York City.

JOHN HOWLAND LOTHROP.

I think my last report to you must have been made while I was located at Pittsburg, Pa.

I left that city July 1st, 1898, for Portland, Ore., where I remained until Jan. 1st, 1901, as general agent of the Union Pacific. On Jan. 1st, 1901, I was transferred to New York City as general Eastern agent of the Portland & Asiatic Steamship Co. On March 1st, 1901, I came to St. Louis as general agent of the Union Pacific R. R.

In reply to question No. 5, I am a member of the Mercantile Club and the Cabanne Club of St. Louis. There is nothing new that I can add in reply to your other questions.

Address: U. P. R. R. Co., 903 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

*WILLIAM DOMINICK LYNCH.

Born Aug. 9, 1865. Died June 18, 1889. See 2d Report, p. 75.

*IRVING SAMUEL MEREDITH.

Born Feb. 28, 1865. Died May 8, 1894. See 4th Report, p. 171.

WALLACE NUTTING.

I continue pastor of Union Congregational Church of this city. The church has grown to above a thousand members, and tolerates my pastorate beyond my expectation, seven years now. My family, as in last report, continues to consist of my wife and my mother. My membership in clubs I restrict to my church and ministerial brotherhoods and co-operate membership of the American Board.

My public addresses have consisted of lectures on religious themes before the Congregational Clubs of Providence (of which I was two years president), of Worcester, Brockton, Fitchburg, Newton, Salem, Peoria, Ill., Puget Sound, Washington, etc.

Have made a journey to Europe and to the Pacific coast. Built the house we occupy as a manse.

I doubt if the above is of any interest. I furnish it under protest.

Address: 211 Wentworth Ave., Providence, R. I.

EDWARD WARREN ORDWAY.

I married Mary C. Kingsley, daughter of Silas and Julia R. Kingsley, of Buffalo, N. Y., April 17, 1895, and have lived since then in New York and Brooklyn. I am not in business, but have been much interested in social reform work of various kinds. For the past three years I have been secretary of the N. Y. Anti Imperialist League. We have spent much time in travel. In '98 a year's trip to India, China and Japan, and frequent visits to Europe, some eleven in all since college days. Although I find life vastly interesting there is little to tell that would be of interest to others, so I will spare your time and patience.

Address: 1093 Dean, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WILBUR SANFORD POND.

At the time of the last report, he was in Brooklyn, N. Y. A letter sent to him in April has been forwarded to an address in Chicago and returned to the secretary. If any member of the class has any information about him, the secretary would be glad to receive it.

WILLIAM BACON SCOFIELD.

I am still manager of the Worcester Thread Co. and have changed only in age since the last report.

I am firm in the conviction, however, that I have deserved a wife and children, that I should have held offices of profit, honor and trust, that degrees should have been conferred upon me—in short, I see no reason why all the good things mentioned in your circular should not have come my way. None of them has, but Time at any rate has been unable to take from me some things I cherish, and among the best of these is, and always will be, my interest in the class of '87.

Address: Worcester Thread Co., Worcester.

THOMAS BLYTHE SCOTT.

Has not replied.

Address: The Chicago Club, Chicago, Ill.

EDWARD SAMUEL SPALDING.

Is practising law in Boston, as at the time of the last report.

Address: 5 Tremont, Boston.

FRANK HENRY STANYAN.

On the editorial staff of the Boston Globe; residence, 76 Boston Ave., West Medford, Mass., one wife and one child.

Address: Boston Globe office, 244 Washington, Boston.

EDWARD BIXBY STEWART.

His father writes, April 21, 1902, in response to the secretary's inquiry:

In reply to the above I can report nothing except that my son lives in retirement at Middleton, there being no great improvement in his mental condition. There seems to be little hope of his regaining complete sanity, though in many ways he is companionable.

CHARLES HOWARD STRONG.

I am still a member of the law firm, Peckham, Warner & Strong, 111 Broadway, New York City. My partners are William G. Peckham, Harvard '67, and John DeWitt Warner, a Cornell trustee.

The last report duly chronicled the birth of my only child, but failed to give her name and date of birth, which are, Margaret Longfellow Strong, August 24th, 1887.

Membership in clubs or societies is confined to the City Club, Harvard Club and Bar Association. Politics, as ever, has been fascinating. Public office I have never held; and, for fear of misconstruction, I may add, have never aspired thereto.

I believe that at the date of the last report I was a member of the committee of citizens "whose object was to organize a new municipal party." In the spring of 1898 this became the Citizens' Union, which performed so conspicuous and worthy a part in the last campaign. Mr. Low was one of the four choices of the Union for mayor. (Mr. Warner, by the way, was another of the four.) Mr. Low won his nomination through negotiations, inaugurated and presided over by the Citizens' Union. His opponent, Mr. Shepard, in a recent number of the Atlantic, states that not only was the nomination of Mr. Low due to the Citizens' Union, but also was his own; meaning, modestly, that if the Union had not brought about the nomination of so distinguished a citizen as Mr. Low, the opposition party would not have been called upon to put forth its best man.

At present I am serving as chairman of the New York County Committee of the Citizens' Union, as a member of the New York City Committee of the Republican Party, and as a member of the Board of Trustees of the City Club.

Address: 571 Park Avenue, New York City.

*STANLEY MAJOR TODD.

Born August 16, 1864. Died January 30, 1890. See 2d Report, p 77.

JOSEPH SWIFT WHISTLER.

My life is supremely uneventful, passed as it is entirely in the country, absolutely devoid of all business, professional or political interests.

1. My home is in Lenox, Mass.
2. I married on April 2, 1888, Florence Fuller of Cambridge, Mass., daughter of the late William Henry Fuller and Elizabeth Hastings Fuller.
11. I have made unimportant journeys in this and other countries of personal interest only.
12. "Plumsted," Lenox, Mass.

CHARLES LIVY WHITTLE.

Continues his business as a mining engineer.

Address: 7 Exchange Pl., Boston.

CLASS MEETINGS.

There have been no meetings of the class since the last report, except the usual informal gatherings on Commencement Day. Fifty-one Thayer has usually been our headquarters. No business has been transacted.

The only occasion on which any large body of the class has acted upon any matter of interest, was at the annual dinner of last year, when at the suggestion of the class committee, a committee of sixteen was decided upon, to whom the entire charge of the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of our graduation was entrusted. The committee are:

W. Alexander, J. W. Bartol, W. A. Brooks, Jr., A. C. Coolidge, W. Endicott, Jr., J. B. Fletcher, G. P. Furber, S. A. Houghton, B. S. Hurlbut, C. E. Loud, F. S. Mead, E. J. Rich, E. H. Rogers, C. E. Shattuck, J. L. Snelling, W. Wetherbee.

The committee organized by the choice of Endicott as chairman and Mead as secretary.

At the same dinner the subject of our class making some gift to the college, as a memorial of our fifteenth anniversary, was very fully discussed, and it was the enthusiastic opinion of the men present that we should give a gate with a section of the new fence around the yard.

It was therefore voted to leave it to the class committee to make an appeal to the class as a whole for the money necessary to build this gate.

The class committee has issued such an appeal, and will report the whole matter to the class at the meeting to be held at Commencement this year.

CLASS DINNERS.

Following the plan suggested by the class committee in its circular of February 15, 1898, informal dinners have been held each year, at "Marliave's," Bosworth St., Boston. There have been no "speeches." Two years ago there was an informal and very profitable discussion of the candidates for the Board of Overseers, and last year the "Gate" and the fifteenth anniversary were discussed.

THE CLASS FUND.

Since the last report three new subscriptions have been added, making the whole amount subscribed to the Class Fund $10,006.35. Not all of this has been paid in, however; $470 will never become available because of the death of the subscribers, and this amount, therefore, has been charged to Profit and Loss. The class committee hoped to be able to report at this time that all the subscriptions had been paid in, and to this end wrote to every delinquent member. A number of the men responded, but the list is far from complete. Thirty-seven men are still in arrears, as shown by the following table:

12 men have paid nothing and owe.....	$725 00
9 men owe 4 installments.....	248 09
8 men owe 3 installments.....	156 00
5 men owe 2 installments.....	100 00
3 men owe 1 installment	19 00
	$1,248 00

The committee regrets very much that they have been unable to collect so large a part of the fund subscribed and call your attention again to the appeal of the secretary in the last report

"The Secretary and the Class Committee urge every one of these men to complete these payments. It is only fair to the Committee and to those who have paid all they agreed to that this should be done. The Committee have planned their expenditures on the basis of these subscriptions and it is obvious that the lack of such a large amount of money is embarrassing; this becomes more apparent when one realizes that, on a basis of simple interest at four per cent, the loss in interest on July 1st of the current year (1897) was nearly five hundred dollars, enough in itself to pay the ordinary expenses at Commencement for seven years. The Class needs every dollar of this income and I beg that every man in arrears will pay in the balance of his subscription or at least begin to do so."

The receiver of the American Loan & Trust Co. of Omaha is proceeding to realize upon the security behind the Debenture Bonds of that company and has paid three dividends, amounting in all to 20 per cent of the principal. There is every reason to believe that there will be further dividends, as there is still a considerable amount of property in the hands of the receiver which is gradually being disposed of.

The Fund is now invested as follows:

American Loan & Trust Co. debentures.....	$1,600 00
Five Cents Savings Bank, Boston.....	1,054 60
Franklin Savings Bank, Boston....	313 27
Suffolk Savings Bank, Boston	1,163 20
Roxbury Institution for Savings, Boston	1,127 18
Cape Ann Savings Bank, Gloucester	646 66
Cash	345 12

$6,250 03

A trial balance with the expense account somewhat extended will be found at the end of this report.

MARRIAGES, BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

MARRIAGES.

Abbot, E. S.....	*Frances L. Smith.....	July 5, 1897.
	Died July 16, 1898.
Abbott, S.....	Madeline White.....	June, 1893.
Ames, J. L.....	Elizabeth J. McGeachey.....	Oct. 25, 1893.
Appleton, W. C.....	Edna Marlon Turner.....	June 25, 1895.
Ashe, G. M.....	Julia Bolado.....	Dec. 2, 1891.
Atwood, W. F.....	Helen Vaughn.....
Austin, W.....	Mabel Linsley Frazer.....	June 17, 1897.
Bailey, T. J.....	Lucy O'Bryan.....	Feb. 8, 1898.
Baker, G. P.....	Christina Hopkinson.....	Aug. 16. 1893.
Baker, W.....
Bartol, J. M.....	Charlotte H. Cabot.....	Oct. 2, 1900.
Baum, A. R.....	Loulu Scott.....	July 31, 1888.
Bemis, H. H.....	Esther Glenny.....	Oct. 11, 1898.
Berensen, B.....	Mary Costelloe.....	Dec. 29, 1900.
Bingham, H. H. C.....	Ora Bardwell Hill	Dec. 26, 1893.
Bisbee, E.....	Blanche S. Roberts.....	Oct. 30, 1895.
Black, W. H.....	Ada Dravo.....	June 19, 1888.
Blake, J. B.....	Anne Hastings.....	Oct. 25, 1899.
Blodgett, E. E.....	Mabel Louise Fuller.....	Nov. 17, 1891.
Bourne, H. C.....	*Elizabeth Fero.....	June 4. 1889.
	Died April 30, 1893.
Bowles, D. W.....	Josephine Porter.....	Dec. 1, 1891.
Boyden, W. L.....	Elizabeth Beall.....	April 22, 1902.
Bright, E.....	Mary Louise Pratt.....	May 10, 1899.
Briggs, R.....	Jennle French.....	June 27, 1893.
Brodeur, C. A.....	Mary Cornelia Latta.....	June 24, 1887.
Brooks, W. A.....	Helen M. Winchell.....	Nov. 9, 1892.
Brown, J. D.....	Helen Dorothy Shepard.....	June 2, 1898.
Browne, G. M.....	Bertha V. LaBau.....	Feb. 14, 1893.
Buck, G. F.....	*Alice Wilhoit.....	Nov. 9, 1893.
	Died June, 1895.
	Blanche E. C. Staples.....	Feb. 2, 1898.
Buckingham, E.....	Elizabeth Branton Holstein..	July 15, 1901.
Burbank, W. C.....	Louise V. Roche.....	Oct. 23, 1890.

- Burgess, T. P.....Elizabeth Slade.....
- Clarke, B. F.....*Helen Curtis Dole.....Oct. 28, 1891.
- Clarke, H. L.....*Edith Hall.....Jan. 9, 1895.
Died February, 1902.
- Coolidge, F. S.....Elizabeth Penn Sprague.....Nov. 12, 1891.
- Costello, D. T.....*Blanche C. Ritchie.....June 16, 1892.
Died March 13, 1899.
- Craig, T. C.....Lucretia Crandall Colby.....July 26, 1897.
- Currier, C. F. A.....Florence May Morton.....Dec. 26, 1892.
- Daly, E. V.....Mary E. Herrick.....Oct. 6, 1894.
- Dean, F. A.....Mary Adaline Stewart.....May 29, 1898.
- Dawson, T. C.....Luiza Guerra-Duval Murray.. April 5, 1900.
- Delone, C. J.....Helen S. Winebrener.....April 26, 1894.
- DeVeau, F. C.....Sarah Hunt Putnam.....Nov. 26, 1889.
- Droppers, G.....*Cora Augusta Rand.....Sept. 1889.
Died Aug. 17, 1896.
Jean Tewksbury Rand.....Sept. 4, 1897.
- Dudley, A. T.....Frances Perry.....July 2, 1890.
- Edgar, H. L.....Alice Bayard King.....Oct. 15, 1891.
- Elgutter, C. S.....*Nellie Rosewater.....Sept. 20, 1892.
Died July 2, 1893.
- Emery, E. S.....Charlotte M. White.....June 15, 1893.
- Endicott, W.....Helen Southworth Shaw.....June 11, 1889.
- Fiske, E.....Ethel Warren Kidder.....April 20, 1893.
- Fletcher, J. B.....Agnes Peabody Herrick.....May 30, 1893.
- Foster, C. C.....Martha Bradford Foster.....Oct. 19, 1892.
- Foster, G. W.....Mary Florence Clark.....June 26, 1901.
- Fox, W. Y.....Annie L. Paull.....Oct. 20, 1892.
- Fuller, A.....Martha Williams Crane.....Jan. 19, 1898.
- Furber, G. P.....Laura Mabel Parker.....Feb. 15, 1897.
- Ganong, W. F.....Jean Murray Carman.....April 4, 1888.
- Gardner, A. A.....Katherine T. Willets.....Aug. 22, 1892.
- Gersdorff, C. A. de....Helen S. Crowninshield.....Sept. 28, 1895.
- Gray, J. H.....Helen Rockwell Bliss.....June 14, 1894.
- Griswold, D. P.....Annie Robe.....Jan. 25, 1888.
- Hale, H. G.....Lavinia Browne.....Sept. 1, 1891.
- Hamilton, F. E. E....Mary Mackie Pierce.....April 25, 1895.
- Haskell, A. S.....Nina Smith Albee.....June 16, 1890.
- Heckscher, M.....Constance Spencer.....Jan. 10, 1893.
- Herron, W. C.....Jane Espy.....June 18, 1895.
- Hicks, L.....Paula Reno.....April 15, 1895.

- Higginson, G. *Edyth G. Griswold. May 20, 1891.
 Died July 30, 1896.
 Emily Wakem. Sept. 7, 1898.
- Hoffman, B. B. Henriette Ivonne Brille. Sept. 8, 1894.
- Holt, H. C. Elizabeth E. Gray. Sept. 11, 1892.
- Houghton, S. A. Margaret S. Beckwith. June 9, 1897.
- Howe, M. A. de W. Fanny Huntington Quincy. Sept. 26, 1899.
- Howe, W. B. Annie Howe Bean. Oct. 21, 1890.
- Hubbard, G. Sarah N. Henshaw. March 5, 1891.
- Hudson C. Edith Shannon. Nov. 29, 1893.
- Hunt, A. N. Sarah Weeks Lane. May 4, 1899.
- Hunt, T. Carrie Spelden. June 19, 1894.
- Hyde, L. F. Charlotte Pruyn. June 18, 1901.
- Jackson, J. M. Leonora Lewis. May 15, 1895.
- Johnson, L. J. Grace Allen Fitch. June 27, 1893.
- Keays, H. G. Lucy Cecelia Herad. Oct. 14, 1896.
- Kestner, C. Helen Loise McCarty. Aug. 22, 1892.
- Kimball, G. W. Grace Octavia Emery. Nov. 22, 1890.
- Knapp, G. P. Anna J. Hunt. July 2, 1890.
- Knapp, J. H. Helen L. Webster. May 22, 1888.
- Knight, A. S. Abbie F. Knight. Oct. 1, 1891.
- Knowles, J. W. Lydia Grinnell. June 13, 1900.
- Ladd, G. E. Mary O. Hammond. May 14, 1889.
- Litchfield, E. S. Ruth Rippey. August 1, 1889.
- Livermore, H. J. *Susie T. McKay. July 5, 1888.
 Died October, 1894.
 Elizabeth Hill. March, 1896.
- Lothrop, J. H. Lucille B. LaBertew. Sept. 3, 1891.
- Loud, C. E. Ellen Stanwood Cowperthwait. June 21, 1898.
- Luria, A. S. Mary E. Garlichs. Feb. 26, 1895.
- Mead, F. S. Katherine Rand. June 11, 1890.
- *Meeks, E. J. Ann C. Connable. (Fall) 1890.
- *Meredith, I. S. Lillie W. Tucker. (Spring) 1888.
- Mitchell, M. D. Elizabeth P. Ladd. Jan. 22, 1891.
- Mumford, G. S. Isabella Mason Lee. Dec. 7, 1895.
- Nay, F. N. Helen Bell Lord. April, 1894.
- Nicolson, F. W. Louise E. Wright. Sept. 9, 1891.
- Nutting, W. Mariet G. Caswell. June 5, 1888.
- Oakes, W. Mary Beekman Taylor. May 24, 1893.
- Oakman, O. B. Mary Louise French. Oct. 23, 1901.
- Ordway, E. W. Mary C. Kingsley. April 17, 1895.
- Osgood, A. H. Jennie L. Merrill. June 27, 1888.

- Palmer, E. C.....Alice Atkinson.....June 7, 1900.
 Palmer, F. S.....Beatrice Bennet.....August, 1899.
 Parker, G. H.....Louise Merritt Stabler.....June 15, 1894.
 Parmenter, F. C.....Sarah Alice Pew.....June 12, 1889.
 Peabody, H. E.....Emily S. Clough.....August 16, 1894.
 Peabody, L. R.....Constance Roddy.....June 16, 1897.
 Pear, W. H.....Fannie C. Bradley.....Oct. 22, 1890.
 Perkins, A. T.....Eva Spotswood Lemoine.....Feb. 16, 1898.
 Perkins, H. G.....Maria Theresa Tupper.....Nov. 15, 1890.
 *Perkins, S. W.....*Louise Eddy.....Nov. 11, 1889.
 Died January 27, 1892.
 Pinkham, W. S.....Isabella Southworth Foote...July 16, 1900.
 Poppleton, W. S.....*Charlotte H. Kennedy.....Oct. 17, 1888.
 Died August, 1899.
 Potter, A. B.....Florence E. Brooks.....Oct. 5, 1898.
 Power, M. S.....Velina Stevens Smith.....June 30, 1891.
 Preston, W.....Edith Hall.....Oct. 17, 1888.
 Proctor, C. S.....Ida Frances Holden.....Oct. 16, 1890.
 Proctor, F. I.....Mary L. Stevens.....Dec. 17, 1891.
 Putnam, G. J.....Helen H. White.....Oct. 15, 1891.
 Quinby, G. T.....
 Rantoul, C. W.....Caroline Endicott.....Oct. 15, 1891.
 Reynolds, P. R.....Amelia E. D. Stead.....Sept. 26, 1899.
 Rhinelander, T. N.....Katherine J. Blake.....May, 1894.
 Rich, E. J.....Mary Louise Aldrich.....Nov. 23, 1893.
 Robbins, R.....Theresa Huntington.....Nov. 14, 1888.
 Robinson, A. B.....Ethel Blackwell.....April 29, 1901.
 Robinson, B. L.....Margaret Louise Casson.....June 29, 1887.
 Robinson, J. H.....Grace Woodville Read.....Sept. 1, 1887.
 *Robinson, W. S.....Gertrude Rutgers Ringwalt...July 5, 1899.
 Rogers, E. H.....Florence Halliday.....August 24, 1892.
 Russell, J. S.....Emily Tyson Perry.....May 21, 1902.
 Rust, P. S.....Harriet Widdifield Fireng...June 2, 1894.
 *Sampson, R. DeW.....Mary Waterhouse Ware.....Nov. 24, 1893.
 Scott, T. B.....Mary Lee Clare.....June 6, 1889.
 Sellers, F. H.....Mary A. Morley.....Dec. 20, 1899.
 Sherman, F. D.....Juliet M. Durand.....Nov. 16, 1887.
 Shippen, E. R.....Elizabeth Herrick Blount....April 18, 1900.
 Smith, A. C.....Harriet Foster White.....Nov. 2, 1892.
 Smith, C. G.....Mary Eliza Lund.....Oct. 4, 1893.
 Smith, H. E.....Amelia B. Matthews.....April 29, 1891.
 *Smith, S. H.....Mary H. Horton.....Feb. 18, 1892.

Snelling, J. L.....	Christine L. Williams.....	Oct. 17, 1894.
Southworth, F. C.....	Alice Amelia Berry.....	Sept. 5, 1893.
Spalding, W. R.....	Alexandrine M. Stanton.....	April 18, 1896.
stanyan, F. H.....	Mabel A. Buttrick.....	Oct. 13, 1891.
Stedman, L. B.....	Ann B. Lelper.....	April 29, 1891.
Stowell, F. C.....	Eleanor C. Boothby.....	August 25, 1892.
Sumner, J. O.....	Mary Shreve Hutchinson.....	May, 1900.
Strong, C. H.....	Angelia L. Longfellow.....	June 28, 1893.
Talbot, W. T.....	Edith Hull Armstrong.....	Sept. 19, 1896.
Tewksbury, E. G.....	Grace Holbrook.....	May, 1889.
Thompson, C. S.....	Ruth Gage Frost.....	April 20, 1901.
Tilton, B.....	Alice B. Davidson.....	April 30, 1895.
Tuthill, J. B. T.....	Gertrude May Delamater.....	Oct. 24, 1893.
Tyler, A. L.....	Harriet W. Bond.....	Oct. 19, 1892.
Varick, T. R.....	Mary Miller.....	June 26, 1889.
Vogel, F.....	Lucia Lufkin Chaffer.....	August, 1893.
Whittle, C. L.....	Anna K. Chaplin.....	August 29, 1892.
Von Storch, T. C.....	Jessie M. Pennypacker.....	Oct. 4, 1894.
Walker, F. L.....	Henrietta B. Webber.....	Dec. 31, 1890.
Walker, J. E.....	Eva Lynn Hannum.....	June 11, 1890.
Webster, E. C.....		June 25, 1890.
Weed, A. R.....	Charlotte F. Atwater.....	April 30, 1896.
Wetherbee, W.....	Alice Harding Clark.....	Feb. 6, 1901.
Whistler, J. S.....	Florence Fuller.....	April 2, 1888.
White, S. R.....	Frances G. Crosby.....	Dec. 1, 1894.
Whitelaw, G. G.....	Fredrika Lee Allison.....	Oct. 16, 1889.
Whitney, B.....	Annie D. Perry.....	June 11, 1888.
Wiestling, F. B.....	Annie Edmunds.....	April 18, 1893.
Wilson, C.....	Kathryne J. Smith.....	Feb. 11, 1896.
Wood, H. J.....	Eleanor Murray Dorr.....	Jan. 8, 1890.

BIRTHS.

Ames, J. L.....	John Lincoln, Jr.....	July 23, 1895.
Appleton, W. C.....	William Channing, Jr.....	March 15, 1897.
Austln, W.....	*William.....
	Died Oct. 25, 1899.
	Lindsley.....
Atwood, W. F.....	*Dorothy.....
Bailey, T. J.....	Elizabeth Margaret.....	August 27, 1899.
Baker, G. P.....	John Hopkinson.....	June 30, 1894.
	Edwin Osborne.....	Feb. 21, 1896.

Baker, W.	Livingston L.
	Wakefield.
	Daughter.
Baum, A. R.	{ Charles.	{ May 4, 1889.
	{ Ethel Scott.	{
	Alexander Newcomb.	August 29, 1891.
	Dorothy Louise.	Sept. 28, 1895.
Bemis, H. H.	Ruth.	Dec. 2, 1899.
	Grosvenor.	March 17, 1902.
Bisbee, E.	Loise Roberts.	April 3, 1897.
Blodgett, E. E.	Robert Fuller.	July, 1893.
	Ruth Hartwell.	August, 1894.
	Richard Ashley.	June 27, 1897.
Blake, J. B.	Barbara.	Sept. 25, 1900.
	John Bapst, Jr.	April 3, 1902.
Bourne, H. C.	Madeleine.	Nov. 2, 1890.
	*Katherine.	April 11, 1893.
	Died June 1, 1893.
Bright, E.	Eleanor Pratt.	March 4, 1901.
Briggs, R.	Richard, Jr.	Feb. 15, 1894.
Brodeur, C. A.	Arthur Gilchrist.	Sept. 18, 1888.
	*Mary Silsby.
	Died Aug. 5, 1892.
	*Marion Marsh.	March 19, 1892.
	Died Aug. 6, 1892.
	Harold Hills.	June 25, 1894.
	Paul Evans.	May 3, 1901.
Brooks, W. A.	*Katherine.	March 10, 1895.
	Died Jan. 11, 1896.
Brown, J. D.	Dorothy Westlake.	June 26, 1900.
Buck, G. F.	*Infant.	May, 1895.
	Died May, 1895.
	George Faunce.	Dec. 15, 1898.
	Thomas Barnes.	Feb. 20, 1900.
	Samuel Dutton.	Jan. 9, 1902.
Burgess, T. P.	Elizabeth.
	Philip.
	Henry.
Clark, H. L.	Daughter.	Nov. 12, 1898.
Costello, D. T.	Daniel Holmead.	July 17, 1893.
	John Blanchard.	January 16, 1896.
	*William Joseph.	July 13, 1898.
	Died December 3, 1898.

Currier, C. F. A.	Francis Morton	July 30, 1895.
	*Charles Bennett	March 17, 1899.
	Died Feb. 13, 1900.
Dean, F. A.	Horace Stewart	August 17, 1899.
De Veau, F. C.	George Putnam	Oct. 5, 1890.
	Frederic Joseph	Feb. 23, 1894.
	Anstis Hunt	Oct. 9, 1896.
Dudley, A. T.	William Perry	July 11, 1891.
	*Gardner Blanchard	Oct. 1893.
	Died June, 1894.
	Frances Gardner	Sept. 19, 1898.
Edgar, H. L.	William	March 8, 1894.
Elgutter, C. S.	Nellie Rosalie	June 14, 1893.
Emery, E. S.	Edward Stanley, Jr.	June 25, 1894.
Fox, W. Y.	Dorothy	July 27, 1895.
Furber, G. P.	Edward Parker	Jan. 2, 1898.
Gardner, A. A.	Alfred	Nov. 8, 1896.
	Martha Willets	Oct. 26, 1899.
	Katharine Lucretia	June 21, 1901.
Gersdorff, C. A. de	Josephine	June 18, 1896.
	Alma	Nov. 25, 1897.
	Caspar Crowninshield	March 10, 1901.
Gray, J. H.	James Bliss	August 23, 1898.
	Evelyn	Feb. 22, 1901.
Hamilton, F. E. E.	Edward Pierce	Feb. 25, 1897.
	Arthur Dean	March 5, 1900.
Haskell, A. S.	Edith Anna	April 15, 1891.
	Catharine Lucy	Dec. 4, 1892.
Heckscher, M.	Constance Ledyard
	Gertrude Stevens
	Eleanor
Herron, W. C.	James Espy	August 24, 1896.
	Janet	1898.
	John	1900.
Hicks, L.	Hamilton	Jan. 6, 1896.
	*Reno	Jan. 21, 1901.
	Died Jan. 31, 1901.
Higginson, George	Roger Griswold	Feb. 2, 1894.
	*George	July 16, 1899.
	Died Sept. 22, 1901.
	Theresa	Oct. 30, 1901.

Holt, H. C.	Stephen Willard.....	May 14, 1894.
	Helen Thompson.....	Oct. 25, 1895.
Houghton, S. A.....	Henry Arnold.....	Nov. 10, 1899.
	Margaret.....	Feb. 18, 1902.
Howe, M. A. de W.....	Quincy.....	Aug. 17, 1900.
Howe, W. B.....	David Willard.....	June 22, 1892.
	Ruby.....	March 2, 1894.
	Katharine.....	Feb. 14, 1896.
	Elizabeth.....	July 11, 1898.
	George Frederick.....	July 1, 1901.
Hubbard, G.....	Katherine.....	Dec. 23, 1891.
	Gorham.....	August 6, 1896.
Hudson, C.....	Edith Frances.....	Nov. 1894.
Hunt, A. N.....	Edward Atherton.....	Dec. 14, 1900.
Jackson, J. M.....	Elinor.....	March 15, 1901.
Johnson, L. J.....	Jerome Allen.....	July 21, 1896.
Kestner, C. C.....	Helen S. E.....	Sept. 7, 1893.
Kimball, G. W.....	Ruth.....	Oct. 23, 1891.
Knapp, G. P.....	Winifred Hunt.....	March 8, 1892.
	Addison Ely.....	Nov. 2, 1894.
	Margaret Washburn.....	Sept. 7, 1896.
Knapp, J. H.....	John Holly, Jr.....	August 4, 1890.
	Valeria Adams.....	June 15, 1898.
Knowles, J. W.....	Grinnell.....	Sept. 16, 1901.
Ladd, G. E.....	George Hammond.....	August 12, 1890.
	Shaler.....	Sept. 24, 1892.
	Paul Revere.....	April 19, 1894.
	Nancy Priest.....	Nov. 23, 1895.
	George Edgar.....	Oct. 30, 1897.
	John Gardner.....	Nov. 10, 1899.
	Dorothy Devereaux.....	Sept. 8, 1901.
Litchfield, E. S.....	Virginia.....	May 10, 1894.
	Miriam de Steiguer.....	April 8, 1897.
Livermore, H. J.....	Clara Allina.....
	Gwendolen Jarvis.....	August 2, 1890.
	Catherine Hill.....	Nov. 23, 1899.
	Frederick Ames.....	July 11, 1894.
Lothrop J, H.
*Meeks, E. J.....	Daughter.....
*Meredith, I. S.....	Two children.....
Mumford, G. S.....	Isabella Lee.....
	George Saltonstall.....	Dec. 23, 1901.

Nay, F. N.	*Fletcher Warren	March 9, 1895.
	Died April 1, 1895.
	Evelyn	Oct. 20, 1896.
	Ralph Howdon	Aug. 25, 1900.
Nicolson, F. W.	Elspeth	May 30, 1902.
Oakes, W.	Mary Beekman
	Fletcher	June, 1900.
Osgood, A. H.	Herman Ashton	March 11, 1890.
	Merrill White	Jan. 31, 1892.
Parmenter, F. C.	Derick Choate	Sept. 9, 1890.
Peabody, H. E.	Stephen Clough	Jan. 18, 1896.
Pear, W. H.	William Wesley	March 25, 1900.
Perkins, A. T.	Katherine Lemoine Guy	March 23, 1901.
Perkins, H. G.	Maria Therese	Oct. 23, 1900.
*Perkins, S. W.	Constance Welsh	Oct. 4, 1890.
Poppleton, W. S.	*Andrew Jackson	Oct. 5, 1889.
	Died Jan. 10, 1896.
Potter, A. B.	Penelope	Aug. 6, 1899.
	Albert Bailey	August 26, 1900.
Power, M. S.	Madeline Louise	July 7, 1893.
	Helen Parker	June 5, 1900.
Proctor, C. S.	Horace Seward	July 20, 1891.
	Edith	Oct. 3, 1895.
Putnam, G. J.	Helen	Feb. 14, 1893.
	George	Sept. 9, 1894.
	Ruth	Oct. 9, 1901.
Quinby, G. T.	Two
Rantoul, C. W.	*Constance Endicott	Dec. 29, 1892.
	Died Jan. 27, 1902.
	Endicott	Nov. 18, 1896.
Rhineland, T. N.	Philip Newbold	Sept., 1895.
	Frederica	Dec. 29, 1898.
Robbins, R.	Royal Elisha, 2d	March 11, 1890.
	Theresa Reynolds	May 8, 1893.
Robinson, A. B.	Samuel Blackwell	March 11, 1902.
Robinson, B. L.	*Chriemhild	May 29, 1888.
	Died Oct. 6, 1896.
Rogers, E. H.	Emery H.	Dec. 3, 1893.
	Constance	Oct. 4, 1896.
Rust, P. S.	Frances Richardson	April 13, 1895.
	Phillp Goodnough	April 13, 1900.

- Scott, T. B.*.....Ann Lee.....August 3, 1894.
 Thomas Blythe.....May 7, 1896.
Sherman, F. D......Dempster Durand.....Feb. 19, 1890.
Shippen, E. R......Harold Blount.....June 11, 1901.
Smith, A. C......Harriet Huntington.....Dec. 1, 1894.
 Joseph Huntington White....August 6, 1896.
 Helen Danforth.....Oct. 27, 1900.
 Grace White.....Jan. 3, 1902.
Smith, C. G......Charles Gaston.....March 24, 1898.
Smith, H. E......Mary Christine.....April 15, 1892.
 Edith Louise.....Nov. 5, 1893.
 Smith S. H.*.....Agatha.....Jan. 5, 1893.
Snelling, J. L......Christine.....June 18, 1896.
 Henry Bigelow Williams....Feb. 14, 1899.
Southworth, F. C......Constant.....August 12, 1894.
 William Berry.....May 28, 1896.
 Franklin Chester.....June 28, 1898.
Stanyan, F. H......Starr Walker.....July 11, 1892.
Stedman, L. B......Daniel Baxter, 4th.....Sept. 15, 1892.
 Lewis Leiper.....Feb. 24, 1895.
 Livingston Boyd.....Oct. 29, 1898.
Stowell, F. C......Lorna.....May 3, 1895.
Strong, C. H......Margaret Longfellow.....August 24, 1897.
Sumner, J. O......Roger.....July 23, 1901.
Talbot, W. T......Frances Williams.....August 10, 1900.
 Emily.....Dec. 23, 1901.
Tewksbury, E. G......Malcolm Gardner.....Nov. 24, 1892.
 Donald George.....April 9, 1894.
Thompson, C. S......Priscilla Abbot.....March 12, 1902.
Tilton, B......Barbara.....March, 1897.
Tuthill, J. B. T......Gertrude.....August 8, 1894.
 Mary Van Wyck.....April 6, 1898.
 David Bogert.....July 23, 1901.
Tyler, A. L......Annie Scott.....Dec. 4, 1893.
Von Storch, T. C......Theodore William.....Dec. 24, 1895.
Walker, F. L......Eleanor Lucy.....Dec. 5, 1892.
 Katherine Annie.....July 25, 1894.
 Margaret.....Oct. 6, 1895.
Walker, J. E......Evalynn H.....Oct. 9, 1892.
Webster, E. C......Ward.....July 15, 1893.
Weed, A. R......Anne Atwater.....Jan. 22, 1899.
White, S. W......George Crosby.....Dec. 26, 1895.

Whitney, B.....	Annie.....	Dec. 31, 1890.
	Benjamin Perry.....	Oct. 7, 1892.
Wiestling, F. B.....	Daughter.....
	Daughter.....
Wilson, C.....	Evelyn Eliza.....	Dec. 6, 1896.
Wood, H. J.....	Marguerite Dorr.....	Nov. 29, 1890.
	Eleanor Muriel.....	March 22, 1895.

DEATHS.

Brown, C. R.	1883
Choate, R. S.	1884
Cochrane, A.	1889
Coolidge, H. T.	1889
Cox, B. F.	1892
Denny, D.	1896
Drake, H. B.	1894
Fessenden, E. F.	1887
Fiske, R. F.	1901
Giddings, C. I.	1893
Keep, R. W.	1897
Kuhn, H.	1902
Lynch, W. D.	1889
Meeks, E. J.	1895
Mercedith, I. S.	1894
Perkins, S. W.	1898
Robinson, W. S.	1902
Sampson, R. de W.	1895
Smith, S. H.	1902
Sternbergh, P. L.	1892
Todd, S. M.	1890
Wilson, C. A.	1888

ADDRESSES.

The Secretary should be notified at once of any change or correction in address. The addresses given are supposed to hold good until the publication of the next report, and do not, therefore, in all cases, give the present residence. Where no state is named, the state is Massachusetts. The word "street" is also omitted.

ABBOTT, DR. E. S., City Hospital, Boston.

ABBOTT, S

ADAMS, J. C.

ALEXANDER, W., 32 Nassau, New York, N. Y.

ALLISON, J. E., Nashville, Tenn.

ALLEN, E. H. Jr., 7 Pine, New York, N. Y.

ALLEN, W. S., Greenfield.

AMES, DR. J. L., 72 Chestnut, Boston.

APPLETON, W. C., 60 State, Boston.

ASHE, G. M., 2315 Sacramento, San Francisco, Cal.

ATWOOD, W. F., Whitman.

AUSTIN, W., 38 Equitable Bldg., Boston.

AYER, C. F., 87 Ames Bldg., Boston.

BACON, E., 23 Cotton Exchange, New York, N. Y.

BAILEY, F. H., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

BAILEY, T. J., Nashville, Tenn.

BAKER, PROF. G. P., Jr., 195 Brattle, Cambridge.

BAKER, W., 1882 Washington, San Francisco, Cal.

BALCOMBE, C. S., 198 W. Brookline, Boston.

BARBER, H. B.

BARRETT, N. M., Concord.

BARROW, C. E., Skaneateles, Onondaga County, N. Y.

BARTOL, DR. J. W., 48 Chestnut, Boston.

BAUM, A. R., 530 California, San Francisco, Cal.

BEAN, H. W., 11 William, New York, N. Y.

- BEMIS, H. H., 7 Congress, Boston.
- BERENSON, B., care Baring Brothers, London, Eng.
- BIGELOW, R. P., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.
- BINGHAM, H. H. C., Groton.
- BISBEE, E., 34 Pine, New York, N. Y.
- BLACK, W. H., 211 Wood, Pittsburg, Pa.
- BLAKE, DR. J. B., 212 Beacon, Boston.
- BLODGETT, E. E., 28 State, Boston.
- BORSE, C. B.
- BOURNE, H. C., care Bourne-Fuller Co., Cleveland, O.
- BOWEN, W. J.
- BOWLES, D. W., 737 American Tract Society Bldg., New York.
- BOYDEN, W. L., Beverly.
- BRAINARD, H. W., 88 Kenyon, Hartford, Conn.
- BREngle, H. G., 505 Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.
- BRIGGS, R., Care Richard Briggs Co., Boston.
- BRIGHT, E., 309 E. Water, Milwaukee, Wis.
- BRODEUR, C. A., 8 Mill, Westfield.
- BROOKS, DR. W. A., 167 Beacon, Boston.
- BROWN, J. D., P. O. Box 354, Pittsburg, Pa.
- BROWN, T. M., P. O. Box 354, Pittsburg, Pa.
- BROWNE, G. M., Jr., 44 Pine, New York, N. Y.
- BRUCE, H. G.
- BUCK, G. F., Stockton, Cal.
- BUCK, H. A., Fifth Ave. & 46th, New York, N. Y.
- BUCKINGHAM, E., University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.
- BUCKLEY, J. G., Geneseo, Livingston Co., N. Y.
- BULKLEY, E. A., 48 West Fifty-first, New York, N. Y.
- BURBANK, W. C., Sherman Sq. Hotel, New York, N. Y.
- BURGESS, T. P., Dedham.
- CAMERON, J. M., Harrisburgh, Pa.
- CARMALT, DR. C. C., 40 E. 58th, New York, N. Y.
- CARROLL, C., Ellicott City, Howard County, Md.
- CAVANAGH, L. J., Braintree.
- CHESEBOROUGH, R. M., 17 East Forty-fifth, New York, N. Y.

- CHOLLET, C., Morgantown, W. Va.
 CLARK, B. F., 378 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.
 CLARK, H. L., 160 Bullitt Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.
 COOLIDGE, PROF. A. C., Harvard University, Cambridge.
 COOLIDGE, DR. F. S., 103 State, Chicago, Ill.
 COSTELLO, D. T., care U. P. R'y Co., Omaha, Neb.
 COTTER, J. J., P. O. Drawer E., Cambridge.
 COWLING, J. V., Jr., 934 The Monadnock, Chicago, Ill.
 CRAIG, REV. T. C., Franconia, N. H.
 CUMMINGS, A. M., 21 Pierce, Malden.
 CUNNINGHAM, G., 12 Hovey, Gloucester.
 CURRIER, PROF. C. F. A., Massachusetts Institute of Technology,
 Boston.
 CURRIER, W. L., 294 Chestnut Ave., Jamaica Plain.
 CUSHMAN, C. A., 997 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge.
 DALY, E. V., Flushing, Long Island, N. Y.
 DAVENPORT, A. D., 45 North, Bridgewater.
 DAVIS, W. E., 37 Elwood Bldg., Rochester, N. Y.
 DAWSON, T. C., 300 Strugart Block, Council Bluffs, Ia., or care
 State Department, Washington, D. C.
 DEAN, REV. F. A., Tripoli, Iowa.
 DELONE, C. J., Hanover, York County, Pa.
 DE VEAU, F. C., 7 Nassau, New York, N. Y.
 DEXTER, G., 60 Equitable Bldg., Boston.
 DRESEL, E. L., 328 Beacon, Boston.
 DROPPERS, PRES. G., Vermillion, So. Dak.
 DUDLEY, A. T., Exeter, N. H.
 DUDLEY, DR. J. W., care A. T. Dudley, Exeter, N. H.
 EDGAR, H. L., University Club, Madison Square, New York, N. Y.
 ELDRIDGE, W. S., 105 Main, Watertown, N. Y.
 ELGUTTER, C. S., 204 Bee Bldg., Omaha, Neb.
 EMERY, E. S., 103 Bedford, Boston.
 ENDICOTT, W. Jr., 165 Beacon, Boston.
 FAULKNER, DR. W. E., 5 Otis Pl., Boston.
 FECHHEIMER, S. M., care M. & L. S. Fechheimer & Co., Cincinnati, O.

FISKE, E., Weston.

FLAGG, E., Mass. General Hospital, Boston.

FLETCHER, J. B., Channing, Cambridge.

FORCHHEIMER, DR. W., Fourth and Sycamore, Cincinnati, O.

FOSTER, C. C., 1702 West End Ave., Nashville, Tenn.

FOSTER, G. W., 7 Evergreen Ave., Somerville.

FOX, DR. W. Y., 26 Second, Taunton.

FREDERIKSEN, D. G. M., 184 LaSalle, Chicago, Ill.

FROST, R. W., 924 Tremont Bldg., Boston.

FULLER, A., 45 Summer, Taunton.

FURBER, G. P., 340 South Station, Boston.

GANONG, PROF. W. F., Smith College, Northampton.

GARDNER, A. A., Roslyn, Long Island, N. Y.

GARNETT, E. M., 35 Essex, San Francisco, Cal.

GERSDORFF, C. A. DE, 40 Wall, New York, N. Y.

GOEPP, M.

GOODWIN, B. L., 155 Charlesbank Road, Newton.

GRAY, PROF. J. H., Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

GRAY, W. T., Union Club, New York, N. Y.

GRINSTEAD, W. W., Royal Insurance Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

GRISWOLD, D. P., Lenox.

GUSHEE, REV. R. H., Ontario, Cal.

HALE, REV. H. G., Brookline.

HALL, C. F.

HALL, J. W., care Hall Bros., Port Blakeley, Wash.

HAMILTON, REV. F. E. E., 62 Mt. Vernon, Boston.

HARDY, A. S., 445 Beacon, Boston.

HASKELL, A. S., Roslindale.

HECKSCHER, M., Manhattan Bldg., 4th & Walnut, Philadelphia, Pa.

HENNING, S. C., 226 Fifth, Louisville, Ky.

HERRON, W. C., United Bank Bldg., Cincinnati, O.

HERVEY, W. A., Fire Headquarters, Brooklyn, N. Y.

HICKS, L., 25 Pine, New York, N. Y.

HIGGINSON, G. Jr., Winnetka, Ill.

- HILEMAN, J. B., Altoona, Pa.
 HILLEBRAND, W. K.
 HOFFMAN, B. B., 60 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
 HOLT, H. C., Winchester.
 HOOVER, DR. C. F., 282 Prospect, Cleveland, O.
 HOUGHTON, DR. S. A., 14 Pleasant, Brookline.
 HOWE, M. A. DE W., Youth's Companion, Boston.
 HOWE, W. B., Free Press, Burlington, Vt.
 HUBBARD, G., 210 Beacon, Boston.
 HUDSON, C., Borden Blk., Chicago, Ill.
 HUGHES, F. E.
 HUNT, A. N., 40 Water, Boston.
 HUNT, T., 70 State, Boston.
 HUNTINGTON, F. C., 804 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
 HURLBUT, B. S., H. 7, Cambridge.
 HYDE, L. F., 101 Milk, Boston.
 JACKSON, DR. J. M., 259 Beacon, Boston.
 JOHNSON, L. A. care Luce & Manning, 138 Federal, Boston.
 JOHNSON, L. J., 100 Avon Hill, No. Cambridge.
 JONES, F. R., Lincoln.
 JONES, L. C., 56 Summer, Malden.
 KAMINSKI, E., 476 Broome, New York, N. Y.
 KAVANAGH, PROF. F. E., New York University, New York, N. Y.
 KEAYS, H. G., Elkhart, Logan County, Ill.
 KESTNER, C., Torrington, Conn.
 KEYES, H. W., North Haverhill, N. H.
 KIMBALL, G. W., 10-16 Faneuil Hall Market, Boston.
 KNAPP, REV. G. P., Harpoot, Turkey, open mail via London and Constantinople.
 KNAPP, J. H., Menominee, Wis.
 KNIGHT, DR. A. S., 1 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
 KNOWLES, J. W., 10 Orchard, New Bedford.
 LADD, G. E., Rolla, Mo.
 LINN, W. W., Decatur, Ill.
 LITCHFIELD, E. S., care Boston Traveler, Boston.

- LIVERMORE, H. J., 40 Water, Boston.
- LOCHMAN, M. A., 775 Pelham Road, New Rochelle, N. Y.
- LOTHROP, DR. H. A., 10 Marlborough, Boston.
- LOTHROP, J. H., U. P. R. R., 903 Olive, St. Louis, Mo.
- LOUD, C. E., 2 Kilby, Boston.
- LUCE, L., Waltham.
- LURLA, A. S., 191 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
- MANLEY, E. I., Quadrangle Club, Chicago, Ill.
- MARVIN, F. H., care Drexel, Harjes & Co., Paris, France.
- MEAD, F. S., Fisher Ave., Brookline.
- MICHAEL, F., Mills Bldg., San Francisco, Cal.
- MITCHELL, M. D., Metropolitan Club, Washington, D. C.
- MORRISON, G. A. Jr., 691 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y.
- MORSE, DR. J. L., 70 Bay State Road, Boston.
- MUMFORD, G. S., Chestnut Hill.
- NAGLE, W. H., Cambridge.
- NAY, F. N., 9 Maple, Boston.
- NICOLSON, PROF. F. W., 174 High, Middletown, Conn.
- NUTTING, REV. W., 211 Wentworth Ave., Providence, R. I.
- OAKES, W., Puget Sound & Alaska S. S. Co., Tacoma, Wash.
- OAKMAN, O. B., North Marshfield.
- OGLESBY, R. J., Elkhart, Ill.
- ORDWAY, E. W., 1093 Dean, Brooklyn, N. Y.
- OSGOOD, DR. A. H., 240 Humbolt Ave., Roxbury.
- OSGOOD, REV. R. T., Biltmore, N. C.
- PALMER, E. C., 435 Camp, New Orleans, La.
- PALMER, F. S., The Players' Club, New York, N. Y.
- PARKER, G. H., 6 Avon Place, North Cambridge.
- PARMENTER, F. C., 46 Summer, Gloucester.
- PASTORIUS, C. S., P. O. Box 428, Colorado Springs, Col.
- PEABODY, REV. H. E., 294 Windsor Ave., Hartford, Conn.
- PEABODY, L. R., 58 New, New York, N. Y.
- PEAR, W. H., 20 Trowbridge, Cambridge.
- PEARL, J. H., 129 Main, Bradford.
- PENROSE, F. B.

- PERKINS, A. T., Third and Sylvania, St. Joseph, Mo.
 PERKINS, H. G., 70 State, Boston.
 PETERSON, S. C., 165 Princeton, East Boston.
 PINKHAM, W. S., Wollaston.
 POEY, A. A., 4 Mercedes, Havana, Cuba.
 POND, W. S.
 POPPLETON, W. S., 1056 South Twenty-ninth, Omaha, Neb.
 POTTER, A. B., 16 State, Boston.
 POWER, M. S., 66 Welles Ave., New Dorchester.
 PRESTON, W., 91 Bedford, Boston.
 PROCTOR, C. S., 11 South Walker, Lowell.
 PROCTOR, DR. F. I., 259 Beacon, Boston.
 PUTNAM, G. J., 53 Devonshire, Boston.
 QUINBY, G. T., Horntown, Accomac Co., Va.
 RANTOUL, A. N., care Andrews, Jaques & Rantoul, 1 Somerset, Boston.
 RANTOUL, C. W., Jr., Times Bldg., New York, N. Y.
 REMINGTON, F., 127 Rees, Chicago, Ill.
 REYNOLDS, P. R., 70 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y.
 RHINELANDER, T. N., 49 Wall, New York, N. Y.
 RICE, F. B., Quincy.
 RICH, E. J., 1002 Pemberton Bldg., Boston.
 RICHARDSON, L.
 RIDDLE, J. W., 385 Pleasant Ave., St. Paul, Minn.
 ROBBINS, R., 403 Washington, Boston.
 ROBINSON, A. B., 157 W. 74th, New York, N. Y.
 ROBINSON, DR. B. L., Gray Herbarium, Cambridge.
 ROBINSON, PROF. J. H., Columbia University, New York, N. Y.
 ROBINSON, DR. T. J., 66 Broadway, Taunton.
 ROGERS, E. H., 19 Exchange Pl., Boston.
 RUSSELL, J. S., 31 State, Boston.
 RUST, P. S., 23 Whittemore, W. Roxbury.
 SAULSBURY, W., Dover, Del.
 SCHOFIELD, H., 303 City Hall, Chicago, Ill.
 SCOFIELD, W. B., Worcester Thread Co., Worcester.

- SCOTT, T. B., The Chicago Club, Chicago, Ill.
 SEELEY, G. M., University Club, New York, N. Y.
 SELLERS, F. H., 10 Astor, Chicago, Ill.
 SHATTUCK, C. E., 53 State, Boston.
 SHERMAN, F. D., School of Mines, Columbia College, New York, N. Y.
 SHIPPEN, REV. E. R., 60 Virginia, Dorchester.
 SMITH, A. C., 1101 Howard, Omaha, Neb.
 SMITH, C. G., 2389 Washington, Roxbury.
 SMITH, H. E., 303 Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.
 SMITH, W. K., Jr., 351 Third, Portland, Oregon.
 SNELLING, J. L., care Boston & Albany Railroad, Boston.
 SOUTHWORTH, REV. F. C., Meadville, Pa.
 SPALDING, E. S., 5 Tremont, Boston.
 SPALDING, W. R., Berkeley Pl., Cambridge.
 STANTON, S. B., 132 W. 58th, New York, N. Y.
 STANYAN, F. H., Globe Office, Boston.
 STEDMAN, L. B., Seattle, Wash.
 STERNE, DR. A. E., 1820 E. Tenth, Indianapolis, Ind.
 STEVENS, H. W., Dover, N. H.
 STEWART, E. B., care Rev. Samuel B. Stewart, Lynn.
 STORROW, S., 402 Douglas Blk., Los Angeles, Cal.
 STOWELL, F. C., Sullivan Sq. Terminal, Boston Elevated R'y Co., Charlestown.
 STRONG, C. H., 571 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.
 SUMNER, PROF. J. O., 158 Mt. Vernon, Boston.
 TALBOTT, DR. W. T., Holderness, N. H.
 TEWKSBURY, E. G., care Spaulding & Tewksbury, 200 Summer, Boston; North China College, Peking, China.
 THAXTER, E. B.
 THAYER, A. C., 44 Pine, New York, N. Y.
 THAYER, H. A., New Westminster, B. C.
 THOMPSON, C. S., P. O. Box 513, Dallas, Tex.
 THOMSON, E. A., 298 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
 TILDEN, F. M., 1301 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

- TILTON, B., 7 Congress, Boston.
- TRUSLOW, R., 150 Montague, Brooklyn, N. Y.
- TUTHILL, J. B. T., Salem Gas Light Co., Salem, Ore.
- TUTTLE, DR. G. H., 57 Otis, East Cambridge.
- TYLER, A. L., Anniston, Ala.
- VARICK, T. R., Manchester, N. H.
- VOGEL, PROF. F., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.
- VON STORCH, T. C., 1609 North Main Ave., Scranton, Pa.
- WALKER, F. L., Beverly.
- WALKER, J. E., Kennett Square, Chester County, Pa.
- WEBSTER, REV. E. C., Congregational House, 14 Beacon, Boston.
- WEED, A. R., 113 Devonshire, Boston.
- WETHERBEE, W., P. O. Box 3493, Boston.
- WHEELWRIGHT, A. W., 129 Beacon, Boston.
- WHISTLER, J. E., "Plumsted," Lenox.
- WHITE, S. W., 45 Cedar, New York, N. Y.
- WHITELAW, G. G., care of Scudder-Gale Grocer Co., St. Louis, Mo.
- WHITNEY, B., 8 Bosworth, Boston.
- WHITTLE, C. L., 7 Exchange Pl., Boston.
- WIESTLING, F. B., 61 Boston Block, Seattle, Wash.
- WILLARD, W. W.
- WILSON, C., Tucson, Arizona.
- WOOD, H. J., 707 Chamber of Commerce, Boston.
- WOODS, J. H., 2 Chestnut, Boston.
- ZEREGA, R. A., Harvard Club, 27 W. 44th, New York, N. Y.
- ZINKEISEN, O. T., 26 Cliff, New York, N. Y.

TRIAL BALANCE.

June 1, 1902.

	Dr.	Cr.
Subscriptions unpaid	$1,248.00
Subscriptions College Fund unpaid	45.00
Cash—Class Fund account	$ 345.12
Gate account	1,097.95
		1,443.07
Suffolk Savings Bank	1,163.20
American Loan & Trust Co. (debentures).....	1,600.00
American Loan & Trust Co. (interest).....	480.00
College Fund		$ 75.00
Class Fund.....		7,489.07
Class Report V.....	11.80
Five Cents Savings Bank	1,054.60
Franklin Savings Bank	313.27
Roxbury Institution for Savings	1,127.18
Income		722.47
Cape Ann Savings Bank	646.66
Subscriptions to Gate paid in		1,097.95
Expense:
Commencement, 1898	$61.13
Commencement, 1899, ...	43.36
Commencement, 1900	53.34
Commencement, 1901	40.89
Printing notices, etc.	11.50
Postage, stationery, etc.	41.49	251.71
	$9,384.49	$9,384.49

